Pathologist Sets Time Of Mrs. Parker's Death

. . . Autopsy Results Reported To Murder Jury

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

A Lincoln pathologist who performed an autopsy on the slain Nancy Parker testified Thursday that the former city forester's wife died between 6 and 8 o'clock on the morning of Dec. 14th.

Dr. Frank H. Tanner was called by the state as a medical expert in the trial of Darrel F. Parker, charged with first-degree murder in the strangulation death of his wife.

The witness said Mrs. Parker's death was by strangulation from cords about her neck and probably occurred 3 to 10 minutes after the neck was constricted.

Under questioning by County Attorney Elmer Scheele, Dr. Tanner described a 'severe bruising" about her left eye, which "was swollen shut," and minor bruising on the left upper lip. He said this probably was caused by the handkerchiefs being stuffed in Mrs. Parker's mouth.

Dr. Tanner

Later, Dr. Tanner on cross - examination by Defense Attorney Max Towle testified that a "yellow substance was found on the dead woman's left thigh.

FBI Tests

The physician said that although he personally did not analyze the "dried secretion," Scheele had informed him later that FBI Laboratory tests revealed it to be male semen.

The pathologist said his tests could not demonstrate whether or not there had been "sexual penetration."

Also on cross examination, Dr. Tanner acknowledged that death could have been at 8 a.m. as probably as at 6 a.m.

In an opening statement, Towle said earlier witnesses would testify they saw Parker as early as 7 20 a.m. that day and noted nothing unusual about his behavior.

In other trial highlights, State Safety Patrol Sgt. Gerlad Tesch identified two pieces of rope introduced in evidence, as those he found in the attic of the Parker home.

No Connection

No identification of the knots in the two ropes has yet been made and testimony has not indicated their connection, if any, with those knots in the cords that bound and strangled the victim.

Another state witness, Safety Patrol Lt. Vernon Byler produced pictures showing the location of car keys, reportedly taken from Mrs. Parker's purse the day of her murder, on the driveway of the Parker home.

From the sequence of pictures and testimony, the jury learned the keys were not found until two days later, after the station wagon used by Mrs. Parker had been moved from the driveway.

During the second day of the state's case, the mother of the slain woman testified that "everything seemed to be happy at the Parker home."

Mrs. Robert Morrison Jr., of Des Moines, said her daughter wrote home regularly, but "never discussed" any marriage problems "with me."

Signed Ag Bill Urged

Democrat Chiefs, 2 Farm Units Prod Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders and two of the three major farm organizations turned the pressure on President Eisenhower Thursday to sign a farm bill he doesn't like.

Praise for the legislation, which cleared both houses of Congress Wednesday, came from Adlai Stevenson and Sen Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, the two leading candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination.

In the Senate, Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Democratic majority leader, said, "I hope the President will ignore the pleas of those who are urging him to use the club in the White House closet."

But Secretary of Agriculture Benson has labeled the bill as "unacceptable," and many administration lieutenants in Congress predict Eisenhower will veto it rather than accept its return to high, rigid price supports for basic crops.

Benson will fly to Augusta, Ga. Friday afternoon for a conference with Eisenhower on the big issue. Accompanying Benson will be Undersecretary of Agriculture True D. Morse and Don Paarlberg, an economist and assistant to Benson.

'Fire' Benson

The National Farmers Union wired Eisenhower at Augusta, Ga. where he is playing golf between sessions at his desk, to sign the bill and "fire" Benson. The National Grange declared farmers would lose badly needed relief this year unless the bill became law.

The third big agricultural group, the American Farm Bureau Federation, disagreed. It said in a statement that enactment of the measure would mean a "return to the discredited programs that contributed to much of the present glutted market situation."

James C. Hagerty, the President's press secretary, said Eisenhower "still does not think the bill meets the test of a good bill."

Hagerty added the President never makes up his mind about legislation until it is on his desk and that he probably will not reach a decision until his return to Washington next week.

$3 Billion

In a telegram addressed to Eisenhower at the Augusta National Golf Club, James G. Patton, president of the Farmers Union, said the farm bill would "add nearly three billion dollars to farm income in 1956."

Other analyses of the bill indicated, however, that the figure would be closer to two billion dollars for this year.

The soil bank plan, under which farmers would be paid for withdrawing acreage from the production of crops now in surplus, is the only major administration recommendation contained in the bill.

'Have To Wait'

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) said in a statement issued here that apparently farmers are going to have to wait until Eisenhower ends his golfing vacation in Augusta to learn the fate of the farm bill.

"I am sure our farmers will understand that worry over a farm bill can get a man off his golf game," Humphrey said. "If they will just be patient, the White House seems to say, the President will drop back here soon long enough to let them know whether he is going to let farmers get decent prices this year or not.

"Meanwhile, confused farmers who cannot go ahead with planting plans, I suppose, are expected to take up golf while they are waiting."

Dr. Greer Takes National Education Post

Dr. Edith S. Greer has resigned as co-ordinator of curriculum in the State Department of Education to join the U.S. Department of Education staff May 1.

She will take the post of specialist in curriculum co-ordination.

Dr. Greer was a classroom teacher and county superintendent in Richardson County before she joined the State Department of Education in 1943.

She also has been dean of instruction at Peru State Teachers College and associate curriculum director for F. E. Compton and Company.

She received her Ph.D. degree from the University of Nebraska and also has attended Hunter College, Barnard College, Columbia University and the University of Chicago.

A past president of the state county superintendents' association, she also has been a district officer of the State Education Association and a board member of the Nebraska Congress of Parents and Teachers.

She is current president of the State Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development and a board member of the Lincoln Family Service Association and the American Association of University Women.

Dr. Greer has two sons, William and Jack, both in the U.S. Air Force.

Boy, Believed Kidnap Victim, Found Slain

BEAVER, Utah (INS) — The body of 17-year-old Arden Heap of Cedar City, missing since Jan. 10, was found Thursday in Wildcat Canyon about 10 miles north of Beaver.

The youth, believed kidnaped during a holdup at the service station where he worked, had been shot in the back of the head.

Beaver County Sheriff Lee R. Filmore said the body was identified by a deer hunting license pinned to his cap. He said the body was discovered by Raymond Hutchings of Beaver, who was working with a state road commission crew on the Wildcat Dugway Road.

Iron County Sheriff Arthur Nelson and several deputies drove to the isolated spot to assist in an on-the-scene investigation.

Meanwhile, Cleveland police were holding Melvin A. Klein, a 40-year old cowboy and railroad secton hand who is wanted for questioning in connection with the case. Klein was arrested Tuesday on a Utah warrant charging him with carrying a concealed weapon.

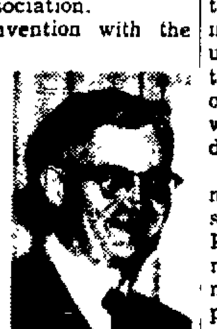
CARL FISHER

Fisher To Head State Association

Water Utilities Men In Session

Lincoln City Engineer Carl Fisher has been elected chairman of the Nebraska Section of the American Water Works Association.



Hill

In a joint convention with the Utilities Section of the League of Nebraska Municipalities, the AWWA group elected George Beard of Omaha, vice chairman; John Olsson, Lincoln, secretary treasurer; and Bert Gurney, Omaha, director. E. Bruce Meier of Lincoln is the past chairman.

Gurney was chosen by the Nebraska Section as this state's nominee for the annual Fuller Award, to be given at the national AWWA convention in St. Louis, Mo., in May. The Award is given the individual making the greatest contribution to the water works industry during the past year.

At its business meeting, the Utilities Section elected D. R. Hill, Hastings, chairman; R. W. Andrews, Alliance, vice chairman; J. W. Kruse, Lincoln, secretary-treasurer; R. D. Carrick, Norfolk, executive committee member; Bill Wright, Fremont, executive committee member; and Bert Gurney, Omaha, associate member representative.

At the convention, Mayor Clark Jeary spoke on the possibility of establishment of a corporation, similar to the City-County Building Authority, to operate Lincoln municipal utilities.

An enabling act from the Legislature would probably be required, Jeary said. Such a corporation, he said, might be established within a year or two.

Jeary's suggestion was praised by Raymond Foust of New York, with the executive staff of the AWWA. Such management of utilities, he said, has many advantages.

Other speakers on the program discussed various phases of operation of a water works system. The annual banquet was held Thursday evening at the Cornhusker Hotel.

The convention will continue through Friday.

Walthill Polio Sets Off Mass Shots Of GG

WALTHILL, Neb. (AP) — A mass inoculation with gamma globulin was undertaken here Wednesday and Thursday after a high school girl developed acute polio.

Inoculations had reached the 180 mark Thursday.

Clinton Belknap, Lincoln, said the shots were offered those who had contact with Janice Rose, 16, who lived with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Crowe of Walthill.

The Rose girl developed polio last weekend and was hospitalized in Sioux City, Ia., said Belknap, eastern Nebraska representative for the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis.

He said Thurston County health officials requested the gamma or polio - immune globulin, furnished by the national foundation.

Peery Said Guilty On Rape Charge

PAPILLION, Neb. (AP)—A District Court jury Thursday night found Wesley Peery, 31, Lincoln, guilty of rape.

He was charged with attacking a 27-year-old Council Bluffs woman Jan. 21 after forcing her car off Highway 6 and then taking her onto a county road near Gretna. She said she was threatened with a gun.

The jury was out three hours. Sentence will be pronounced later.

The defense had contended Peery could not have committed the offense because he was in Lincoln when it occurred.

White House Messages Mideast

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower has sent personal messages to Egyptian and Israeli leaders, presumably urging restraint in the strife-ridden Middle East.

Dispatch of the messages last Monday was announced at the President's vacation headquarters Thursday by James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary.

Along with the messages, Eisenhower sent to Prime Minister David Ben Gurion of Israel and Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt copies of the United States' latest statement dealing with the critical situation in the Mideast.

Hagerty did not make the contents of the messages public, but indications were that Eisenhower urged restraint. The press secretary said restraint was the theme of the U. S. government statement which was made public here Monday.

Hagerty did say Eisenhower's messages to Ben Gurion and Nasser dealt particularly with the President's call in Monday's statement for "support in the fullest measure" of the Middle East peace mission of Dag Hammarskjold, secretary general of the United Nations.

The U. S. statement said further that this country, "in accordance with its responsibilities under the Charter of the United Nations, will observe its commitments within constitutional means to oppose any aggression," in the Mideast.

The statement also said the United States is "determined to support and assist any nation which might be subjected to such aggression."

Dogfight

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israeli and Egyptian jet planes battled high over the Holy Land.

Israel claimed one and possibly two enemy planes shot down.

Egypt said one Israeli plane was blasted from the skies in this first aerial combat of 1956.

One Egyptian jet crashed 20 miles inside Israel, an Israeli spokesman said. The pilot, Mohammed Latif, was quoted as saying his plane was on a patrol mission. He was taken to a hospital with head and leg injuries.

A search was organized in Israel's southern desert for a second Egyptian plane reported hit. Israelis close to the border said they saw four Egyptian planes fly north and only two return.

The dogfight raged over Israel's Negeb Desert. Both nations had just promised to forego force except in self-defense. The pledges were made to U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold in Cairo on his mission for peace in the Middle East.

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Hopes for the success of Dag Hammarskjold's peace mission brightened a bit despite an Israeli-Egyptian air battle.

The U.N. Chief announced Egypt and Israel have agreed to refrain from warlike acts against each other.

Unofficial reports here said Arab commando squads are being withdrawn from Israel.

The semi-official Egyptian news agency reported Israel has agreed in principle to withdraw its forces 500 meters (slightly less than a third of a mile) from the frontier.

1,117 Treated

NEW YORK (AP)—The Georgia Warm Springs Foundation provided surgery or treatment for 1,117 polio patients in the last year, Basil O'Connor, president, reported. More than half of the patients treated were 14 or younger.

2 Rescue Teams Begin Long Trek Up To 'Elijah'

BUENA VISTA, Colo. (INS) — Elijah, the bay horse stranded on a snowy ridge between two mountain peaks in the Colorado Rockies, was the object Thursday of two separate expeditions.

Two different groups set out from Buena Vista on a trek to rescue the shaggy animal from its natural corral on a 12,800-foot ledge.

A four-man group composed of weekly newspaper editor Gilbert E. Gregg, 44, Les Bertschy, 44, president of the Buena Vista Sportsmen's Club, and two Denver television newsmen departed before dawn.

A five-man team incuuding three Denver Post newsmen and led by veteran pack train wrangler William Turner of Buena Vista and his brother Al started out five hours later.

Both expeditions dared to go where the U. S. Army cold weather training command at Camp Hale was forbidden to tread by orders of the commanding general.

Treacherous

The rescue teams must plow their way through treacherous gullies and drifts, weather-weakened timber and craggy mountain terrain before approaching the horse that has been stranded since at least late February.

Elijah's rescue was decided upon when it was realized he might be forced to remain in the high country until possibly June when late spring thaws would open a trail for him to leave.

Elijah roamed his snow-bound corral with the watchfulness developed in recent weeks of awaiting airborne benefactors who have been dropping bales of hay.

He has also become the object of sightseers flying in transcontinental airliners. Some pilots have requested Elijah's position so he could be pointed out to the "tourists" from the air.

Blasted Door Of Jet Found; May Hold Clue

Air Base officials reported Thursday the door of the crashed B-47 stratojet that exploded in the air last week near Ceresco has been recovered.

The door was considered by investigators an important detail in determining the cause of the explosion.

The Air Base said preliminary examination of the door, normally located near the inside jet engines on the left side of the plane, may give a clue.

Several other smaller pieces of plane parts from the exploded jet were turned in to police Thursday.

The Air Base said the door was found on property a mile and a half from the scene of the major part of the wreckage of the jet.

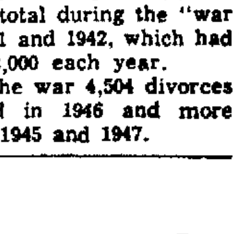
Four crew members of the jet bomber were killed when the plane exploded and crashed three miles south and a mile east of Ceresco.

Meanwhile, base officials said they were "very appreciative of the fine assistance and excellent cooperation demonstrated by local authorites and organizations on the occasion of the tragic B-47 crash."

They particularly mentioned Capt. Dan J. Casey and Lt. J. E. Krueger of the Nebraska Safety Patrol; Roy Swanson, Ceresco fire chief, and his crew; Sheriff Merle Karnopp, and his deputies; the local Red Cross; and Wahoo community first aid personnel; and local news media.

WEDDING BELLS RING OUT 11,892 TIMES IN 1955

The State Health Department's vital statistics division reported Thursday there were 11,892 marriages in Nebraska last year, compared to 11,307 in 1954 and 11,575 in 1953.



Lots Of 'Em

There were 2,350 divorces in 1955, compared to 2,355 in 1954 and 2,287 in 1953.

Last year's marriages did not come near equaling the total during the "war years" of 1941 and 1942, which had more than 18,000 each year.

Following the war 4,504 divorces were granted in 1946 and more than 3,000 in 1945 and 1947.

Loan Rates Hiked

Fifth Boost In About A Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Reserve System Thursday laid a restraining hand on the strongly resurgent demand by business and consumers for credit.

It did so by approving boosts in the discount rates of 11 out of the 12 Federal Reserve Banks.

Bankers, businessmen and economists have been predicting some such action.

Discount rates are the rate of interest at which Reserve Banks lend to member banks wanting money to satisfy commercial and personal demands for credit.

Thursday's was the fifth increase in about a year. Each increase was aimed at restraining the ebullience of credit, as the economy labored to keep production within sight of demand in the unprecedented economic boom of the past 14 months.

New Outburst

The Reserve Board acted in the face of a new outburst of borrowing. This has come at a time when many sectors of the economy were stretched to full productive capacity, and prices were tending to rise, under the pressure of demand generated by liberal use of credit and higher income levels.

The new boost carried reserve system lending rates in two Reserve districts to the highest levels since 1934.

The reserve board approved recommendations by the directors of the San Francisco and Minneapolis reserve banks to jump their lending rate from the prevailing 2½ per cent, by a full half point to 3 per cent.

All Except Chicago

Simultaneously the board approved recommendations by all other reserve banks except Chicago, to increase the cost of borrowing at Reserve Bank discount windows from 2½ per cent to 2¾ per cent. The boosts are effective Friday.

The Chicago bank directors did not meet Thursday. However, Chicago was expected to get in line soon.

There was no explanation for the fact that the Minneapolis and the San Francisco banks increased their lending charge twice as much as the rate was increased at the nine other banks, except that directors of the two banks felt such action was needed in their districts. Presumably they felt they were faced with credit demands which called for more vigorous restraint.

Borrowing at Reserve Banks was last at the 3 per cent level during two months — April and May— of 1933. From October, 1933, through Sept. 9, 1955, the Reserve Bank lending rate was always less than 2½ per cent.

Bankers Say Credit Tight

Lincoln Federal Reserve member banks Thursday, following an increase in Federal Reserve discount rates, viewed the local situation as one of tight money, but safely under critical limits.

In a joint statement they gave assurance that Lincoln banks have adequate extendable credit to take care of all sound requests for loans needed to maintain a strong community position.

However, they described the Lincoln condition as one of tighter-than-usual money due to Nebraska's short agricultural crop last year and to unusually heavy requirements for expansion, housing and business loans.

They said that much of the tightness could be relieved by a normal crop year in 1956.

Warmer Temps Forecast For State

Warmer temperatures were predicted for the northwest part of Nebraska Friday with highs in the 50's east and lower 60's in the Panhandle.

Temperatures over the state Thursday were in the 50's. Norfolk reported .04 of an inch of precipitation in the form of rain.

'DON ALWAYS HELPED OTHERS,' SO . . .

Neighbors Build Home For Rohde Widow, Kids

Friends and neighbors of Donald E. Rohde, 29-year-old University of Nebraska Law College student killed March 28 in a plane crash, Thursday evening finished pouring the footings on a house they are building for Rohde's widow and two children.

Monroe Morford, a neighbor who is working on the project, said the house will be built entirely with volunteer labor. It will be a three-bedroom frame house, measuring 24 by 35, with a full basement and a finished value of about $12,000.

"Don always helped anyone else who needed anything, and he helped me build my house. I know he helped lots of others, because they've come around to offer help on building this house," Morford said.

The house, at 5433 Locust, is being built on land owned by Mrs. Rohde's father, H. W. Niswonger, and is near the Niswonger home at 4402 So. 54th. Mrs. Rohde and the children, Ronald and Randi, are now living with her parents.

There will be about a $6,000 mortgage against the house when it is finished, Morford estimated. That will represent cost of materials used.

Morford said the concrete block foundations will be laid Sunday by a volunteer crew, and sub-flooring will be laid next week. He said it is hoped to complete the house by June 1, and that at least 40 to 50 persons would have worked on the project by the time it is finished.

Many of the persons working on the house are members of the College View Seventh Day Adventist Church, which Rohde attended, Morford said.

Rohde, a senior just two months from graduation, was a candidate for nomination to the Legislature when the light plane in which he was riding crashed, killing him and another NU law student.

Boy, Believed Kidnap Victim, Found Slain

BEAVER, Utah (INS) — The body of 17-year-old Arden Heap of Cedar City, missing since Jan. 10, was found Thursday in Wildcat Canyon about 10 miles north of Beaver.

The youth, believed kidnaped during a holdup at the service station where he worked, had been shot in the back of the head.

Beaver County Sheriff Lee R. Filmore said the body was identified by a deer hunting license pinned to his cap. He said the body was discovered by Raymond Hutchings of Beaver, who was working with a state road commission crew on the Wildcat Dugway Road.

Iron County Sheriff Arthur Nelson and several deputies drove to the isolated spot to assist in an on-the-scene investigation.

Meanwhile, Cleveland police were holding Melvin A. Klein, a 40-year old cowboy and railroad secton hand who is wanted for questioning in connection with the case. Klein was arrested Tuesday on a Utah warrant charging him with carrying a concealed weapon.

Walthill Polio Sets Off Mass Shots Of GG

WALTHILL, Neb. (AP) — A mass inoculation with gamma globulin was undertaken here Wednesday and Thursday after a high school girl developed acute polio.

Inoculations had reached the 180 mark Thursday.

Clinton Belknap, Lincoln, said the shots were offered those who had contact with Janice Rose, 16, who lived with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Crowe of Walthill.

The Rose girl developed polio last weekend and was hospitalized in Sioux City, Ia., said Belknap, eastern Nebraska representative for the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis.

He said Thurston County health officials requested the gamma or polio-immune globulin, furnished by the national foundation.

Water Utilities Men In Session

Lincoln City Engineer Carl Fisher has been elected chairman of the Nebraska Section of the American Water Works Association.

Hill

In a joint convention with the Utilities Section of the League of Nebraska Municipalities, the AWWA group elected George Beard of Omaha, vice chairman; John Olsson, Lincoln, secretary treasurer; and Bert Gurney, Omaha, director. E. Bruce Meier of Lincoln is the past chairman.

Gurney was chosen by the Nebraska Section as this state's nominee for the annual Fuller Award, to be given at the national AWWA convention in St. Louis, Mo., in May. The Award is given the individual making the greatest contribution to the water works industry during the past year.

At its business meeting, the Utilities Section elected D. R. Hill, Hastings, chairman; R. W. Andrews, Alliance, vice chairman; J. W. Kruse, Lincoln, secretary-treasurer; R. D. Carrick, Norfolk, executive committee member; Bill Wright, Fremont, executive committee member; and Bert Gurney, Omaha, associate member representative.

At the convention, Mayor Clark Jeary spoke on the possibility of establishment of a corporation, similar to the City-County Building Authority, to operate Lincoln municipal utilities.

An enabling act from the Legislature would probably be required, Jeary said. Such a corporation, he said, might be established within a year or two.

Jeary's suggestion was praised by Raymond Foust of New York, with the executive staff of the AWWA. Such management of utilities, he said, has many advantages.

Other speakers on the program discussed various phases of operation of a water works system. The annual banquet was held Thursday evening at the Cornhusker Hotel.

The convention will continue through Friday.

Peery Said Guilty On Rape Charge

PAPILLION, Neb. (AP)—A District Court jury Thursday night found Wesley Peery, 31, Lincoln, guilty of rape.

He was charged with attacking a 27-year-old Council Bluffs woman Jan. 21 after forcing her car off Highway 6 and then taking her onto a county road near Gretna. She said she was threatened with a gun.

The jury was out three hours. Sentence will be pronounced later.

The defense had contended Peery could not have committed the offense because he was in Lincoln when it occurred.

Peace Asked By Ike

White House Messages Mideast

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower has sent personal messages to Egyptian and Israeli leaders, presumably urging restraint in the strife-ridden Middle East.

Dispatch of the messages last Monday was announced at the President's vacation headquarters Thursday by James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary.

Along with the messages, Eisenhower sent to Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion of Israel and Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt copies of the United States' latest statement dealing with the critical situation in the Mideast.

Hagerty did not make the contents of the messages public, but indications were that Eisenhower urged restraint. The press secretary said restraint was the theme of the U. S. government statement which was made public here Monday.

Hagerty did say Eisenhower's messages to Ben Gurion and Nasser dealt particularly with the President's call in Monday's statement for "support in the fullest measure" of the Middle East peace mission of Dag Hammarskjold, secretary general of the United Nations.

The U. S. statement said further that this country, "in accordance with its responsibilities under the Charter of the United Nations, will observe its commitments within constitutional means to oppose any aggression," in the Mideast.

The statement also said the United States is "determined to support and assist any nation which might be subjected to such aggression."

Dogfight

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israeli and Egyptian jet planes battled high over the Holy Land.

Israel claimed one and possibly two enemy planes shot down.

Egypt said one Israeli plane was blasted from the skies in this first aerial combat of 1956.

One Egyptian jet crashed 20 miles inside Israel, an Israeli spokesman said. The pilot, Mohammed Latif, was quoted as saying his plane was on a patrol mission. He was taken to a hospital with head and leg injuries.

A search was organized in Israel's southern desert for a second Egyptian plane reported hit. Israelis close to the border said they saw four Egyptian planes fly north and only two return.

The dogfight raged over Israel's Negeb Desert. Both nations had just promised to forego force except in self-defense. The pledges were made to U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold in Cairo on his mission for peace in the Middle East.

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Hopes for the success of Dag Hammarskjold's peace mission brightened a bit despite an Israeli-Egyptian air battle.

The U.N. Chief announced Egypt and Israel have agreed to refrain from warlike acts against each other.

Unofficial reports here said Arab commando squads are being withdrawn from Israel.

The semi-official Egyptian news agency reported Israel has agreed in principle to withdraw its forces 500 meters (slightly less than a third of a mile) from the frontier.

2 Rescue Teams Begin Long Trek Up To 'Elijah'

BUENA VISTA, Colo. (INS) — Elijah, the bay horse stranded on a snowy ridge between two mountain peaks in the Colorado Rockies, was the object Thursday of two separate expeditions.

Two different groups set out from Buena Vista on a trek to rescue the shaggy animal from its natural corral on a 12,800-foot ledge.

A four-man group composed of weekly newspaper editor Gilbert E. Gregg, 44, Les Bertschy, 44, president of the Buena Vista Sportsmen's Club, and two Denver television newsmen departed before dawn.

A five-man team incuuding three Denver Post newsmen and led by veteran pack train wrangler William Turner of Buena Vista and his brother Al started out five hours later.

Both expeditions dared to go where the U. S. Army cold weather training command at Camp Hale was forbidden to tread by orders of the commanding general.

Treacherous

The rescue teams must plow their way through treacherous gullies and drifts, weather-weakened timber and craggy mountain terrain before approaching the horse that has been stranded since at least late February.

Elijah's rescue was decided upon when it was realized he might be forced to remain in the high country until possibly June when late spring thaws would open a trail for him to leave.

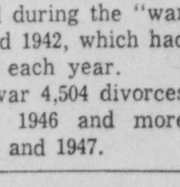
Elijah roamed his snow-bound corral with the watchfulness developed in recent weeks of awaiting airborne benefactors who have been dropping bales of hay.

He has also become the object of sightseers flying in transcontinental airliners. Some pilots have requested Elijah's position so he could be pointed out to the "tourists" from the air.

WEDDING BELLS RING OUT 11,892 TIMES IN 1955

The State Health Department's vital statistics division reported Thursday there were 11,892 marriages in Nebraska last year, compared to 11,307 in 1954 and 11,575 in 1953.

There were 2,350 divorces in 1955, compared to 2,355 in 1954 and 2,287 in 1953.



Lots Of 'Em

Last year's marriages did not come near equaling the total during the "war years" of 1941 and 1942, which had more than 18,000 each year.

Following the war 4,504 divorces were granted in 1946 and more than 3,000 in 1945 and 1947.

Blasted Door Of Jet Found; May Hold Clue

Air Base officials reported Thursday the door of the crashed B-47 stratojet that exploded in the air last week near Ceresco has been recovered.

The door was considered by investigators an important detail in determining the cause of the explosion.

The Air Base said preliminary examination of the door, normally located near the inside jet engines on the left side of the plane, may give a clue.

Several other smaller pieces of plane parts from the exploded jet were turned in to police Thursday.

The Air Base said the door was found on property a mile and a half from the scene of the major part of the wreckage of the jet.

Four crew members of the jet bomber were killed when the plane exploded and crashed three miles south and a mile east of Ceresco.

Meanwhile, base officials said they were "very appreciative of the fine assistance and excellent cooperation demonstrated by local authorites and organizations on the occasion of the tragic B-47 crash."

They particularly mentioned Capt. Dan J. Casey and Lt. J. E. Krueger of the Nebraska Safety Patrol; Roy Swanson, Ceresco fire chief, and his crew; Sheriff Merle Karnopp, and his deputies; the local Red Cross; and Wahoo community first aid personnel; and local news media.

Loan Rates Hiked

Fifth Boost In About A Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Reserve System Thursday laid a restraining hand on the strongly resurgent demand by business and consumers for credit.

It did so by approving boosts in the discount rates of 11 out of the 12 Federal Reserve Banks.

Bankers, businessmen and economists have been predicting some such action.

Discount rates are the rate of interest at which Reserve Banks lend to member banks wanting money to satisfy commercial and personal demands for credit.

Thursday's was the fifth increase in about a year. Each increase was aimed at restraining the ebullience of credit, as the economy labored to keep production within sight of demand in the unprecedented economic boom of the past 14 months.

New Outburst

The Reserve Board acted in the face of a new outburst of borrowing. This has come at a time when many sectors of the economy were stretched to full productive capacity, and prices were tending to rise, under the pressure of demand generated by liberal use of credit and higher income levels.

The new boost carried reserve system lending rates in two Reserve districts to the highest levels since 1934.

The reserve board approved recommendations by the directors of the San Francisco and Minneapolis reserve banks to jump their lending rate from the prevailing 2½ per cent, by a full half point to 3 per cent.

All Except Chicago

Simultaneously the board approved recommendations by all other reserve banks except Chicago, to increase the cost of borrowing at Reserve Bank discount windows from 2½ per cent to 2¾ per cent. The boosts are effective Friday.

The Chicago bank directors did not meet Thursday. However, Chicago was expected to get in line soon.

There was no explanation for the fact that the Minneapolis and the San Francisco banks increased their lending charge twice as much as the rate was increased at the nine other banks, except that directors of the two banks felt such action was needed in their districts. Presumably they felt they were faced with credit demands which called for more vigorous restraint.

Borrowing at Reserve Banks was last at the 3 per cent level during two months — April and May—of 1933. From October, 1933, through Sept. 9, 1955, the Reserve Bank lending rate was always less than 2½ per cent.

Bankers Say Credit Tight

Lincoln Federal Reserve member banks Thursday, following an increase in Federal Reserve discount rates, viewed the local situation as one of tight money, but safely under critical limits.

In a joint statement they gave assurance that Lincoln banks have adequate extendable credit to take care of all sound requests for loans needed to maintain a strong community position.

However, they described the Lincoln condition as one of tigher-than-usual money due to Nebraska's short agricultural crop last year and to unusually heavy requirements for expansion, housing and business loans.

They said that much of the tightness could be relieved by a normal crop year in 1956.

Warmer Temps Forecast For State

Warmer temperatures were predicted for the northwest part of Nebraska Friday with highs in the 50's east and lower 60's in the Panhandle.

Temperatures over the state Thursday were in the 50's. Norfolk reported .04 of an inch of precipitation in the form of rain.

'DON ALWAYS HELPED OTHERS,' SO...

Neighbors Build Home For Rohde Widow, Kids

Friends and neighbors of Donald E. Rohde, 29-year-old University of Nebraska Law College student killed March 28 in a plane crash, Thursday evening finished pouring the footings on a house they are building for Rohde's widow and two children.

Monroe Morford, a neighbor who is working on the project, said the house will be built entirely with volunteer labor. It will be a three-bedroom frame house, measuring 24 by 35, with a full basement and a finished value of about $12,000.

"Don always helped anyone else who needed anything, and he helped me build my house. I know he helped lots of others, because they've come around to offer help on building this house," Morford said.

The house, at 5433 Locust, is being built on land owned by Mrs. Rohde's father, H. W. Niswonger, and is near the Niswonger home at 4402 So. 54th. Mrs. Rohde and the children, Ronald and Randi, are now living with her parents.

There will be about a $6,000 mortgage against the house when it is finished, Morford estimated. That will represent cost of materials used.

Morford said the concrete block foundations will be laid Sunday by a volunteer crew, and sub-flooring will be laid next week. He said it is hoped to complete the house by June 1, and that at least 40 to 50 persons would have worked on the project by the time it is finished.

Many of the persons working on the house are members of the College View Seventh Day Adventist Church, which Rohde attended, Morford said.

Rohde, a senior just two months from graduation, was a candidate for nomination to the Legislature when the light plane in which he was riding crashed, killing him and another NU law student.

White House Slaps Back At Truman

Hagerty Speaks For Ike

. . . In Reply To HST

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — A White House official slapped back at former President Truman Thursday for calling President Eisenhower a "do-nothing" chief executive guilty of "political betrayal."

The official, press secretary James C Hagerty also announced that Eisenhower will launch his re-election campaign with a speech to 800 Republican leaders at a Washington dinner next Tuesday evening.

"It will be a political, speech." Hagerty said with a smile. He added that he did not know whether it would be carried nationwide on television and radio.

Hagerty's rejoinder to Truman's characterization of Eisenhower as a "do-nothing" president was this:

"I don't believe that Mr. Truman, by his own standards, can recognize accomplishment when he sees it."

The statement came as Eisenhower continued a vacation mixed with work at the Augusta National Golf Club. The President's son John, an Army major, arrived from Washington Thursday for the weekend.

Father and son teamed up on the golf course in the afternoon after the President had put in more work on a major foreign policy address he will make in Washington April 21 at the annual meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

In a speech at a Democratic dinner in Des Moines, Iowa, Truman cut loose with his sharpest criticism of Eisenhower to date. He said the President "deserves to be rejected by the people just as the Republican-controlled 80th Congress was, because he is a do-nothing President just as the 80th Congress was a do-nothing Congress."

To Push Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Majority leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) said Senate Democrats will push legislation to authorize the controversial Hells Canyon Dam this session.

Johnson told a news conference that if the bill cannot win in the Interior Committee an attempt will be made to attach it to some other measure as an amendment.

MAYOR PAUL ZIMMER

Falls City Mayor Cited For Service

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP) — Mayor Paul D. Zimmer was cited as the "outstanding Good Lion" by the Falls City Lions club in a surprise ceremony at a Ladies Night event.

Zimmer, who is retiring as mayor next week after serving in that position since 1948, has been active in many civic projects. He is past president of the Chamber of Commerce, has been a president of the Nebraska League of Municipalities and at present is the state president of the Nebraska Elks association.

Research Group Is Incorporated

Five Lincoln men have filed papers to incorporate a group designed to engage in "humanitarian and benevolent activities of a scientific or educational nature."

The organization is to be known as the Nebraska Human Resources Research Foundation, Inc.

Signing the incorporation papers, which were filed with the secretary of state Thursday, were Gerald F. Brownfield, Wilbur A. Miller, James A. Strauss, Clyde I. Underwood and the Rev. C. Vin White.

One of the incorporators said the organization is merely the formal incorporation of the Nebraska Citizenship Project, which has been in operation for seven years.

He sad the group, headed by Dr. William E. Hall, professor of psychology and measurements at the University of Nebraska, has incorporated "for the purpose of transacting business and accepting grants."

AEC Member Urges U.S. Quit Big H-Tests

. . . Murray Wants Little Bombs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atomic Energy Commissioner Thomas E. Murray said Thursday the United States ought to stop testing big H-bombs, regardless of what Russia does.

Murray

"We should not wait for the establishment of an international control agency," he told a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee which is studying various disarmament proposals.

Murray ran into critical questions from Sens. Barkley (D-Ky) and Bricker (R-Ohio).

The commissioner, an appointee of President Truman who has frequently been a one-man minority on the five-member Atomic Energy Commission, called for.

Limit On Big Bombs

1. A limit on the size and number of thermonuclear or hydrogen bombs to be placed in the American stockpile. He said he was actuated by both moral principles and the question of military usefulness.

2. More emphasis on a wide range of very small nuclear, or atomic, weapons which would support "a theory of moderate and discriminating use of force against all aggression, including aggression that may be minor in degree."

"I am altogether opposed to any school of thought that would move on toward weapons of ever increasing magnitude, while at the same time disclaiming the intention of using them," he said.

Sen. Symington (D-Mo) asked Murray whether he proposed to go ahead independently of what Russia does. "Absolutely," Murray responded.

Murray said he wasn't proposing a reduction in armaments, but rather a shift of emphasis from large to smaller weapons.

June Draft Calls For 12,000 Men

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department Thursday issued a draft call for 12,000 men in June for the Army.

This will bring to 2,044,430 the total of men drafted since the start of the Korean War. The draft call for May was 12,000, for April 6,000.

The Navy, Marine Corps and Air Force made no request for draftees in the June quota.

Nebraska's June draft quota probably will be for about 120 men, according to Col. Francis Drath of the State Selective Service.

Drath said that 123 men were drafted for the Army in the state in May, when the national quota was 12,000.

Evangelical Free Church Holdrege Conference Begins

HOLDREGE, Neb. (AP) — The 60th annual meeting of the Nebraska-Kansas Midwest conference of the Evangelical Free Church of America began here Thursday and runs through Sunday.

Rev. Willard Ekman of the Holdrege Trinity Evangelical church is host pastor. Other pastors taking part in the program will be the Rev. Boyd White of Wilcox, the Rev. Clifford Emery of Axtell, the Rev. Marlin Jones of Sumner, the Rev. Harold Friesen of Stamford and the Rev. Arnold Past of Funk.

The Rev. James Leonard of Lincoln will speak on Friday night. The annual business meeting of the Christian Homes, old people's home sponsored by the national organization, will be held during the conference.

Officers of the conference are the Rev. Arne Folden of Funk, president; the Rev. Harry Evans, Gothenburg, vice president; the Rev. Richard Hess, Loomis, secretary, and Carroll Erickson, Holdrege, vice secretary.

Rev. Ottsen Takes Columbus Charge

COLUMBUS, Neb.—The Rev. G. Maurice Ottsen of Wahpeton, N.D., has accepted to call to become rector of Grace Episcopal Church in Columbus and Holy Trinity Church at Schuyler.

A native of Missouri, the Rev. Mr. Ottsen was graduated from Coe College in Cedar Rapids, Ia., in 1934. Later he entered the priesthood and was ordained in 1947.

U.S. Will List Goods Okayed For Red Trade

WASHINGTON (INS) — Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks promised to release within 10 days a list of peaceful goods which may be shipped to Russia without controls.

Weeks said, however, that he does not expect this to have any "substantial effect" on the volume of U. S. sales to the Communists.

The commerce secretary would not estimate the number or range of products to be covered beyond saying that it would be "a fairly substantial number of items for peaceful use."

His statements were made in response to questions during a news conference at which he told reporters he hoped to meet with them more frequently in the future than in the past.

$6 Million

In 1955, the U. S. bought about 40 million dollars worth of goods from Russia and her European satellites but were able to sell them only about six million dollars worth.

At the present time, all exports to Russia and the European bloc countries must be licensed by the department. No trade is permitted with Red China or North Korea.

Almost automatic approval is given to non-strategic items, and a "positive list" is maintained by the department on war-potential products which cannot be sold to the Reds.

For this reason, Weeks explained, the only real effect of the list of license-free goods will be to eliminate government red tape rather than to boost the volume of trade.

Youth Injured In Freak Crash

Gary Cosier, 18, of 645 Arthur suffered multiple face lacerations in a one-car accident near 3rd and E Thursday night.

Cosier was a passenger in a car driven by Delmar G. Buskirk, 16, of 538 West B, that was going south on 3rd.

Police said the bumper and axle of the vehicle hit a cement sidewalk in the street where the walk rises above the dirt road. The impact threw Cosier's head against the windshield of the car.

Deposed Top Red's Younger Brother Now U.S. Citizen

PITTSFIELD, Mass. (AP) —Pavio D. Lysenko, 46, Russian chemist whose brother, Trotim, recently was deposed as a top Soviet geneticist, became an American citizen Thursday. So did his wife.

He has been an odd jobs man since he came here more than four years ago.

Lynsenko broke with the Russian regime in 1942, was captured by the Germans and liberated in Munich in 1946. The couple came to America in 1949.

Lysenko said the Russians conferred the order of the Red Banner on him for a method of converting low quality coal during World War II.

Now that he is a citizen he said he hopes to become connected with an industrial firm where his knowledge of chemistry can be utilized.

Negro Won't Say If Red Organizer

. . . Blasts Solon

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Negro waiter from New Orleans, refusing to say whether he was a Southern district organizer for the Communist party, Thursday accused the Senate Internal Security subcommittee of invading his rights as a citizen.

The waiter, Hunter Pitts O'Dell, centered his counterattack on Chairman Eastland (D-Miss), whom he accused of being anti-labor and anti-Negro. Occasionally he switched to subcommittee Counsel Robert Morris, asking Morris at one point if he was "some kind of dictator or something."

Morris said the subcommittee had received information that O'Dell was a district organizer for the Communist party in New Orleans, "giving directives to the professional groups" there, and operating under three different names.

Invokes '5th'

O'Dell invoked the Fifth Amendment protection against possible self-incrimination in refusing to answer questions about this.

He also refused to answer questions about what Morris described as a considerable amount of "Communist party literature and directives" found in a room O'Dell formerly occupied.

O'Dell accused the subcommittee of unlawful search and seizure when asked about this material. He demanded to know who authorized the subcommittee to take the documents.

Unexplained Fire Burns Paper Boy

OMAHA (AP) — Nick Schafer, 17-year-old Omaha newspaper boy, was seriously burned Thursday night in a mysterious manner. Edwin, his 14-year-old brother, said Nick, who had been delivering papers, called to him from a short distance away and started riding his bicycle toward him.

Suddenly, Edwin said, flames enveloped Nick. The two boys nearly extinguished them when they flared up again. Nick hurried to his nearby home and his dad took him to County Hospital.

Attendants said he was badly burned about the face, head, neck, arms and chest.

Macy Youth Found Innocent Of Count

OMAHA (AP) — A District Court jury has found Richard L. Wolf, 17, Macy, Neb., innocent of assault and battery. He had appealed a municipal court sentence of six months in jail and a $100 and costs fine.

Wolf was one of three youths accused of attacking three airmen in downtown Omaha. One of the airmen was cut and Wolf was accused of being the knife wielder.

Giveaway Food Hiked

. . . $415 Million Worth

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department reported it gave away 1,400,200,000 pounds of surplus food valued at 415 million dollars in the nine months ending March 31. The food went to the school lunch program and public institutions and welfare agencies at home and abroad.

This was 65 per cent more than was donated in the corresponding period last year. The food had been accumulated under government price support programs. Included were dry beans, butter, canned beef, dried milk, cheese, wheat, lard, rice and shortening.

About 40 per cent went to people in this country and the remainder to those abroad. Needy persons in 74 countries shared in the donations.

Nearly half the food donated at home went to 3,356,000 persons on welfare rolls in 38 states.

Liquor Controllers Elect Pont, Hit Advertising Bans

RENO, Nev. (AP)—State liquor administrators from across the nation elected Nathan B. Pont of Lincoln, Neb., national president as they concluded their annual meeting here.

In a resolution, the administrators took a swipe at proposed federal laws against liquor advertising. Proposed legislation prohibiting interstate liquor advertising were termed "unwise, improper and unnecessary."

White House Slaps Back At Truman

Hagerty Speaks For Ike

. . . In Reply To HST

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — A White House official slapped back at former President Truman Thursday for calling President Eisenhower a "do-nothing" chief executive guilty of "political betrayal."

The official, press secretary James C. Hagerty also announced that Eisenhower will launch his re-election campaign with a speech to 800 Republican leaders at a Washington dinner next Tuesday evening.

"It will be a political speech," Hagerty said with a smile. He added that he did not know whether it would be carried nationwide on television and radio.

Hagerty's rejoinder to Truman's characterization of Eisenhower as a "do-nothing" president was this:

"I don't believe that Mr. Truman, by his own standards, can recognize accomplishment when he sees it."

The statement came as Eisenhower continued a vacation mixed with work at the Augusta National Golf Club. The President's son John, an Army major, arrived from Washington Thursday for the weekend.

Father and son teamed up on the golf course in the afternoon after the President had put in more work on a major foreign policy address he will make in Washington April 21 at the annual meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

In a speech at a Democratic dinner in Des Moines, Iowa, Truman cut loose with his sharpest criticism of Eisenhower to date. He said the President "deserves to be rejected by the people just as the Republican-controlled 80th Congress was, because he is a do-nothing President just as the 80th Congress was a do-nothing Congress."

To Push Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Majority leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) said Senate Democrats will push legislation to authorize the controversial Hells Canyon Dam this session.

Johnson told a news conference that if the bill cannot win in the Interior Committee an attempt will be made to attach it to some other measure as an amendment.

MAYOR PAUL ZIMMER

Falls City Mayor Cited For Service

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP) — Mayor Paul D. Zimmer was cited as the "outstanding Good Lion" by the Falls City Lions club in a surprise ceremony at a Ladies Night event.

Zimmer, who is retiring as mayor next week after serving in that position since 1948, has been active in many civic projects. He is past president of the Chamber of Commerce, has been a president of the Nebraska League of Municipalities and at present is the state president of the Nebraska Elks association.

Research Group Is Incorporated

Five Lincoln men have filed papers to incorporate a group designed to engage in "humanitarian and benevolent activities of a scientific or educational nature."

The organization is to be known as the Nebraska Human Resources Research Foundation, Inc.

Signing the incorporation papers, which were filed with the secretary of state Thursday, were Gerald F. Brownfield, Wilbur A. Miller, James A. Strauss, Clyde I. Underwood and the Rev. C. Vin White.

One of the incorporators said the organization is merely the formal incorporation of the Nebraska Citizenship Project, which has been in operation for seven years.

He sad the group, headed by Dr. William E. Hall, professor of psychology and measurements at the University of Nebraska, has incorporated "for the purpose of transacting business and accepting grants."

AEC Member Urges U.S. Quit Big H-Tests

. . . Murray Wants Little Bombs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atomic Energy Commissioner Thomas E. Murray said Thursday the United States ought to stop testing big H-bombs, regardless of what Russia does.

Murray

"We should not wait for the establishment of an international control agency," he told a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee which is studying various disarmament proposals.

Murray ran into critical questions from Sens. Barkley (D-Ky) and Bricker (R-Ohio).

The commissioner, an appointee of President Truman who has frequently been a one-man minority on the five-member Atomic Energy Commission, called for:

Limit On Big Bombs

1. A limit on the size and number of thermonuclear or hydrogen bombs to be placed in the American stockpile. He said he was actuated by both moral principles and the question of military usefulness.

2. More emphasis on a wide range of very small nuclear, or atomic, weapons which would support "a theory of moderate and discriminating use of force against all aggression, including aggression that may be minor in degree."

"I am altogether opposed to any school of thought that would move on toward weapons of ever-increasing magnitude, while at the same time disclaiming the intention of using them," he said.

Sen. Symington (D-Mo) asked Murray whether he proposed to go ahead independently of what Russia does. "Absolutely," Murray responded.

Murray said he wasn't proposing a reduction in armaments, but rather a shift of emphasis from large to smaller weapons.

June Draft Calls For 12,000 Men

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department Thursday issued a draft call for 12,000 men in June for the Army.

This will bring to 2,044,430 the total of men drafted since the start of the Korean War. The draft call for May was 12,000, for April 6,000.

The Navy, Marine Corps and Air Force made no request for draftees in the June quota.

Nebraska's June draft quota probably will be for about 120 men, according to Col. Francis Drath of the State Selective Service.

Drath said that 123 men were drafted for the Army in the state in May, when the national quota was 12,000.

Evangelical Free Church Holdrege Conference Begins

HOLDREGE, Neb. (AP) — The 60th annual meeting of the Nebraska-Kansas Midwest conference of the Evangelical Free Church of America began here Thursday and runs through Sunday.

Rev. Willard Eckman of the Holdrege Trinity Evangelical church is host pastor. Other pastors taking part in the program will be the Rev. Boyd White of Wilcos, the Rev. Clifford Emery of Axtell, the Rev. Marlin Jones of Sumner, the Rev. Harold Friesen of Stamford and the Rev. Arnold Past of Funk.

The Rev. James Leonard of Lincoln will speak on Friday night. The annual business meeting of the Christian Homes, old people's home sponsored by the national organization, will be held during the conference.

Officers of the conference are the Rev. Arne Folden of Funk, president; the Rev. Harry Evans, Gothenburg, vice president; the Rev. Richard Hess, Loomis, secretary, and Carroll Erickson, Holdrege, vice secretary.

Rev. Ottsen Takes Columbus Charge

COLUMBUS, Neb.—The Rev. G. Maurice Ottsen of Wahpeton, N.D., has accepted to call to become rector of Grace Episcopal Church in Columbus and Holy Trinity Church at Schuyler.

A native of Missouri, the Rev. Mr. Ottsen was graduated from Coe College in Cedar Rapids, Ia., in 1934. Later he entered the priesthood and was ordained in 1947.

U.S. Will List Goods Okayed For Red Trade

WASHINGTON (INS) — Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks promised to release within 10 days a list of peaceful goods which may be shipped to Russia without controls.

Weeks said, however, that he does not expect this to have any "substantial effect" on the volume of U. S. sales to the Communists.

The commerce secretary would not estimate the number or range of products to be covered beyond saying that it would be "a fairly substantial number of items for peaceful use."

His statements were made in response to questions during a news conference at which he told reporters he hoped to meet with them more frequently in the future than in the past.

$6 Million

In 1955, the U. S. bought about 40 million dollars worth of goods from Russia and her European satellites but were able to sell them only about six million dollars worth.

At the present time, all exports to Russia and the European bloc countries must be licensed by the department. No trade is permitted with Red China or North Korea.

Almost automatic approval is given to non-strategic items, and a "positive list" is maintained by the department on war-potential products which cannot be sold to the Reds.

For this reason, Weeks explained, the only real effect of the list of license-free goods will be to eliminate government red tape rather than to boost the volume of trade.

Youth Injured In Freak Crash

Gary Cosier, 13, of 645 Arthur suffered multiple face lacerations in a one-car accident near 3rd and E Thursday night.

Cosier was a passenger in a car driven by Delmar G. Buskirk, 16, of 538 West B. that was going south on 3rd.

Police said the bumper and axle of the vehicle hit a cement sidewalk in the street where the walk rises above the dirt road. The impact threw Cosier's head against the windshield of the car.

Roscoe License Denied

Liquor Commission reported Thursday that the application of Dorothy T. Osler for a beer license for a location outside the corporate limits at Roscoe has been denied on recommendation of the Keith County Board.

Deposed Top Red's Younger Brother Now U.S. Citizen

PITTSFIELD, Mass. (AP) —Pavlo D. Lysenko, 46, Russian chemist whose brother, Trofim, recently was deposed as a top Soviet geneticist, became an American citizen Thursday. So did his wife.

He has been an odd jobs man since he came here more than four years ago.

Lynsenko broke with the Russian regime in 1942, was captured by the Germans and liberated at Munich in 1946. The couple came to America in 1949.

Lysenko said the Russians conferred the order of the Red Banner on him for a method of converting low quality coal during World War II.

Now that he is a citizen he said he hopes to become connected with an industrial firm where his knowledge of chemistry can be utilized.

Negro Won't Say If Red Organizer

. . . Blasts Solons

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Negro waiter from New Orleans refusing to say whether he was a Southern district organizer for the Communist party, Thursday accused the Senate Internal Security subcommittee of invading his rights as a citizen.

The waiter, Hunter Pitts O'Dell centered his counterattack on Chairman Eastland (D-Miss), whom he accused of being anti-labor and anti-Negro. Occasionally he switched to subcommittee Counsel Robert Morris, asking Morris at one point if he was "some kind of dictator or something."

Morris said the subcommittee had received information that O'Dell was a district organizer for the Communist party in New Orleans, "giving directives to the professional group" there, and operating under three different names.

Invokes '5th'

O'Dell invoked the Fifth Amendment protection against possible self-incrimination in refusing to answer questions about this.

He also refused to answer questions about what Morris described as a considerable amount of "Communist party literature and directives" found in a room O'Dell formerly occupied.

O'Dell accused the subcommittee of unlawful search and seizure when asked about this material. He demanded to know who authorized the subcommittee to take the documents.

Unexplained Fire Burns Paper Boy

OMAHA (AP) — Nick Schafer, 17-year-old Omaha newspaper boy, was seriously burned Thursday night in a mysterious manner. Edwin, his 14-year-old brother, said Nick, who had been delivering papers, called to him from a short distance away and started riding his bicycle toward him.

Suddenly, Edwin said, flames enveloped Nick. The two boys nearly extinguished them when they flared up again. Nick hurried to his nearby home and his dad took him to County Hospital.

Attendants said he was badly burned about the face, head, neck, arms and chest.

Macy Youth Found Innocent Of Count

OMAHA (AP) — A District Court jury has found Richard L. Wolf, 17, Macy, Neb., innocent of assault and battery. He had appealed a municipal court sentence of six months in jail and a $100 and costs fine.

Wolf was one of three youths accused of attacking three airmen in downtown Omaha. One of the airmen was cut and Wolf was accused of being the knife wielder.

Ludwig Elected Head Of Peru Blue Devils

PERU, Neb. – Jerry Ludwig, a sophomore from Bellevue, has been elected president of the Blue Devils, men's pep organization at Peru State College.

Other new officers, who will serve for the 1956-57 school year, include: Tom Eastman, sophomore from Chicago, vice president; Tom Moen junior from Bellevue, treasurer, and Kenneth Sand, sophomore from Beatrice, secretary.

Giveaway Food Hiked

. . . $415 Million Worth

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department reported it gave away 1,400,200,000 pounds of surplus food valued at 415 million dollars in the nine months ending March 31. The food went to the school lunch program and public institutions and welfare agencies at home and abroad.

This was 65 per cent more than was donated in the corresponding period last year. The food had been accumulated under government price support programs. Included were dry beans, butter, canned beef, dried milk, cheese, wheat, lard, rice and shortening.

About 40 per cent went to people in this country and the remainder to those abroad. Needy persons in 74 countries shared in the donations.

Nearly half the food donated at home went to 3,336,000 persons on welfare rolls in 38 states.

Liquor Controllers Elect Pont, Hit Advertising Bans

RENO, Nev. (AP)—State liquor administrators from across the nation elected Nathan B. Pont of Lincoln, Neb., national president as they concluded their annual meeting here.

In a resolution, the administrators took a swipe at proposed federal laws against liquor advertising. Proposed legislation prohibiting interstate liquor advertising were termed "unwise, improper and unnecessary."

Adlai Endorses Truman's Blistering Attack On Eisenhower

...Ike Called 'Do-Nothing'

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Adlai Stevenson endorsed former President Harry S. Truman's blistering attack upon President Eisenhower in which Truman referred to Eisenhower as a "do-nothing President."

"I could not quarrel with anything Mr Truman said," Stevenson told a news conference when asked about Truman's remarks.

"When we look to the deterioration of our situation abroad and our failure to make progress at home, it seems that Mr. Truman's characterization is hitting very close to the mark."

In a speech to the Iowa Democratic Committee's Jackson Day dinner, Truman charged that Eisenhower had compiled "one of the most amazing records of political betrayal" he had ever seen.

'Mockery'

Truman accused the President of teaming with his secretary of agriculture to wreck any attempts to help the nation's farmers. He charged that the President had made "a mockery of bipartisanship" in his foreign policies."

And he said that Eisenhower's record in dealing with other nations had been a "sorry and frightening one."

Earlier, in Miami, Stevenson charged the administration had failed to meet the nation's farm, health and welfare problems, and he said he was the Democrat best fitted to do battle with the Republicans in November.

One Reference

Concentrating his fire on the Republican party, Stevenson made only one direct reference to Estes Kefauver who meets him in a headon clash in Florida's presidential preference primary May 29.

Stevenson told a news conference there was no basic disagreement between him and the Tennessee senator on principal issues.

The former Illinois governor went vote-hunting today in the populous Miami area, which gave Kefauver a 2-1 margin over Sen Russell of Georgia in their preference primary battle four years ago.

'Short Sighted'

LAKELAND, Fla (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver charged that the Eisenhower administration is following a short-sighted policy on development and conservation of natural resources.

"The present administration, I regret to say, has put a lid on resource development," the Tennessee candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination said.

"We find in their policy the short-sightedness which would allow the irreplacable resources to disappear," he continued. "We find in it a short-sightedness which thinks only of today but does not build for the future."

'Strategic'

Kefauver, campaigning for Florida's 28 Democratic National Convention votes in the May 29 primary, discussed conservation in a speech prepared for delivery here.

He said Florida is rich in natural resources and is "strategically located to play a natural part" in a march of industrial and commercial progress for the new south.

The Tennessean shook hands with as many people as he could in his numerous stops on the central Florida swing.

Test Alert For 1956 Set For July; Local Buildings Will Be Evacuated

The annual national Civil Defense test will begin the morning of July 20 and end the evening of July 22, according to the Nebraska Civil Defense Agency.

Lincoln will evacuate the Court House and City Hall, and the state control center in the Capitol will be manned at all times during the exercise.

The attack warning will arrive in the state at the Omaha and Lincoln police departments, over the Air Force warning system, and will be sent over the state by the sheriffs' radio network, which is now being tested once a week.

Supply Shelter

Local organizations, in addition to furnishing mobile equipment and manpower, will be called up to theoretically supply shelters for "evacuees" from Omaha and Lincoln.

During "Operation Alert 1956" the nation will be theoretically subject to a nuclear attack, striking important cities and strategic installations.

Omaha is scheduled to receive a five megaton bomb and will be a "stricken" city during the exercise. According to the plan, this will require an evacuation at the first warning. It has not yet been decided whether this will be a token evacuation or an actual evacuation test.

Mobile Headquarters

Mobile support headquarters will be activated and the entire state Civil Defense organization will be brought in in support of Omaha.

"It is to be expected that Nebraska resources will prove insufficient to combat the devastation experienced by Omaha," the Agency says, 'And requests for assistance will have to be made to the regional office of FCDA in Denver."

This is the first time Omaha has been assumed to be a target city.

"It has been determined that only by regularly testing the civil defense organization can the weaknesses be discovered and corrected," the Agency states, "and in this way an organization can be built which will be able to combat any disaster, natural or war-caused."

Parker Trial Testimony Given

fied as to apparent harmony in the Parker household.

In response to a prosecution question, Mr. Morrison said "I would not say that Darrel was a submissive, Milquetoast type of individual."

"I wouldn't say he was exactly agressive but he had a mind of his own," Morrison explained.

The "submissive, Milquetoast" description of Parker had been applied by a defense attorney in explaining how what he called a "false confession" was obtained by "brow-beating tactics."

Made Useful

Mrs. Morrison told how Darrel spent five days at the Morrison home following his 22-year-old wife's death and "made himself useful around the house."

During their Thanksgiving visit at the Parker home, Mrs. Morrison said, Nancy told her about the Nov. 13 break-in of the Parker home and that Nancy "was afraid" of possible future intruders into the "isolated home" in Antelope Park.

Nancy's graduation present was a gold ladies' wrist watch, Mrs. Morrison said. "I think she mentioned she was having a new band put on it."

The defense has contended the person who took the watch from the dead woman's wrist was the person who killed her. According to early testimony, the watch has not been found.

Glasses Buried

Mrs. Morrison said Nancy's eye glasses, found on a dresser at the murder scene, were buried with her." "Nancy wore then constantly," she added.

Two witnesses, Carl Wise, now retired police detective, and William Hoagland of a Lincoln Mortuary were called upon to tie sample knots for the jury like those in the cord around the dead woman's neck. These were introduced in evidence by the defense.

On re-examination by Scheele, Wise testified it was "impossible to duplicate the knots."

"I couldn't tie a double-bowline," he said.

Photographs of the dead woman's nude body, enlargements of the cords and knots around the neck and wrists, and various interior and exterior scenes of the Parker home were shown to the jury.

These were taken by Everett Rudisill, police photographer and fingerprint expert, on Dec. 14.

Tears came into the eyes of Parker, who put his head in his hands, as the photographs of the dead woman were laid on the defense table. An attorney put a comforting hand on his shoulder.

Asked by Scheele if he was able to develop any latent prints that were identifiable in the Parker home, Rudisill said he "found two prints."

Courtroom laughter followed when the police fingerprint man said they "belonged to Carl Wise (police detective)"

Spectator attendance, light during the earlier part of the week while a jury was being selected, picked up at the start of testimony. The old-fashioned and high-ceilinged courtroom in which Lancaster District Judge John L. Polk presides was nearly filled Thursday.

LAKELAND, Fla (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver charged that the Eisenhower administration is following a short-sighted policy on development and conservation of natural resources.

"The present administration, I regret to say, has put a lid on resource development," the Tennessee candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination said.

"We find in their policy the short-sightedness which would allow the irreplacable resources to disappear," he continued. "We find in it a short-sightedness which thinks only of today but does not build for the future."

'Strategic'

Kefauver, campaigning for Florida's 28 Democratic National Convention votes in the May 29 primary, discussed conservation in a speech prepared for delivery here.

He said Florida is rich in natural resources and is "strategically located to play a natural part" in a march of industrial and commercial progress for the new south.

The Tennessean shook hands with as many people as he could in his numerous stops on the central Florida swing

Test Alert For 1956 Set For July; Local Buildings Will Be Evacuated

The annual national Civil Defense test will begin the morning of July 20 and end the evening of July 22, according to the Nebraska Civil Defense Agency.

Lincoln will evacuate the Court House and City Hall, and the state control center in the Capitol will be manned at all times during the exercise.

The attack warning will arrive in the state at the Omaha and Lincoln police departments, over the Air Force warning system, and will be sent over the state by the sheriffs' radio network, which is now being tested once a week.

Supply Shelter

Local organizations, in addition to furnishing mobile equipment and manpower, will be called up to theoretically supply shelters for "evacuees" from Omaha and Lincoln.

During "Operation Alert 1956" the nation will be theoretically subject to a nuclear attack, striking important cities and strategic installations.

Omaha is scheduled to receive a five megaton bomb and will be a "stricken" city during the exercise. According to the plan, this will require an evacuation at the first warning. It has not yet been decided whether this will be a token evacuation or an actual evacuation test.

Mobile Headquarters

Mobile support headquarters will be activated and the entire state Civil Defense organization will be brought in in support of Omaha.

"It is to be expected that Nebraska resources will prove insufficient to combat the devastation experienced by Omaha," the Agency says, 'And requests for assistance will have to be made to the regional office of FCDA in Denver."

This is the first time Omaha has been assumed to be a target city.

"It has been determined that only by regularly testing the civil defense organization can the weaknesses be discovered and corrected," the Agency states, "and in this way an organization can be built which will be able to combat any disaster, natural or war-caused."

Parker Trial Testimony Given

fied as to apparent harmony in the Parker household.

In response to a prosecution question, Mr. Morrison said "I would not say that Darrel was a submissive, Milquetoast type of individual."

"I wouldn't say he was exactly agressive but he had a mind of his own," Morrison explained.

The "submissive, Milquetoast" description of Parker had been applied by a defense attorney in explaining how what he called a "false confession" was obtained by "brow-beating tactics."

Made Useful

Mrs. Morrison told how Darrel spent five days at the Morrison home following his 22-year-old wife's death and "made himself useful around the house."

During their Thanksgiving visit at the Parker home, Mrs. Morrison said, Nancy told her about the Nov. 13 break-in of the Parker home and that Nancy "was afraid" of possible future intruders into the "isolated home" in Antelope Park.

Nancy's graduation present was a gold ladies' wrist watch, Mrs. Morrison said. "I think she mentioned she was having a new band put on it."

The defense has contended the person who took the watch from the dead woman's wrist was the person who killed her. According to early testimony, the watch has not been found.

Glasses Buried

Mrs. Morrison said Nancy's eye glasses, found on a dresser at the murder scene, were buried with her." "Nancy wore then constantly," she added.

Two witnesses, Carl Wise, now-retired police detective, and William Hoagland of a Lincoln Mortuary were called upon to tie sample knots for the jury like those in the cord around the dead woman's neck. These were introduced in evidence by the defense.

On re-examination by Scheele, Wise testified it was "impossible to duplicate the knots."

"I couldn't tie a double-bowline," he said.

Photographs of the dead woman's nude body, enlargements of the cords and knots around the neck and wrists, and various interior and exterior scenes of the Parker home were shown to the jury.

These were taken by Everett Rudisill, police photographer and fingerprint expert, on Dec. 14.

Tears came into the eyes of Parker, who put his head in his hands, as the photographs of the dead woman were laid on the defense table. An attorney put a comforting hand on his shoulder.

Asked by Scheele if he was able to develop any latent prints that were identifiable in the Parker home, Rudisill said he "found two prints."

Courtroom laughter followed when the police fingerprint man said they "belonged to Carl Wise (police detective)"

Spectator attendance, light during the earlier part of the week while a jury was being selected, picked up at the start of testimony. The old-fashioned and high-ceilinged courtroom in which Lancaster District Judge John L. Polk presides was nearly filled Thursday.

So Overrun With Taxes

"My answer to Mayor Clark Jeary's proposal of a five-dollar wheel tax is a big "NO,'" a reader of this newspaper writes elsewhere on this page. "We are so overrun now on taxes of all kinds that the average family has little left to live on."

The letter is signed by a "tired taxpayer."

In his letter he says it is okay to use his name if necessary, "but prefer not to its use. Would be pleased to see an editorial from you."

There is nothing which this writer offers to the reader that is unreasonable or unfair. A lot of people are getting just a little bit groggy from taxes. A lot of people are finding it more difficult, year after year, to make ends meet financially. A lot of people in Lincoln and elsewhere are beginning to groan every time the thought of taxes comes to mind.

You can call it a wheel tax, or you can adopt a sales tax, or you can put it all on real estate, but a tax is a tax—call it whatever you may—and the day is just around the corner when people are going to have to think soberly — yes, thoughtfully—about the tax burden. There is one thing which the city of Lincoln and the state of Nebraska cannot permit. The city of Lincoln and the state of Nebraska never can permit tax burdens to reach that point where people of middle-sized incomes and young people—young men and young women—find it impossible to maintain a home and find contentment in its possession. It will be an evil day whenever the situation arises that home-owning is denied the family of modest or moderate income, or when home-owning is a dream in which young men and young women starting life with all its bright dreams cannot indulge.

Efficiency Starts At Home

The Nebraska Citizens Council has suggested that smaller counties in the state give more thought to consolidation of functions with neighboring counties.

The council was quick to add that the subject has not met with acclaim and ventures the opinion that constructive action, if it is to be taken, is something for the distant future.

The matter is worth study as is any suggestion offering the possibility of better and more economical government. But there is more than sentiment in the unwillingness to deal away local sovereignty. There is still strong appeal in government by community and by neighbors and it has not been convincingly demonstrated that larger subdivisions have the special quality of efficiency.

Certainly radical measures are not indicated until after best efforts have been exhausted to eliminate waste and loose administration where they may be found in present structures. And the best basis for consolidation is one where two neighboring subdivisions have achieved best practical administration.

Counties can best continue to address themselves to the ever present task of improved government and the lessons learned from it will produce the reliable answer to the question of the further steps of consolidation.

Modicum Of Farm Relief

President Eisenhower has signed into law the legislation that exempts the farmer from federal gas tax to the extent of two cents per gallon.

That apparently ends the long controversy and decides it in favor of agriculture.

While the savings in farm operating costs will not be great, nevertheless they will be helpful and especially welcome during the current period of falling prices and rising costs. Every little bit helps.

From the point of view that gasoline taxes build highways, agriculture has been on sound ground objecting to pay a tax for gasoline used in equipment that does not use highways. But the difference of opinion stemmed from varying definitions of the intent of the tax—whether it was a money-raising levy against gasoline for whatever purposes or whether the levy was based on the principle that highway users should contribute to highway care and maintenance.

Be that as it may, the President's signature to the bill narrows the question, so far as agriculture is concerned, to the latter principle. The end result is some lightening of the agricultural load which at this time is welcome news.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Ike, the news columns said Wednesday, took it on the chin when the House got around to voting on the Eisenhower farm program. By a count of 237 to 181, the House went on record in favor of a bill worked out in the conference committee by Senate-House conferees. Later the Senate approved the conference bill. It wasn't so much the House or the Senate that gave Mr. Eisenhower this licking. It was the stern, uncompromising facts of life which revealed all segments of America's economy enjoying what Republicans called "high prosperity," while agriculture was sweating out a drastically declining family income.

Nebraskans Change Their Ways

This time, all four Nebraska members of the House—Chase, Miller, Weaver and even Harrison—voted with the majority and against the President. It is to their credit that they voted for the farmers of their own state, though they were late in all but one instance in seeing the light. There were forecasts from the Republican leadership that President Eisenhower would veto the legislation unless the action of the conferees was modified. Let Mr. Eisenhower veto it. Let him indicate clearly and unmistakably that the farm program demanded by the administration is not Mr. Benson's program, but in truth and in fact is the President's own thinking, or possibly, as some insist, the President's brother Milton's. But for good and for understanding, let the President come out of hiding and assume responsibility as he should for a policy repugnant to a substantial majority in the lower house of Congress, including a lot of men who have been on the firing line much longer than the President.

★

There was no immediate comment from the President, working and playing golf at Augusta, although his press secretary, "Farmer" James C. Hagerty, said the President "still does not think the bill meets the test of a good bill." And what is a good bill? Republican leadership and the President would be in a better position today if, frankly, Mr. Benson had the guts to tell the American people the soil bank was not his idea originally, nor the idea of his party.

Invitation To Resign

The final vote in the House, Rep. Cooley said, was an invitation "for Benson to resign." We do not know whether Mr. Benson is on his way out or in, but we do know that Rep. Cliff Hope of Kansas could have answered specifications for a secretary of agriculture much more acceptable to the real wheat farmers and to other food producers in America's great bread-basket. We do know, because of serving in another role with Hope, something of the man's great capabilities, something of his high purposes to be of service to the American farmer, and finally, something of his freedom from cheap partisanship and cheap politics. We rejoice that the House of Representatives had the courage when the chips were down to call the President's bluff of veto. If veto it must be, then the President must recall that in voting for 90 per cent of parity, his own Republican associates in the House only supported what Mr. Eisenhower said he favored while he was campaigning back in the fall of 1952. It is, after all, a President—not the rebellious members of the House—who changed the pattern when it came to thinking of the American farm and the financial stability of the farm family. It is the President—not those farmers of the Middle West—who took his Kasson, Minn., pledge so seriously—who changed his pattern of thinking.

★

This farm bill is not the end of the road. It is not perfect legislation. It's a better bill than Secretary Benson and President Eisenhower are willing to admit, however, and it is not as good a bill as perhaps the utmost in wisdom would mold. But it is an evil day when and if the small farm, the small farmer and his family, large or small, disappears from the American scene. In terms of character, they have been worth their weight in gold to American leadership and American progress.

Captives, We

If there are any who get carried away by the thought that they are special examples of broad-mindedness and unfettered living, we suggest that they sit down somewhere and meditate on the pencils they own and use.

Americans are great people for pencils, and from infancy to old age they use them almost without ceasing. They attach little material value to them, though in the course of a lifetime they buy thousands of them. While they give them little thought, they insist on an exacting status. Pencils are for work or nonsense. They can't be used for social exchanges nor to compose lofty phrases. Such require ink. The Declaration of Independence and the Constitution would have attracted very little support had they been dashed off with a pencil.

In the minds of most Americans, a pencil isn't much good unless it is painted yellow and the wood has to be cedar. If you want to make an American mad, try to unload a pencil on him made of spruce, for instance. Shady manufacturers now and then trick him by coloring the wood pink. That makes it all right. None of this bothers a pencil at all. It doesn't care what it is made of, looks like or writes. It is just the people who get all knotted up about such things.

Everyone's Stake

It was disturbing and unwelcome news to learn that six Marine recruits lost their lives as the result of being required to engage in a hazardous disciplinary march at Parris Island, S. C.

It is not compatible with the American view of military training that it should take on such severity as to endanger, even claim, the life and limb of its citizen soldiery. Based on early and somewhat restricted reports, the Parris Island incident qualifies for prompt and deep probing inquiry.

An investigation headed by post Commandant Gen. Randolph Pate is under way. But the Marine Corps is to be reminded that the inquiry should go farther than satisfying the military yardstick. Its finding should be made fully public to the satisfaction of all citizens.

Against It

The Pennsylvania legislature is resting and catching its breath after a hard but unsuccessful effort to have the Great Dane named as the official state dog. The measure lost by one vote.

It is just as well. No one objects to states having official trees and flowers but dogs of usual breed are a refuge, a consolation and the inalienable right of the individual citizen and should ever remain reserved as such. Anyway, states already have a dog, a special breed called treasury watchdogs. We grant that as a breed that dog has not been very diligent, but neither have his trainers and handlers.

Texas Firm Still Gets U.S. Business

WASHINGTON — One amazing feature of the income-tax fixing of the big Texas Brown and Root contracting firm is that they are still getting some of the biggest government contracts, including current construction of U. S. air and naval bases in Spain.

Obviously it must have friends in high places. One close friend has been Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, who has received heavy campaign contributions from Herman and George Brown.

Here is the official record of Brown and Root operations, taken from a Senate Labor Committee report, on the manner in which Brown and Root has violated the Davis-Bacon act. This requires companies with government contracts to pay minimum wages prevailing in that area.

DOWNGRADING CARPENTERS

"Where Brown and Root has a direct hand in a project," states the Senate report, "it has been embroiled in labor difficulties and violations of the contract and specifications that touch upon working conditions."

Continuing in detail, the Senate Labor Committee charged Brown and Root with violating the law while working on the Bull Shoals dam in Arkansas, first, by hiring carpenters and paying them only apprentice wages; second, by switching part of their work to the Flippen Materials Co., so it could avoid paying Davis-Bacon minimum wages.

"The apprentice setup by Brown and Root was a racket which gave Brown and Root all the benefits," summarized the Senate report. "Brown and Root could have paid these men the going carpenter's rate, but it adopted a cheap policy of so-called apprentice service."

The records of the National Relations Board also show that Brown and Root has twice been challenged for unfair practices or for strike-breaking.

When the oil workers union went on strike against the Celanese Corp., at Bishop, Texas, July 26, 1948, Celanese officials hired Brown and Root to come in with what amounted to strike-breakers to maintain and operate the plant. They eventually broke the strike. Later, Celanese was forced to come before the NLRB on a charge of refusing to negotiate.

Again, the United Auto Workers charged Brown and Root with unfair labor practices at their Houston tank machinery plant — specifically of spying on union meetings, threatening reprisals against union members, and discharging 19 workers as a result of their union activity. The labor board in 1954 found against Brown and Root.

Again the Labor Board found Brown and Root guilty of violating the Taft-Hartley act in action brought by the Tri-States Building Council. After Brown and Root refused to rehire 300 workers, the NLRB ordered that back salaries be paid. However, the case has dragged out on appeal, and the $80,000 owed to the men still hasn't been paid.

WANTON DISREGARD

"There is no room for a general contractor like Brown and Root which has shown such wanton disregard of working conditions, classification, wage rates, etc., on work being performed by the United States government," concluded the senate report. "This firm should not be presently employed on a federal project."

It was after this, however, that Brown and Root and its associated contractors were given the biggest government contract of all — to build U. S. air and naval bases in Spain. The contract was awarded without competitive bids by the Eisenhower administration.

Note — Brown and Root are also chief stockholders in Texas Eastern Pipeline, which pipes natural gas from Texas. During the gas-bill battle, George Brown was in frequent conference with Sen. Lyndon Johnson. Lyndon spent week ends at the Brown farm at Middleburg, Va., used the Brown and Root plane to fly to Texas.

Illinois Puts Adlai Back Front Running

WASHINGTON—His home state primary has put Adlai Stevenson back in business as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for President. It does not solve his problems, but it did more than withhold a fatal blow to his chances; it gave him grounds for encouragement.

Virtually complete returns gave Stevenson 720,000 votes, Eisenhower 756,000. The Eisenhower majority represents about 4 per cent of the vote cast.

In 1952, the President overwhelmed Stevenson with a majority of nearly half million or 10 per cent of the total ballots.

In addition, Tuesday's returns did not show an upsurge for Sen. Estes Kefauver. It is true that voters would have had to write in the name of the Tennessee senator and that such a move was initiated only in the last days preceding the primary. Nonetheless, real voter emotion usually shows up in a primary and in Illinois, Kefauver has not caught on.

Stevenson can take comfort, too, in the fact that Chicago has apparently changed its mind about Eisenhower. Stevenson lost Illinois in 1952 by nearly as much as he had won it for governor in 1948, largely because Cook County (Chicago) did not come through with its customary Democratic pluralities.

This year Cook County gave Eisenhower 231,582 votes while Stevenson, in almost complete returns, rolled up 445,821.

Isolationist sentiment also seems to be dying down in the state despite Chicago's position as spiritual headquarters for that creed. Its favorite, Sen. William F. Knowland, still in the race because he could not withdraw after Eisenhower announced, got hardly a fringe vote at any point.

The farm revolt did not show up either, except in counties where agriculture is largely marginal and there are complicating factors like a depressed coal mining industry. The Farm Bureau Federation, spokesman for more prosperous farmers and a supporter of the Benson-Eisenhower policy, is strong in Illinois. Its present president, Charles B. Shuman, lives in Sullivan, Ill., his birthplace.

The Illinois primary was a drab affair, unmarked by any contests attracting enthusiasm or raising the blood pressure.. Only about 30 per cent of the usual general election vote was cast.

Thus Republicans and Kefauver both have alibis. Republicans can say the President's admirers had no reason to go to the polls. Kefauver can say he was not on the ticket, his write-in campaign was belated and those Cook County underworld characters built up Stevenson's vote.

Even so, if a "glad vote" exists, it goes to the primaries. This is their importance. Primaries do not prove who will win a nomination or election; they do show if the voter is either mad at or glad about some candidate or issue.

BOB CONSIDINE

Package No Bomb, But Still Trouble

MONTE CARLO—I annoyed ever so many people with a story, some weeks back, about a mysterious bottle, a couple of crying Greek women, and a doctor who wouldn't tell me what was in the bottle.

In case you didn't get the first rendition, it seems that I was flying home from Athens and we were about three hours out of New York when the fellow next to me, a Greek-American from Cleveland, said "Something's wrong with those two Greek dames there in the back of the plane. I'm going back to see what I can do."

They told him that they were coming to this country under the McCarran act and now were afraid they might be barred. Seems that just before they stepped on the plane the night before in Athens a man they had never seen before thrust a package in their arms and commanded them to mail it "after you get through customs in New York."

Upshot of the thing was that I took the package off their hands. It was addressed to a man in Modesto, Calif., a man with a Greek name. I planned simply to leave it on the plane . . . To forget it. But the guy who got me into it in the first place suddenly jumped up and said, "Suppose it's a bomb!"

I looked around the plane at the now whitened faces and tried to ferret out whether anybody would want to do any of us in. It was an unsuccessful ferreting job. So I opened it. Turned out to be a laboratory type bottle of what looked like orange juice.

It had no smell and no taste. So I ordered it poured out in the man's washroom. But just before the bottle was drained, I poured a tiny bit of it into a small whisky bottle and brought it in in my shaving kit.

The doctor I took it to is a German refugee, and after I explained how I came by it he threw up his hands. "It's a matter for the police laboratories, not mine," he said. So off it went to the police lab.

They ran dozens of tests on it and discovered that it was something called "edible hashish." Seems to be used quite a bit through the Middle East. Sprinkle some on your rice or shashlik, and hein-a-a-aggax!

Mulligan Stew In Your Kitchen Window

By MONA B. PARKER

"Rain," grinned the Alexandria Argus, "is probably the best spirit-lifter that comes to this country." Regarding the recent general precipitation that touched most of the state either as rain or snow, the Argus commented further that "several people in town talked with glee of getting stuck going home . . ."

☆

The effect of moisture on good earth touched with warm sunshine was described by Mrs. LeRoy Ahrndt in the Scribner Rustler . . .

"The earth looks just like a firecracker with the fuse burned short, ready to explode . . ."

The industrious farm wife goes on to say that her husband has some oats planted, and she has her whole garden in. And while she knows that some of it is likely to feel the sting of frost, "just in case it doesn't, it will be early."

☆ ☆ ☆

George Clarke, editor of the Harrison Sun, was concerned with an annual problem of the Sandhill stock raiser. The scene is always the same — a spring blizzard. "Wonder how many calves were dropped? Perfect weather for calving. At least as far as the old cows are concerned . . ."

☆

An ingenious York gardener has no worries on anything the weatherman may decide to toss her way. Her flowers and vegetables are completely secure against the elements. All she really needs, drools the News-Times, is "a good juicy soup bone . . ."

Growing in her window in one dish are potatoes, carrots, onions — and one gladiolus. Mrs. Anton Heiden, deciding on a horticultural experiment last December cut up several pieces of potato, carrot tops, several onions and a small gladioli blub in loose sand and water. The potato vine now has small potatoes on it, the onions have been cut back three or four times, and the carrot plants are 18 inches high.

An unwanted addition but nonetheless authentic as far as the outdoor atmosphere is concerned is the crop of tiny grasshoppers that has hatched out of the violet plant on the same shelf . . .

The Hooper Sentinel tells of a dealer in its midst who has put out over 32,000 baby chicks so far. Which should, says the Sentinel, "keep a good many ladies out of mischief."

The last-in-the-season snowstorm dispelled a time-honored adage for Mrs. Louis Gromm of Wauneta. Although everyone else appreciated the moisture the snow blanket meant, the robins around her home were a bit frustrated for an early breakfast. However, near noon she spotted a late digger delving into the ground in a warm corner where the sun had melted the snow a bit — "which goes to show that it isn't always true that the early bird catches the worm."

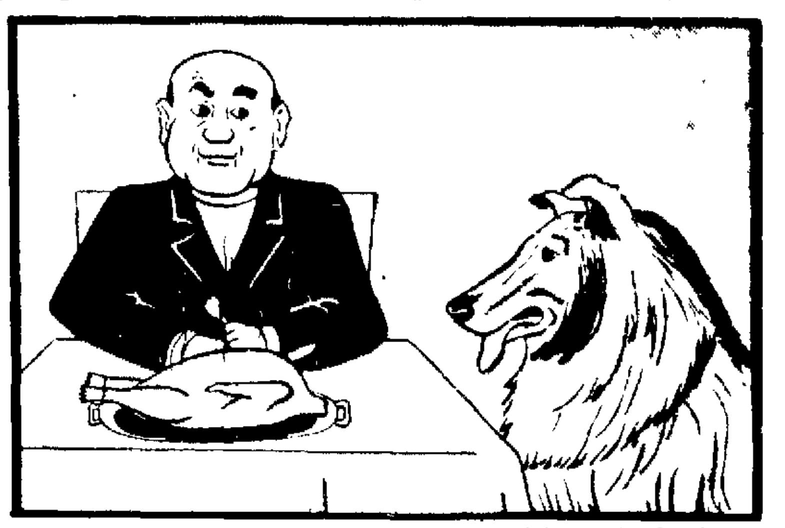
The Greeley Citizen tells of wild ducks by the thousands on Lake Pibel and the Cedar River the last few weeks, resting and refueling for the flight to hatching areas in the northlands.

It is a time for choice for farmers in Kimball and the other wheat-growing regions of western Nebraska. With prospects for a good wheat crop looking up a bit, the decision is whether to protect their investment with hail insurance or take a gamble and hope it won't hail. A tough choice, says the Western Nebraska Observer, with insurance premiums running as high as 24 per cent in specified areas. Some companies who have been called upon to pay season after season feel they "are sticking their necks out" offering coverage even at that rate, according to the Observer.



The high cost of living was aptly illustrated in want ad columns of the Hardy Herald: "A dog, part collie, light golden brown with white markings about the face and head, came to the Lutheran parsonage last Saturday. The dog was wearing a heavy leather collar with one link of chain. The Hansens would be very glad to have the owner come for him. He has a very large appetite."

Cold Showers

My wife has suddenly become an advocate of cold showers.

There is nothing basically wrong with advocating cold showers. Mrs. F. has a perfectly good right to like cold showers if she wants to. The chances are there is even something in the Constitution or Declaration of Independence that might be constructed as protecting her advocacy of cold showers, if you wanted to construe it that way.

Just the same, she is going too far.

It is me she is advocating cold showers for.

☆ ☆ ☆

She has a unique theory that since I will not take setting-up exercises, cold showers are the next best thing. She maintains that the shivers will give my muscles some exercise.

"And you really need some exercise," she maintains. "Look at that stomach!"

I look, and she sits down quickly and says, "No, not mine. Yours." And then, just to show that she is not willing to let the decision rest on a fair appraisal, she adds, "That's not fair. You pulled it in just before you looked."

I assure her that my shirt was just poking out somewhat untidily over my belt and that, underneath, all is as it always has been, but she still insists on cold showers. At first I did not mind her insisting, since I reasoned that I the guy who turned the shower handles, but all that is changed now.

She found a valve in the basement that shuts off the hot water from the shower. I did not know about her discovery. I found out about it when it was too late.

I adjusted the "hot" and "cold" handles to the exact spot where, experience has shown, they will deliver the proper, comfortably warm mixture of water out of the shower head. I stood back and listened to the drumming of the water, giving it time to attain a steady temperature.

I made my teeth chatter and said, "Br-r-r-r" a couple of times, in case Mrs. F. was listening outside the door. Then I tuned up, as is my wont, with a delightful bass rendition of "Give Me My Boots and Saddles," and stepped under the shower.

☆ ☆ ☆

"Boots and Saddles" went quickly through all the voice ranges to a shill soprano, ending on a higher note than Verdi ever dreamed of. This was because what hit my tender rind was a cascade of liquid ice. Within seconds, the shower stall was a mass of twisted wreckage as I fought my way to dry terrain. I had so many goose pimples I look like a range of foothills in a pink sunset, shading to blue.

"Just the same," said Mrs. F. five minutes later, "you've got to admit that you feel tingling and alive, don't you? There's nothing like a cold shower.

I looked out from under three comforters and an electric blanket and let my teeth chatter in reply. She said, "What?" I said, "You'd better go turn off the shower, that's what!" she wouldn't go near it, though. I think she was afraid I'd push her in.

That gave me an idea. I picked her up and carried her toward the shower. Before I got her there, however, she promised never to turn off the hot water again.

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: My answer to Clark Jeary's proposal of a five dollar wheel tax is a big "NO." We are so overrun now on taxes of all kinds that the average family has little left to live on. Some day let's get some men in office who are interested in reducing our taxes instead of increasing them.

Let's all write a letter to the City Council protesting this wheel tax.

Thank You

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The Fremont City Bowling Association, sponsors of the 38th annual Nebraska state bowling tournament, extends its thanks to The Star and its sports staff for the nice publicity given the tournament.

This was the largest state tournament ever held in Nebraska, made possible by good weather and excellent co-operation from the bowlers, their sponsors and good publicity from the press.

So Overrun With Taxes

"My answer to Mayor Clark Jeary's proposal of a five-dollar wheel tax is a big "NO,'" a reader of this newspaper writes elsewhere on this page. "We are so overrun now on taxes of all kinds that the average family has little left to live on."

The letter is signed by a "tired taxpayer."

In his letter he says it is okay to use his name if necessary, "but prefer not to its use. Would be pleased to see an editorial from you."

There is nothing which this writer offers to the reader that is unreasonable or unfair. A lot of people are getting just a little bit groggy from taxes. A lot of people are finding it more difficult, year after year, to make ends meet financially. A lot of people in Lincoln and elsewhere are beginning to groan every time the thought of taxes comes to mind.

You can call it a wheel tax, or you can adopt a sales tax, or you can put it all on real estate, but a tax is a tax—call it whatever you may—and the day is just around the corner when people are going to have to think soberly — yes, thoughtfully—about the tax burden. There is one thing which the city of Lincoln and the state of Nebraska cannot permit. The city of Lincoln and the state of Nebraska never can permit tax burdens to reach that point where people of middle-sized incomes and young people—young men and young women—find it impossible to maintain a home and find contentment in its possession. It will be an evil day whenever the situation arises that home-owning is denied the family of modest or moderate income, or when home-owning is a dream in which young men and young women starting life with all its bright dreams cannot indulge.

Efficiency Starts At Home

The Nebraska Citizens Council has suggested that smaller counties in the state give more thought to consolidation of functions with neighboring counties.

The council was quick to add that the subject has not met with acclaim and ventures the opinion that constructive action, if it is to be taken, is something for the distant future.

The matter is worth study as is any suggestion offering the possibility of better and more economical government. But there is more than sentiment in the unwillingness to deal away local sovereignty. There is still strong appeal in government by community and by neighbors and it has not been convincingly demonstrated that larger subdivisions have the special quality of efficiency.

Certainly radical measures are not indicated until after best efforts have been exhausted to eliminate waste and loose administration where they may be found in present structures. And the best basis for consolidation is one where two neighboring subdivisions have achieved best practical administration.

Counties can best continue to address themselves to the ever present task of improved government and the lessons learned from it will produce the reliable answer to the question of the further steps of consolidation.

Modicum Of Farm Relief

President Eisenhower has signed into law the legislation that exempts the farmer from federal gas tax to the extent of two cents per gallon.

That apparently ends the long controversy and decides it in favor of agriculture.

While the savings in farm operating costs will not be great, nevertheless they will be helpful and especially welcome during the current period of falling prices and rising costs. Every little bit helps.

From the point of view that gasoline taxes build highways, agriculture has been on sound ground objecting to pay a tax for gasoline used in equipment that does not use highways. But the difference of opinion stemmed from varying definitions of the intent of the tax—whether it was a money-raising levy against gasoline for whatever purposes or whether the levy was based on the principle that highway users should contribute to highway care and maintenance.

Be that as it may, the President's signature to the bill narrows the question, so far as agriculture is concerned, to the latter principle. The end result is some lightening of the agricultural load which at this time is welcome news.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Ike, the news columns said Wednesday, took it on the chin when the House got around to voting on the Eisenhower farm program. By a count of 237 to 181, the House went on record in favor of a bill worked out in the conference committee by Senate-House conferees. Later the Senate approved the conference bill. It wasn't so much the House or the Senate that gave Mr. Eisenhower this licking. It was the stern, uncompromising facts of life which revealed all segments of America's economy enjoying what Republicans called "high prosperity," while agriculture was sweating out a drastically declining family income.

Nebraskans Change Their Ways

This time, all four Nebraska members of the House—Chase, Miller, Weaver and even Harrison—voted with the majority and against the President. It is to their credit that they voted for the farmers of their own state, though they were late in all but one instance in seeing the light. There were forecasts from the Republican leadership that President Eisenhower would veto the legislation unless the action of the conferees was modified. Let Mr. Eisenhower veto it. Let him indicate clearly and unmistakably that the farm program demanded by the administration is not Mr. Benson's program, but in truth and in fact is the President's own thinking, or possibly, as some insist, the President's brother Milton's. But for good and for understanding, let the President come out of hiding and assume responsibility as he should for a policy repugnant to a substantial majority in the lower house of Congress, including a lot of men who have been on the firing line much longer than the President.

★

There was no immediate comment from the President, working and playing golf at Augusta, although his press secretary, "Farmer" James C. Hagerty, said the President "still does not think the bill meets the test of a good bill." And what is a good bill? Republican leadership and the President would be in a better position today if, frankly, Mr. Benson had the guts to tell the American people the soil bank was not his idea originally, nor the idea of his party.

Invitation To Resign

The final vote in the House, Rep. Cooley said, was an invitation "for Benson to resign." We do not know whether Mr. Benson is on his way out or in, but we do know that Rep. Cliff Hope of Kansas could have answered specifications for a secretary of agriculture much more acceptable to the real wheat farmers and to other food producers in America's great bread-basket. We do know, because of serving in another role with Hope, something of the man's great capabilities, something of his high purposes to be of service to the American farmer, and finally, something of his freedom from cheap partisanship and cheap politics. We rejoice that the House of Representatives had the courage when the chips were down to call the President's bluff of veto. If veto it must be, then the President must recall that in voting for 90 per cent of parity, his own Republican associates in the House only supported what Mr. Eisenhower said he favored while he was campaigning back in the fall of 1952. It is, after all, a President—not the rebellious members of the House—who changed the pattern when it came to thinking of the American farm and the financial stability of the farm family. It is the President—not those farmers of the Middle West—who took his Kasson, Minn., pledge so seriously—who changed his pattern of thinking.

★

This farm bill is not the end of the road. It is not perfect legislation. It's a better bill than Secretary Benson and President Eisenhower are willing to admit, however, and it is not as good a bill as perhaps the utmost in wisdom would mold. But it is an evil day when and if the small farm, the small farmer and his family, large or small, disappears from the American scene. In terms of character, they have been worth their weight in gold to American leadership and American progress.

Captives, We

If there are any who get carried away by the thought that they are special examples of broadmindedness and unfettered living, we suggest that they sit down somewhere and meditate on the pencils they own and use.

Americans are great people for pencils, and from infancy to old age they use them almost without ceasing. They attach little material value to them, though in the course of a lifetime they buy thousands of them. While they give them little thought, they insist on an exacting status. Pencils are for work or nonsense. They can't be used for social exchanges nor to compose lofty phrases. Such require ink. The Declaration of Independence and the Constitution would have attracted very little support had they been dashed off with a pencil.

In the minds of most Americans, a pencil isn't much good unless it is painted yellow and the wood has to be cedar. If you want to make an American mad, try to unload a pencil on him made of spruce, for instance. Shady manufacturers now and then trick him by coloring the wood pink. That makes it all right. None of this bothers a pencil at all. It doesn't care what it is made of, looks like or writes. It is just the people who get all knotted up about such things.

Everyone's Stake

It was disturbing and unwelcome news to learn that six Marine recruits lost their lives as the result of being required to engage in a hazardous disciplinary march at Parris Island, S. C.

It is not compatible with the American view of military training that it should take on such severity as to endanger, even claim, the life and limb of its citizen soldiery. Based on early and somewhat restricted reports, the Parris Island incident qualifies for prompt and deep probing inquiry.

An investigation headed by post Commandant Gen. Randolph Pate is under way. But the Marine Corps is to be reminded that the inquiry should go farther than satisfying the military yardstick. Its finding should be made fully public to the satisfaction of all citizens.

Against It

The Pennsylvania legislature is resting and catching its breath after a hard but unsuccessful effort to have the Great Dane named as the official state dog. The measure lost by one vote.

It is just as well. No one objects to states having official trees and flowers but dogs of usual breed are a refuge, a consolation and the inalienable right of the individual citizen and should ever remain reserved as such. Anyway, states already have a dog, a special breed called treasury watchdogs. We grant that as a breed that dog has not been very diligent, but neither have his trainers and handlers.

Texas Firm Still Gets U.S. Business

WASHINGTON — One amazing feature of the income-tax fixing of the big Texas Brown and Root contracting firm is that they are still getting some of the biggest government contracts, including current construction of U. S. air and naval bases in Spain.

Obviously it must have friends in high places. One close friend has been Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, who has received heavy campaign contributions from Herman and George Brown.

Here is the official record of Brown and Root operations, taken from a Senate Labor Committee report, on the manner in which Brown and Root has violated the Davis-Bacon act. This requires companies with government contracts to pay minimum wages prevailing in that area.

DOWNGRADING CARPENTERS

"Where Brown and Root has a direct hand in a project," states the Senate report, "it has been embroiled in labor difficulties and violations of the contract and specifications that touch upon working conditions."

Continuing in detail, the Senate Labor Committee charged Brown and Root with violating the law while working on the Bull Shoals dam in Arkansas: first, by hiring carpenters and paying them only apprentice wages; second, by switching part of their work to the Flippen Materials Co., so it could avoid paying Davis-Bacon minimum wages.

"The apprentice setup by Brown and Root was a racket which gave Brown and Root all the benefits," summarized the Senate report. "Brown and Root could have paid these men the going carpenter's rate, but it adopted a cheap policy of so-called apprentice service."

The records of the National Relations Board also show that Brown and Root has twice been challenged for unfair practices or for strike-breaking.

When the oil workers union went on strike against the Celanese Corp., at Bishop, Texas, July 26, 1948, Celanese officials hired Brown and Root to come in with what amounted to strike-breakers to maintain and operate the plant. They eventually broke the strike. Later, Celanese was forced to come before the NLRB on a charge of refusing to negotiate.

Again, the United Auto Workers charged Brown and Root with unfair labor practices at their Houston tank machinery plant — specifically of spying on union meetings, threatening reprisals against union members, and discharging 19 workers as a result of their union activity. The labor board in 1954 found against Brown and Root.

Again the Labor Board found Brown and Root guilty of violating the Taft-Hartley act in action brought by the Tri-States Building Council. After Brown and Root refused to rehire 300 workers, the NLRB ordered that back salaries be paid. However, the case has dragged out on appeal, and the $80,000 owed to the men still hasn't been paid.

WANTON DISREGARD

"There is no room for a general contractor like Brown and Root which has shown such wanton disregard of working conditions, classification, wage rates, etc., on work being performed by the United States government," concluded the senate report. "This firm should not be presently employed on a federal project."

It was after this, however, that Brown and Root and its associated contractors were given the biggest government contract of all — to build U. S. air and naval bases in Spain. The contract was awarded without competitive bids by the Eisenhower administration.

Note — Brown and Root are also chief stockholders in Texas Eastern Pipeline, which pipes natural gas from Texas. During the gas-bill battle, George Brown was in frequent conference with Sen. Lyndon Johnson. Lyndon spent week ends at the Brown farm at Middleburg, Va., used the Brown and Root plane to fly to Texas.

Illinois Puts Adlai Back Front Running

WASHINGTON—His home state primary has put Adlai Stevenson back in business as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for President. It does not solve his problems, but it did more than withhold a fatal blow to his chances; it gave him grounds for encouragement.

Virtually complete returns gave Stevenson 720,000 votes, Eisenhower 756,000. The Eisenhower majority represents about 4 per cent of the vote cast.

In 1952, the President overwhelmed Stevenson with a majority of nearly half million or 10 per cent of the total ballots.

In addition, Tuesday's returns did not show an upsurge for Sen. Estes Kefauver. It is true that voters would have had to write in the name of the Tennessee senator and that such a move was initiated only in the last days preceding the primary. Nonetheless, real voter emotion usually shows up in a primary and in Illinois, Kefauver has not caught on.

Stevenson can take comfort, too, in the fact that Chicago has apparently changed its mind about Eisenhower. Stevenson lost Illinois in 1952 by nearly as much as he had won it for governor in 1948, largely because Cook County (Chicago) did not come through with its customary Democratic pluralities.

This year Cook County gave Eisenhower 231,582 votes while Stevenson, in almost complete returns, rolled up 445,821.

Isolationist sentiment also seems to be dying down in the state despite Chicago's position as spiritual headquarters for that creed. Its favorite, Sen. William F. Knowland, still in the race because he could not withdraw after Eisenhower announced, got hardly a fringe vote at any point.

The farm revolt did not show up either, except in counties where agriculture is largely marginal and there are complicating factors like a depressed coal mining industry. The Farm Bureau Federation, spokesman for more prosperous farmers and a supporter of the Benson-Eisenhower policy, is strong in Illinois. Its present president, Charles B. Shuman, lives in Sullivan, Ill., his birthplace.

The Illinois primary was a drab affair, unmarked by any contests attracting enthusiasm or raising the blood pressure. Only about 30 per cent of the usual general election vote was cast.

Thus Republicans and Kefauver both have alibis. Republicans can say the President's admirers had no reason to go to the polls. Kefauver can say he was not on the ticket, his write-in campaign was belated and those Cook County underworld characters built up Stevenson's vote.

Even so, if a "glad vote" exists, it goes to the primaries. This is their importance. Primaries do not prove who will win a nomination or election; they do show if the voter is either mad at or glad about some candidate or issue.

Package No Bomb, But Still Trouble

MONTE CARLO—I annoyed ever so many people with a story, some weeks back, about a mysterious bottle, a couple of crying Greek women, and a doctor who wouldn't tell me what was in the bottle.

In case you didn't get the first rendition, it seems that I was flying home from Athens and we were about three hours out of New York when the fellow next to me, a Greek-American from Cleveland, said "Something's wrong with those two Greek dames there in the back of the plane. I'm going back to see what I can do."

They told him that they were coming to this country under the McCarran act and now were afraid they might be barred. Seems that just before they stepped on the plane the night before in Athens a man they had never seen before thrust a package in their arms and commanded them to mail it "after you get through customs in New York."

Upshot of the thing was that I took the package off their hands. It was addressed to a man in Modesto, Calif., a man with a Greek name. I planned simply to leave it on the plane . . . To forget it. But the guy who got me into it in the first place suddenly jumped up and said, "Suppose it's a bomb!"

I looked around the plane at the now whitened faces and tried to ferret out whether anybody would want to do any of us in. It was an unsuccessful ferreting job. So I opened it. Turned out to be a laboratory type bottle of what looked like orange juice.

It had no smell and no taste. So I ordered it poured out in the man's washroom. But just before the bottle was drained, I poured a tiny bit of it into a small whisky bottle and brought it in in my shaving kit.

The doctor I took it to is a German refugee, and after I explained how I came by it he threw up his hands. "It's a matter for the police laboratories, not mine," he said. So off it went to the police lab.

They ran dozens of tests on it and discovered that it was something called "edible hashish." Seems to be used quite a bit through the Middle East. Sprinkle some on your rice or shashlik, and boin-n-n-ngggg!

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: My answer to Clark Jeary's proposal of a five-dollar wheel tax is a big "NO." We are so overrun now on taxes of all kinds that the average family has little left to live on. Some day let's get some men in office who are interested in reducing our taxes instead of increasing them.

Let's all write a letter to the City Council protesting this wheel tax.

A TIRED TAXPAYER

Thank You

Fremont, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The Fremont City Bowling Association, sponsors of the 38th annual Nebraska state bowling tournament, extends its thanks to The Star and its sports staff for the nice publicity given the tournament.

This was the largest state tournament ever held in Nebraska, made possible by good weather and excellent co-operation from the bowlers, their sponsors and good publicity from the press.

NPPS Brief Asserts:

Both Consumers, NPPS 'Confused' Over High Court Rule

The "total confusion" of the Consumers Public Power District and the Nebraska Public Power System was pointed to by NPPS over the recent State Supreme Court ruling that Consumers need not buy all of its power from NPPS.

The statement was contained in a brief filed by NPPS attorneys in connection with a motion for rehearing of the case in which the state high court held that a contract requiring Consumers to buy substantially all of its power requirements in eastern Nebraska from NPPS was not in the public interest and therefore illegal and void."

The NPPS held that the Supreme Court "erred" in 21 separate instances in its decision.

Others Involved

The brief declared that the decision "not only leaves the state's public power agencies in a state of confusion as to the validity of the many contracts by which they are interrelated but further leaves the principal adversaries in this case — Consumers and NPPS — in total confusion as to the mutual rights and duties."

If the part of the contract requiring Consumers to buy its power from NPPS is wrong, is the entire contract which NPPS and Consumers signed also wrong, NPPS asked? And to what extent must NPPS supply Consumer power needs.

Similar Contract

NPPS also pointed out in its brief that "the ink was hardly dry on the court's opinion when Consumers agreed to purchase power from the new Tri-County plant at Lexington, without substituting its own power generation, for as long as Tri County needs a market for its power. The brief held that this is the same type of contract which Consumers had with NPPS and which the Court declared void.

The brief added that if the Court's decision is allowed to stand it will cause "endless litigation and will seriously damage the credit of public power in Nebraska which depends on contract validity for the financing of new facilities."

NPPS declared that what the court actually did by its decision was to strengthen Consumer's monopoly in the retail field. By escaping its power purchasing obligations, NPPS said, Consumers can control its commodity from manufacture to ultimate sale.

"This throws wide the gate to establishment of a complete monopoly of power in Nebraska," it said.

The power generating agency also asked for clarification of the court's lack of decision on the cost-of-service contracts which NPPS holds with its customers — Consumers, the rural public power districts and certain municipalities. NPPS contends that the trial court ruled on this question and the Supreme Court, in declining to rule, stopped legal process.

"Whatever their protestations may be," the brief said, "we submit that all of the parties in this case would welcome a complete determination of their rights and obligations."

County Agents Report:

Northeast Subsoil Extremely Dry

NORFOLK, Neb. — Surface moisture over northeastern Nebraska is ample but the subsoil is extremely dry.

That was the report of county extension agents from over the area in Norfolk. Without exception they reported recent rains have been a great help and will aid in getting corn ground ready for planting and getting oats and other spring grains to sprout.

County by county reports:

Stanton: Subsoil is very dry. Surface moisture is making it possible for oats and legumes to germinate. Most oats planted. Corn ground working fine.

Knox. Short on subsoil moisture. Surface moisture very good, probably down a foot. Oats planting delayed by wet, cold weather. Corn ground preparation delayed.

Madison: Surface moisture ample now. Subsoil moisture low. Oats planted. Wheat helped by recent rains.

Antelope: Recent rains helped surface moisture, first general rains since last fall. Subsoil moisture low and risky to prepare corn ground on sandy land. Much feed [illegible] during winter months.

Wayne: Recent rains helped surface moisture. Ideal for corn ground preparation. Subsoil never drier than now.

Boone: Surface moisture good now. Very little corn ground prepared. About 85 per cent oats planted.

Cedar: Spring rains have helped. Farmers worried about pastures, and legumes because of dry winter. Cold weather has hindered spring work. Need warm spring weather.

Lincoln Star Special

STROMSBURG, Neb. — Funeral services for Donald Lindblade, 21, an ex-serviceman, were held here. He died in Osceola after about a month's illness.

Two Telephone Linemen Injured

LEXINGTON, Neb. — Two linemen for the Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. were injured when they fell 30 feet from a pole on which they were working.

They were Jack Kutz, Lexington, and Jimmy Schenat, Grand Island. Kutz received several deep scalp wounds which required a dozen stitches and Schendit suffered a dislocated wrist as well as fractured small bones in the wrist joint.

The accident occurred as the men were raising and lowering wires to permit a house to be moved. The house hit the lines and the pull of the wire caused the crossarm to break. The pole broke about 6 feet from the top and the crossarm landed on the men, according to L. W. Planbeck, local telephone company manager.

DOG TALK: Do you enjoy a dog food containing meat meal, skim milk, and eggs?

Beagle
15 to 20 lbs.

A rabbit hunter since the days of King Arthur, this little fellow's top dog today. He says, "Boy, I sure do enjoy the complete food with meat meal, skim milk, and eggs—whether it's Nutrena Meal or Nuggets."

St. Bernard
150 to 200 lbs.

Uncanny sense of smell and sense of direction have helped St Bernards save 2,500 Alpine climbers from avalanches and snowstorms. His comment: "Doesn't cost much to give me muscle-strengthening, bone-building Nutrena Nuggets with meat meal, skim milk, and eggs."

Pedigree—None
Weight? (Yep!)

Part Collie, a little Shepherd, the rest "just dawg"—but to the kids he's the world's smartest. This fellow says, "I like the fun of eating all the new foods in new Nutrena Meal with meat meal, skim milk, and eggs."

Golden Retriever
55 to 68 lbs.

An old-time herder could leave a Golden in sole charge of a herd of sheep for months at a time. Today, depended on mostly for hunting, this Golden says "Eats? What I relish are regular feedings of Nutrena Kibbled's golden-toasted biscuit bits."

Nutrena's Pooch

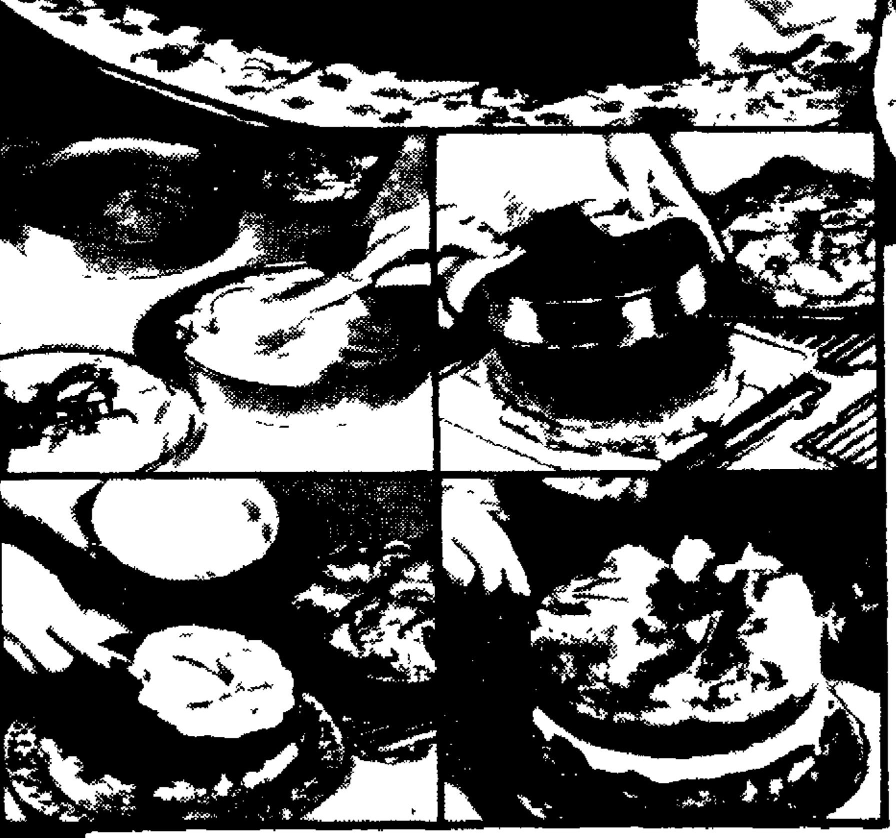
BAKING WITH DUNCAN HINES IS FUN!

Ever taste the famous Blitz Torte? It's a luscious cake of meringue layers and fruit!



This European specialty is one of the famous cakes of the world—easy to make with our fine Yellow Cake Mix.

"If you were lucky enough to have a good German cook as an ancestor, you probably know the Blitz Torte. If not, you'll discover one of the great cakes of the world the first time you make it.

"What makes a Blitz Torte so very different is the thick layer of meringue that bakes crisp-crusted and almond-studded, right on the yellow cake layers. That cake is the kind you make with our Yellow Cake Mix—fine and light and moist, tasting deliciously of the fresh egg yolks you add in this recipe. (The word 'blitz' means lightning—and with our cake mix it's truly lightning-quick, without the old-fashioned work of mixing from scratch.)

"So, you see, your cake layers come from the oven already 'frosted' with golden-brown meringue. And when you're ready to serve, put them together with something creamy for contrast. Often, a custard—plain or fruit-flavored. I like it with a tart fruit like red raspberries, and whipped cream.

"This is the kind of cake that cookbooks call a complete dessert. And I think you'll agree it couldn't be better—or easier!"

MERINGUE IS SPREAD ON BATTER, BAKES RIGHT WITH CAKE LAYERS

Follow package directions for Duncan Hines Yellow Cake, except in Step 2 add 4 egg yolks instead of 2 whole eggs. Spread batter in 2 greased and floured 9-in. round or 8-in. square layer cake pans. Spread this meringue over batter: Beat 4 egg whites with few grains salt until frothy. Gradually beat in ⅔ cup sugar.

Over meringue sprinkle 2 Tablesp. sugar and ¼ cup shaved blanched almonds. Bake at 350° for 40 to 45 min. Cool in pans 15 min. Remove from pans. Cool on rack meringue-side up.

To serve, cover meringue-side of one layer with a package of frozen red raspberries or strawberries, partially thawed and drained. Over berries spread 1 cup whipping cream whipped stiff with 2 Tablesp. sugar. (Save some whipped cream and a few berries to decorate the top.) Cover with other layer, meringue-side up. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

Try baking meringue on layers of cake made with our other mixes: Spice with peaches as fruit; White Cake with cherries; Devil's Food with bananas.

BAKING WITH DUNCAN HINES IS FUN!

MERINGUE IS SPREAD ON BATTER, BAKES RIGHT WITH CAKE LAYERS

Follow package directions for Duncan Hines Yellow Cake, except in Step 2 add 4 egg yolks instead of 2 whole eggs. Spread batter in 2 greased and floured 9-in. round or 8-in. square layer cake pans. Spread this meringue over batter: Beat 4 egg whites with few grains salt until frothy. Gradually beat in ⅔ cup sugar.

Over meringue sprinkle 2 Tablesp. sugar and ¼ cup shaved blanched almonds. Bake at 350° for 40 to 45 min. Cool in pans 15 min. Remove from pans. Cool on rack meringue-side up.

To serve, cover meringue-side of one layer with a package of frozen red raspberries or strawberries, partially thawed and drained. Over berries spread 1 cup whipping cream whipped stiff with 2 Tablesp. sugar. (Save some whipped cream and a few berries to decorate the top.) Cover with other layer, meringue-side up. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

Try baking meringue on layers of cake made with our other mixes: Spice with peaches as fruit; White Cake with cherries; Devil's Food with bananas.

This European specialty is one of the famous cakes of the world-easy to make with our fine Yellow Cake Mix.

"If you were lucky enough to have a good German cook as an ancestor, you probably know the Blitz Torte. If not, you'll discover one of the great cakes of the world the first time you make it.

"What makes a Blitz Torte so very different is the thick layer of meringue that bakes crisp-crusted and almond-studded, right on the yellow cake layers. That cake is the kind you make with our Yellow Cake Mix—fine and light and moist, tasting deliciously of the fresh egg yolks you add in this recipe. (The word 'blitz' means lightning—and with our cake mix it's truly lightning-quick, without the old-fashioned work of mixing from scratch.)

"So, you see, your cake layers come from the oven already 'frosted' with golden-brown meringue. And when you're ready to serve, put them together with something creamy for contrast. Often, a custard—plain or fruit-flavored. I like it with a tart fruit like red raspberries, and whipped cream.

"This is the kind of cake that cookbooks call a complete dessert. And I think you'll agree it couldn't be better—or easier!"

Thousands Cheer As Grace Rejoins Prince

...FLOWERS SHOWER DOWN FROM MONACO'S SKIES

By OLGA CURTIS

MONTE CARLO (Friday) (INS)—A tired but happy Grace Kelly snuggled into her palace bed last night like sleeping beauty dreaming of her prince.

She had a happy lovers' reunion with Prince Ranier III at dinner near the end of a hard, long day, and they were left alone.

It was Grace's first night in Monaco as a bride-to-be. The prince is using his villa Iberia until after the cathedral wedding next Thursday, and Grace had the run of the palace where she will make her home.

Booming guns, cheers and a sky-shower of red-and-white carnations greeted Grace at the end of her sea voyage from the United States. Monegasques threw in a fireworks greeting last night for good measure.

It was the greatest thing Monaco has seen since the first Grimaldi captured the fortress 700 years ago.

Grace got her first taste of both official and private palace life as soon as she arrived aboard the proud prince's glistening yacht. Ranier gallantly escorted Grace to shore from the S. S. Constitution.

She walked off the yacht with regal indifference to the wind whipping up her skirt over her shapely legs.

She accepted her first Monacan flowers from school kids without losing a firm arm grip on her pet poodle, Oliver.

Whisked into the palace by the beaming Ranier, Grace by popular demand took the biggest bow of her life on the balcony. The prince stood at her side and both waved to his subjects below.

Grace met Bishop Gilles Barthe of Monaco, the man who will officiate at the cathedral wedding.

She kissed his ring while Ranier and his chaplain, Father Francis Tucker looked on.

Ranier then marched his future bride down a line formed by her future servants. Grace smiled and spoke briefly to each of the more than 50 maids, cooks, butlers, footmen and other members of the palace staff. They greeted her in perfect West Point formation.

Grace didn't have time to change out of her blue dress and coat before lunch and her meeting of her in-laws-to-be and Monaco bigwigs.

After caviar and champagne, the Kellys and Grimaldis sat down together for their first get-together.

After dinner, the prince left for his villa, leaving Grace alone.

A light showed in her suite until midnight.

Dr. Sandall Talks To Lancaster WCTU

Dr. Harold Sandall, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, spoke at the mid-year convention of the Lancaster County Women's Christian Temperance Union held at the YWCA Thursday.

Five Wesleyan students gave literary readings from the Bible. Dr. Eugene Osborne, their instructor, pointed out that any more the Bible is being read from a literary standpoint as well as from a religious viewpoint.

Mrs. C. B. Short of Lincoln, president, presided at the meeting which began with a noon luncheon. About 40 women were present.

Kinsey May Stay On Lincoln-County Building Authority

Newly appointed City Councilman C. W. D. Kinsey may remain a member of the City-County Building Authority.

Mayor Clark Jeary has stated that Authority Chairman C. C. Kimball has asked that Kinsey be left on the Authority. With the Authority in the midst of its work, Kimball told Jeary, it would be most difficult for a new member to step in at this time.

Kinsey was scheduled to resign from the Authority because of the conflict with his position as a Council member.

However, Jeary pointed out that this conflict will not exist until at least after the June 26 election and probably not until the city enters into a lease with the Authority for part of the proposed new joint building.

Jeary is to ask City Attorney Jack Pace for a formal opinion in the matter.

NWU Titles To Bowmaster, Miss Martens

Miss Martens Bowmaster

Faye Marie Martens of Chappell, Neb., and Charles William Bowmaster of Lincoln are the 1956 Ideal Plainswoman and Ideal Plainsman at Nebraska Wesleyan University.

The student body chose the pair from among 10 candidates on the basis of character, scholarship, leadership and service to the campus.

Miss Martens, the daughter of Mrs. Amanda Martens, is president of her sorority, Alpha Gamma Delta, and local and state president of Future Teachers of America.

She is listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities and belongs to Cardinal Key, Student Senate and several other campus groups.

Bowmaster, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph M. Bowmaster, has been president of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity and a member of Cardinal Key. He also is listed in the college Who's Who.

Fr. Van Greunsven NamedOrphange' Assistant Head

The Rev. Norbert J. Van Gruensven, former assistant pastor of St. Mary's Cathedral who is now studying in Washington, has been appointed assistant director of St. Thomas' Orphanage by Bishop Louis B. Kucera.

Fr. Van Gruensven is nearing completion of his studies at the Catholic University of America for his doctorate of philosophy in sociology.

He will also succeed three other positions in Lincoln: diocesan director of Catholic Cemeteries, superintendent of Calvary Cemetery and diocesan director of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith.

—PSYCHIATRIST'S REPORT—

Sergeant Who Led Six To Death Said 'Sound'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Randolph McC. Pate said Thursday a psychiatric examination indicates the drill sergeant who led six Marine recruits to accidental death in a South Carolina swamp "is a perfectly sound, well-motivated young man."

The Marine Corps commandant quoted the psychiatrist who examined Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon, 31, as saying:

"He showed appropriate and proper remorse. He is not frustrated but is properly remorseful. He is perfectly sound and was sound when he did it."

The general said the psychiatrist is convinced that McKeon "made an error of judgement."

"One Man's Opinion"

But the general said he wanted to emphasize that "this is just one man's opinion."

The findings of fact about that, Pate said, will come from a Marine Corps court of inquiry now trying to find out what went wrong when McKeon led 78 Parris Island men into a tidal swamp on a night march on which the six drowned.

A high Marine Corps official promised there will be no "whitewashing" in connection with an inquiry into the death of the six.

Maj. Gen. Joseph C. Burger, Parris Island post commander, told reporters, "We are making a thorough investigation. There will be no whitewashing of anything this court of inquiry finds out or recommends."

U.S. Says Marines To Stage Landing Exercises Near Middle East Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States disclosed that the 6th Fleet Marines will hold "routine" landing exercises in a few weeks at Crete, on the fringe of the troubled Middle East.

The Mediterranean maneuvers scheduled in early May, came to light apparently by happenstance.

However this may be, the disclosure had the effect of underscoring President Eisenhower's pledge Monday that any Middle East aggressor will face U.S. opposition. It also recalled Secretary of State Dulles' meeting with congressional leaders Tuesday when he paved the way for a possible request later that Congress give Eisenhower specific authority to use troops in the area if he should deem it necessary.

Even though U.S. officials insisted the Marine exercises are "standard operating procedure" the timing might impress both Israel and the Arab states that the United States means business.

By Ear

Nevertheless, U.S. officials still gave the appearance of playing the whole Middle East crisis by ear—except for strong support of the United Nations' role, as symbolized by U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold's peace mission to Cairo and Tel Aviv.

American officials flatly denied one report that the 2nd Armored Division was being transferred to the Middle East. U.S. Army headquarters at Frankfort, Germany called this report "absolutely untrue."

Reports that the Marines attached to the 6th Fleet would land at the Greek island of Crete were confirmed. Officials denied, however, that there was any plan to base Marines on the island which lies about halfway between Athens and the Egyptian coast.

"The 6th Fleet Amphibious Force is scheduled to visit Crete in early May," a Defense Department statement said.

Clearance

The statement said a diplomatic request to the Greek government for clearance for these landing operations "may have resulted in these erroneous reports that the Marines are to be based there."

"This operation is the same as those that have been conducted many times in the past, each one of which has involved the same clearance," the statement said.

A reinforced battalion of 1,800 Marines recently joined the 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean. These Marines were described as replacements for an earlier unit which had been called home.

House To Act Soon On Naval Station Funds

The House Appropriations Committee is expecting to act late this month on a Navy request for $220,000 for the Naval Air Station at Lincoln.

The amount includes $170,000 for a single turbojet engine test facility.

The other $50,000 would go for land acquisition for an ammunition storage magazine adjacent to the Navy area at Lincoln Air Force Base.

Removal of the magazine to a closer location would save distance and time and "provide security we do not have now," a Navy spokesman said.

The present magazine is on land the Navy leases at the other side of the base, 6.2 miles away from the main Navy area.

If replaced, the present magazine would be closed up and disposed of, the Navy said.

Beck Brief Upholds Judge's Reprimand

A brief was filed in Supreme Court Thursday by Attorney General C. S. Beck upholding the findings of a referee and against Merton O. Bates. The question involved was whether a county judge may disqualify himself in County Court and then represent one of the litigants in later proceedings in District and Supreme Court.

The referee, Lester R. Stiner, held that Bates, a Dawson County Judge, should be reprimanded. Bates appealed the report.

Church Council Plans Course For Librarians

The Lincoln Council of Churches is sponsoring an institute for training church librarians of all denominations from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday.

Mrs. John Stahn, associate secretary of the council, will direct the institute which will be held at Trinity Methodist Church.

Resource leaders will include Mrs. Dwight Dell of Holmesville, Neb.; Mrs. Karl Lessenhop and Marguerite Johnston of the State Library Commission; Annie Laurie Smith of the University of Nebraska Library and Mrs. Roy Green, Trinity Methodist librarian.

Personal Assessment Form Deadline Soon

Personal property assessment returns are nearing the 35,000 mark, according to the county assessor's office.

Deadline for turning in the filled-out forms is April 20th.

A total of 45,000 returns is expected from personal property assessment in the city, about the same as last year. Another 9,000 is expected from county dwellers outside the city limits.

Power Line Application

Cuming County Rural Public Power District at West Point, made application to the Railway Commission Thursday to construct 6.75 miles of electric transmission line in Cuming and Thurston Counties. Date for the hearing has not been set.

U.S. Says Marines To Stage Landing Exercises Near Middle East Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States disclosed that the 6th Fleet Marines will hold "routine" landing exercises in a few weeks at Crete, on the fringe of the troubled Middle East.

The Mediterranean maneuvers scheduled in early May, came to light apparently by happenstance.

However this may be, the disclosure had the effect of underscoring President Eisenhower's pledge Monday that any Middle East aggressor will face U.S. opposition. It also recalled Secretary of State Dulles' meeting with congressional leaders Tuesday when he paved the way for a possible request later that Congress give Eisenhower specific authority to use troops in the area if he should deem it necessary.

Even though U.S. officials insisted the Marine exercises are "standard operating procedure," the timing might impress both Israel and the Arab states that the United States means business.

By Ear

Nevertheless, U.S. officials still gave the appearance of playing the whole Middle East crisis by ear—except for strong support of the United Nations' role, as symbolized by U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold's peace mission to Cairo and Tel Aviv.

American officials flatly denied one report that the 2nd Armored Division was being transferred to the Middle East. U.S. Army headquarters at Frankfort, Germany called this report "absolutely untrue."

Reports that the Marines attached to the 6th Fleet would land at the Greek island of Crete were confirmed. Officials denied, however, that there was any plan to base Marines on the island, which lies about halfway between Athens and the Egyptian coast.

"The 6th Fleet Amphibious Force is scheduled to visit Crete in early May," a Defense Department statement said.

Clearance

The statement said a diplomatic request to the Greek government for clearance for these landing operations "may have resulted in these erroneous reports that the Marines are to be based there."

"This operation is the same as those that have been conducted many times in the past, each one of which has involved the same clearance," the statement said.

A reinforced battalion of 1,800 Marines recently joined the 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean. These Marines were described as replacements for an earlier unit which had been called home.

House To Act Soon On Naval Station Funds

The House Appropriations Committee is expecting to act late this month on a Navy request for $220,000 for the Naval Air Station at Lincoln.

The amount includes $170,000 for a single turbojet engine test facility.

The other $50,000 would go for land acquisition for an ammunition storage magazine adjacent to the Navy area at Lincoln Air Force Base.

Removal of the magazine to a closer location would save distance and time and "provide security we do not have now," a Navy spokesman said.

The present magazine is on land the Navy leases at the other side of the base, 6.2 miles away from the main Navy area.

If replaced, the present magazine would be closed up and disposed of, the Navy said.

Beck Brief Upholds Judge's Reprimand

A brief was filed in Supreme Court Thursday by Attorney General C. S. Beck upholding the findings of a referee and against Merton O. Bates. The question involved was whether a county judge may disqualify himself in County Court and then represent one of the litigants in later proceedings in District and Supreme Court.

The referee, Lester R. Stiner, held that Bates, a Dawson County Judge, should be reprimanded. Bates appealed the report.

Church Council Plans Course For Librarians

The Lincoln Council of Churches is sponsoring an institute for training church librarians of all denominations from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday.

Mrs. John Stahn, associate secretary of the council, will direct the institute which will be held at Trinity Methodist Church.

Resource leaders will include Mrs. Dwight Dell of Holmesville, Neb.; Mrs. Karl Lessenhop and Marguerite Johnston of the State Library Commission; Annie Laurie Smith of the University of Nebraska Library and Mrs. Roy Green, Trinity Methodist librarian.

Personal Assessment Form Deadline Soon

Personal property assessment returns are nearing the 35,000 mark, according to the county assessor's office.

Deadline for turning in the filled-out forms is April 20th.

A total of 45,000 returns is expected from personal property assessment in the city, about the same as last year. Another 9,000 is expected from county dwellers outside the city limits.

Power Line Application

Cuming County Rural Public Power District at West Point, made application to the Railway Commission Thursday to construct 6.75 miles of electric transmission line in Cuming and Thurston Counties. Date for the hearing has not been set.

Estes, Adlai Urge Ike Sign Farm Bill

MIAMI (INS) — Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) worked opposite sides of the street in Florida Thursday but came together on the issue of the farm bill Both said President Eisenhower should sign the measure

Stevenson, campaigning in the populous Miami area where almost one-third of Florida's voters live, labeled the farm bill passed by Congress as the "final repudiation" of the GOP agriculture program

Kefauver, working his way through central Florida, went even one step farther than his opponent in seeking convention support in the state's May 29 Democratic presidential primary

Speaking to the student body at Florida Southern College in Lakeland, he not only called on President Eisenhower to sign the bill but predicted that he will

Stevenson told a news conference in Miami

"I do not argue that the farm bill is perfect but it will help return a fair income to the producers of basic commodities"

The former Illinois Governor said Eisenhower should sign the farm bill even though doing so may make Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson "acutely uncomfortable" Stevenson noted that the bill is in conflict with Benson's program and said that Eisenhower, who has supported Benson, is "faced with a very grave problem of consistency" if he signs it

Stevenson spent most of the morning handshaking in various sections of Miami and spoke to a noontime rally staged in his behalf

He disavowed any inferences that his campaign is taking on a "new look" and that he is borrowing a page from Kefauver's book

Stevenson devoted his formal speech in Miami to the problems of national health.

Stevenson left Miami for Key West at mid afternoon and is to fly to Tampa Friday Kefauver is also due in Tampa Friday and the two men will probably cross paths in their bids for the state's 28 Democratic convention votes.

'BILL GOOD'—KEFAUVER

WINTER HAVEN Fla (AP)—Sen Estes Kefauver Thursday called the omnibus farm bill "noteworthy and good" and said its best feature is "separating the problem of the farm surplus from the problem of farm income"

The Tennessee Democrat made the remarks at a news conference held in the midst of a busy day of personal appearances

Kefauver said the farm bill passed by Congress would allow the farm secretary to set up a strategic food reserve for the certified needy, the unemployed and for the school lunch programs.

Urgently Needed

"It is urgent that we make food available to the hungry people who are friendly with us, as an instrument of foreign policy," he said.

Kefauver said he thinks there is ample time for Congress to act on the question of sending troops to the Middle East

"There is time to get standby authority to send troops" he said "I think the matter should be submitted to Congress"

The senator spoke at some length on his plans to help small businessmen if he should become president

More than 30,000 small businesses have failed during the past four years because of inability to secure development capital and unfair competition, he said. He recommended lowering taxes on small businesses to give them more capital for development

He said the federal government also should put more teeth in the antitrust laws to keep big firms from "paying their fines with operating expenses and keep going along with their illegal acts"

Kefauver referred to Stevenson's change in campaign plans in favor of more handshaking Kefauver said he hasn't changed his campaign methods and that he intended to keep on meeting as many voters as possible face to face.

Marriage Announced

MRS. ALAN L. HOLT

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Lawson announce the marriage of their daughter, Carolyn Jeanne, to Alan L. Holt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Holt of Holdrege. The ceremony was solemnized on Friday, March 30, at Oakland, Ia.

Mrs. Holt is a student at the Nebraska Methodist Hospital School of Nursing, Omaha.

Mr. Holt and his bride are residing in Omaha.

Lincoln PTA Activities

The April meeting of LAKEVIEW PTA will be held Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the school. Guest speaker will be Mrs. Roy Sheaff who will discuss civil defense.

A panel discussion on teen-age problems was held at the Tuesday meeting of WHITTIER PTA. Speakers were Mrs. Allan Casari, Miss Hildegard Persson and Carl Heinz of the faculty; Mrs. Philip Kelley, representing parents; and Dr. Harold Sandall, minister of Grace Methodist Church.

The group elected the following new officers: Mrs. Roy Ripley, president; Mrs. Merle Kinney, Mrs. Dean Baumeister, first vice presidents; Mrs. Claude Butts, Mrs. E. A. Rockwell, second vice presidents; Mrs. Arthur Whitmer, third vice president; Mrs. Russell McCreight, fourth vice president; Mrs. William Halsted, secretary; Mrs. Roy Weber, treasurer; and Mrs. John Moeller and Mrs. Donald Mook, council representatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Charles were elected co-presidents of PRESCOTT PTA Tuesday evening, and other officers named were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gerstenberger, vice presidents; Miss Verda Metzger, second vice president; Mrs. George Marshall, secretary; Mrs. James Tisdale, treasurer; Mrs. L. L. Yant and Mrs. Fred Bodie Jr., council representatives.

Guest speaker at the meeting was Dr. Galen Saylor, president of the Nebraska Congress of PTA.

To Hear Talk

The Alpha Tau Omega Auxiliary members will meet for a 1 o'clock luncheon on Friday at the chapter house when a program on "Spring Millinery," will be given by Mrs. Marie Calmark.

The group will elect new officers, and hostesses for the luncheon will be Mrs. Howard Cather, Mrs. A. P. Butler, Mrs. T. J. Thompson, Mrs. A. W. Edling and Mrs. Emory K. Peterson.

TOWN TALK

ANOTHER April week-end has arrived and with it a variety of news which, we're sure, you will find of interest. We know that you will want to hear that Dr. Edith Greer is about to take off for Washington, D.C. where she will join the staff of the Office of Public Information and where, naturally, she will reside.

Among the farewell courtesies for Dr. Greer was the luncheon for which Miss Clare McClatchey and Miss Dorothy Holland were hostesses recently when they entertained at the home of Miss Holland.

WE also are certain that Chi Omega alumnae circles in Lincoln will be interested in the list of out of town alumnae who are coming to attend the sorority's 61st annual banquet to be held on Saturday evening at the University Club.

Included among the out-of-towners will be Mrs. Donald Campbell, Mrs. Stanford Nordgren, Mrs. Randis Richards, Mrs. Merle J. Gilliam, all of Omaha; Mrs. Loren Klein, Blair; Mrs. Del Kopf, Cozad; Mrs. Harley Batie, Lexington; Mrs. Harold Holmquist, Oakland; Mrs. B. Owen Cole, Emmet; Mrs. Lee Kjelson, Stromsburg; Mrs. John Peters, Valley; Mrs. Mike Lingenfelter, Plainview; Mrs. John D. Pollock, Norfolk; Miss Elaine Millen, Lyons; Miss Janet Quinn, Hebron; Mrs. N. T. Tiemann, Wausa; Mrs. Donald Smith, Oakland; Mrs. Robert Raun, Norman; Mrs. Donald C. Anderson, Holdrege; Mrs. Charles S. Bardell, Mercer Island, Wash.; Mrs. George H. Greaves, Denver; Miss Helen Scott, Sioux City, Ia.; Mrs. William A. Kuehn, Topeka, Kan., and Mrs. Arthur Bryan, Des Moines, Ia.

WHEN Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Gifford preside at dinner at the Compass Room on Friday evening, it will be a prenuptial courtesy to their daughter, Miss Carol Gifford, and her fiance, Joseph Pellegrino whose marriage will be solemnized on Saturday morning.

Out of town guests at the dinner will include Mr. Pellegrino's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pellegrino, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Ray P. Gifford, Enid, Okla., grandparents of the bride; Mrs. Floyd Jones and her daughter, Miss Janet Jones, also of Enid, and cousins of the bride.

MISS Gifford has been an exceptionally busy bride-elect this week. Last Wednesday evening Mrs. Richard Winslow honored the bride-elect at a dessert supper and a one-gift shower at the home of her mother, Mrs. Charles Beal.

On the preceding Monday Miss Bea Magette complimented Miss Gifford when she entertained at a dessert supper and miscellaneous shower at her home. And on Thursday evening Mrs. Sam Sandlovich and her daughter, Mrs. William Gubser, were hostesses at a dessert supper honoring the bride who was presented with a hostess gift.

Engagement Told

MISS JOYCE SPENCER

Announcement is made this morning by Mrs. Lola Spencer of Arcadia, of the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Joyce, of Lincoln, to Norman D. Sell of Lincoln, son of Mrs. Margaret Sell, also of Arcadia.

The wedding is planned for Sunday, May 20, and the ceremony will take place in Arcadia.

THE STAR IN SUBURBIA

Our feelings about some exciting news from South Hills this morning are a bit mixed — it's a combination of envy and doubt. When we learned that Lt. Col. and Mrs. Jess Baker and their two sons, Danny and Douglas, were packing for their transfer to French Morocco we were corroded with envy — and then we remembered all the things we have been reading about the situation in those parts — and we began wondering if, at the moment, we would trade places with the Bakers — the chances are we would at any given opportunity.

Anyway, the Bakers, all four, leave Lincoln the first of May and will plane from here to New York where they will spend 10 days before boarding the airliner that takes them to Sidi Slimane, French Morocco where they will reside for the next 30 months.

And next Monday there is a farewell courtesy for Mrs. Baker — an 11:30 o'clock brunch and bridge for which Mrs. Dale Hodge, Mrs. Wilmot Paxton and Mrs. Glen Lally will be hostess at the home of Mrs. Dodge. Included in the group of sixteen in addition to the honoree and hostesses, will be Mrs. Paul Stears, Mrs. Paul Burkett, Mrs. Raleigh Smith, Mrs. Beech Thurlow, Mrs. Robert Buckley, Mrs. Ward Beightol, Mrs. Larry Smith, Mrs. Matthew Perry, Mrs. Lee Heridege, Mrs. James Maraist, Mrs. Roy Showalter and Mrs. R. G. Thorpe.

Heard that Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Thompson and their daughter, Jan Lynn, leave today for Santa Ana, Calif., where they will spend two weeks as the guests of Mrs. Thompson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Pollock.

A week-end jaunt to Kansas City has been planned for this week end by Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Arnst and their two children, Vickie and Dennis. On Saturday the high spot will be a baseball game, but the real objective of the trip is a visit with Mrs. Arnst's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Kipper.

Then we heard that Cpl. and Mrs. John Shore, and their daughter, Shelli, have gone to Ardmore, Okla., where Cpl. Shore is to be stationed, after a visit with the corporal's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Smith.

Cpl. Shore returned just two weeks ago from 18 months duty on Guam and in Japan. It was more than just a homecoming for Cpl. Shore — his return to the States meant getting the first glimpse of the year-old Shelli who, with her mother was a guest at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Edie in Greeley, Colo.

Speaking of things military — Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Smith have just received word that their son-in-law, Lyle Boyce, has received his discharge from the Air Force, and that he and Mrs. Boyce will be residing in Mansfield, O.

The young set in South Hills — a few of them at least, were out and about on Wednesday afternoon when David Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carter, celebrated his 11th birthday anniversary with a 4 o'clock-to-6 o'clock party at his home. The affair was strictly stag, and the guest list included Ronni Stall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Stall Jr., John North, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom S. North Jr., Carter Hart Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Carter Hart, and Dennis Arnst, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Arnst.

Lincoln B, PW Elects

Card Party

The Newman Club Mothers will entertain at a benefit card party Friday evening to be held at the Student Union on the University of Nebraska campus. Proceeds from the party will go to the Newman Club Center.

Junior League Entertains Guest

Entertained at luncheon Thursday noon at the Intercom Club was Charles W. Avery of New York City, children's theater consultant for the Association of Junior Leagues of America, who met with the chairmen of the Lincoln League's Children's Theater, radio and puppetry committees.

Thursday evening, Mr. Avery was the guest of the league's executive board members and their husbands at dinner at the Lincoln Country Club. After attending the current production of the league's Children's Theater Friday morning, Mr. Avery will meet with the play's cast and committee members for luncheon at the University Club.

Big County Government Costs Less, Report Shows

By HARRIET ASHLEY
Star Staff Writer

In a report by the Nebraska Citizens Council, it was pointed out that the county government cost per capita was greater for counties with small population than for those Nebraska counties whose population is high

Cost per capita, according to the Council, ranged from $19 93 in McPherson County, with a population of 751, to $2.96 for Lancaster County, with a population of 130,275.

"Our figures suggest that perhaps a substantial tax savings could be brought about by the combining of administrative activities on the part of neighboring counties the report said

The figures were compiled by Leonard D. Bronder, the Council's research director.

"Some consolidation of functions could take place without the wholesale consolidation of two or more counties into a new unit of government," the report said.

Not Bad Administration

Noting that the average expenditure per capita for counties with populations of 5,000 to 10 000 was more than five dollars lower than those with a population of less than 5,000, the report says this does not mean that the smaller counties have poor administration but that the larger counties were more economical operating units of government.

"Past experience shows us that the wiping out of county boundaries and the reorganization of county government will not be achieved for many years due to inertia, apathy and outright opposition," the Council said.

The Council also cited the report of Professor E. B. Schmidt of the University of Nebraska regarding certain factors unfavorable to consolidation.

Prof. Schmidt said the taxpayer must sometimes travel to the county seat, which could be too costly if large areas were consolidated. He also sees a loss of "vested" interests of business men and home owners if the county seat was removed.

The third problem, according to Prof. Schmidt, is the loss a county would incur if it were unable to sell an abandoned courthouse.

The Council suggested the consolidation of certain activities such as the hiring of qualified engineers and the buying of maintenance equipment. He also noted particular needs for improvements in county purchasing, records, personnel and management.

Young Bandit And $66,000 Loot Grabbed

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—A 21-year-old gunman held up the Williamsport National Bank Thursday and fled with $66,000. He was captured six hours later in nearby Lock Haven. State police said all the money, stuffed in a cloth overnight bag, was recovered.

Sgt William G Fink identified the robber as John A Watts, of Williamsport He said Watts admitted the holdup.

Bank officials were called to the Lock Haven state police barracks to reclaim the money, practically all in bills Watts will be brought here later.

State and county police took Watts on the outskirts of Lock Haven from Williamsport, about 30 miles away. Watts jumped out of a box car, crawled underneath to the other side and ran. The police took after him firing in their pursuit, and eventually maneuvered him into an open area. Then they lost him among the parked cars at the Piper plant. A car-by car search, however, led them to an automobile in which Watts lay on the floor He submitted meekly.

The bag of money was found in the box car where Watts had taken refuge.

Bellamy Dies

CLEVELAND (INS) — The retired editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, Paul Bellamy, 71, died of a heart attack.

Mr. Bellamy was the editor of the Plain Dealer from 1933 to 1954, when he retired due to ill health. He was replaced by the present editor Wright Bryan.

The former editor graduated from Harvard in 1906 and came to the the Plain Dealer in 1907. At the age of 26 he became the youngest city editor in the paper's history.

Baumfalk, Garfinkle Named New Members Of Honorary Law Society

Garfinkle

Baumfalk

Robert D. Baumfalk of Lincoln and Allan J. Garfinkle, Leavenworth, Kan., are new members of the Order of the Coif, national honorary law society, it was announced Thursday night.

The two University of Nebraska Law College seniors rank scholastically in the upper 10 per cent of their class.

The announcement was made at the annual awards banquet sponsored by the Lincoln Barristers.

Baumfalk is the son of Mr. and Mrs D. T. Baumfalk. Garfinkle's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Mayer Garfinkle.

Keys

Nebraska Law Review keys were presented to Baumfalk, Domenico Caporale, Willard D. Lorensen and Floyd A. Sterns, all of Lincoln; Marshall D. Becker, Omaha; Deryl F. Hamann, Manson, Ia., and William H. Sherwood, Oxford, Neb.

Receiving Nebraska Law Review certificates were Ira S. Epstein, Omaha; James W. Hewitt, Hastings; Clark G. Nichols, Lincoln; Jerry C. Stirtz, Wayne, and Charles K. Thompson, editor, York.

Gold Keys were given to Baumfalk and Marvin L. Holscher, winners of the 1956 Allen Moot Court competition.

Moot Court finalists Joseph J. Brown and Frank E. Piccolo Jr., both of Lincoln, were presented Silver Keys.

Certificates were presented to the members of the Law College board of advisers.

Honor Professor

The junior class award to the instructor who was exceptionally rated by the class was presented to Prof. David Dow.

Former Gov. Robert Crosby, speaking on a lawyer as a lobbyist, told the law students that "I have my doubts that a lawyer who appears before a legislative committee representing a business client has to register as a lobbyist."

He said "it is impossible for anyone not a lawyer to draft a presentable bill."

The toughest part in the lifetime of a bill is to get the legislative committee sold on it, he said.

"A good lobbyist can make a whale of a lot of difference in the kind of laws we have," he said.

Rivett Named To Supervise Plate Factory

Charles T. Rivett, 30, of 5412 Greenwood, has been named superintendent of the license plate factory at the Men's Reformatory, succeeding C. V. Keller.

Keller, who held the post 16 years, resigned when he became a candidate for the Legislature from the 19th District.

Rivett's appointment is effective April 20.

A graduate of Northeast High School, Rivett has worked the past five years on production machinery at Elgin National Watch Co.

He worked two years with heavy equipment for the Burlington Railroad and did similar work for three years in the Navy.

He is also a graduate of an automotive engineering school in Detroit.

The appointment was announced by Reformatory Superintendent Nichols.

Farther Ahead

CHICAGO (AP)—President Eisenhower drew somewhat farther ahead of Adlai Stevenson in a new tabulation of returns from Tuesday's Illinois preference primary.

The latest tabulation—the final unofficial count—gave Eisenhower 733,267 votes to Stevenson's 703,291 in the popularity test, which is not binding on the delegates to the national conventions.

Missouri Asks For Pershing Memorial

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American Battle Monuments Commission was urged Thursday by Sen Hennings (D-Mo) to select Pershing Park in Linn County, Mo., as the site of a proposed memorial to the late Gen. John J. Pershing.

"The area around Laclede, Mo., where Pershing Park is located, has always been closely associated with Gen. Pershing," Hennings said in a letter to Brig Gen. Thomas North, secretary of the commission

The commission has been authorized to prepare plans for a Pershing Memorial, including recommendation as to a site.

Pershing, commander of the American Expeditionary Force in World War I, was born near Laclede Sept. 13, 1860.

Gov. Victor Anderson had previously requested that Lincoln be the site of the memorial. The governor had pointed out that general made his home in Lincoln for many years and much of his early military life was spent here.

Big County Government Costs Less, Report Shows

By HARRIET ASHLEY
Star Staff Writer

In a report by the Nebraska Citizens Council, it was pointed out that the county government cost per capita was greater for counties with small population than for those Nebraska counties whose population is high.

Cost per capita, according to the Council, ranged from $19.93 in McPherson County, with a population of 751, to $2.96 for Lancaster County, with a population of 130,275.

"Our figures suggest that perhaps a substantial tax savings could be brought about by the combining of administrative activities on the part of neighboring counties the report said.

The figures were compiled by Leonard D. Bronder, the Council's research director.

"Some consolidation of functions could take place without the wholesale consolidation of two or more counties into a new unit of government," the report said.

Not Bad Administration

Noting that the average expenditure per capita for counties with populations of 5,000 to 10,000 was more than five dollars lower than those with a population of less than 5,000, the report says this does not mean that the smaller counties have poor administration but that the larger counties were more economical operating units of government.

"Past experience shows us that the wiping out of county boundaries and the reorganization of county government will not be achieved for many years due to inertia, apathy and outright opposition," the Council said.

The Council also cited the report of Professor E. B. Schmidt of the University of Nebraska regarding certain factors unfavorable to consolidation.

Prof. Schmidt said the taxpayer must sometimes travel to the county seat, which could be too costly if large areas were consolidated. He also sees a loss of "vested" interests of business men and home owners if the county seat was removed.

The third problem, according to Prof. Schmidt, is the loss a county would incur if it were unable to sell an abandoned courthouse.

The Council suggested the consolidation of certain activities such as the hiring of qualified engineers and the buying of maintenance equipment. He also noted particular needs for improvements in county purchasing, records, personnel and management.

Young Bandit And $66,000 Loot Grabbed

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—A 21-year-old gunman held up the Williamsport National Bank Thursday and fled with $66,000. He was captured six hours later in nearby Lock Haven. State police said all the money, stuffed in a cloth overnight bag, was recovered.

Sgt. William G Fink identified the robber as John A. Watts, of Williamsport. He said Watts admitted the holdup.

Bank officials were called to the Lock Haven state police barracks to reclaim the money, practically all in bills. Watts will be brought here later.

State and county police took Watts on the outskirts of Lock Haven from Williamsport, about 30 miles away. Watts jumped out of a box car, crawled underneath to the other side and ran. The police took after him firing in their pursuit, and eventually maneuvered him into an open area. Then they lost him among the parked cars at the Piper plant. A car-by car search, however, led them to an automobile in which Watts lay on the floor. He submitted meekly.

The bag of money was found in the box car where Watts had taken refuge.

Baumfalk, Garfinkle Named New Members Of Honorary Law Society

Garfinkle

Baumfalk

Robert D. Baumfalk of Lincoln and Allan J. Garfinkle, Leavenworth, Kan., are new members of the Order of the Coif, national honorary law society, it was announced Thursday night.

The two University of Nebraska Law College seniors rank scholastically in the upper 10 per cent of their class.

The announcement was made at the annual awards banquet sponsored by the Lincoln Barristers.

Baumfalk is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Baumfalk. Garfinkle's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Mayer Garfinkle.

Keys

Nebraska Law Review keys were presented to Baumfalk, Domenico Caporale, Willard D. Lorensen and Floyd A. Sterns, all of Lincoln; Marshall D. Becker, Omaha; Deryl F. Hamann, Manson, Ia., and William H. Sherwood, Oxford, Neb.

Receiving Nebraska Law Review certificates were Ira S. Epstein, Omaha; James W. Hewitt, Hastings; Clark G. Nichols, Lincoln; Jerry C. Stirtz, Wayne, and Charles K. Thompson, editor, York.

Gold Keys were given to Baumfalk and Marvin L. Holscher, winners of the 1956 Allen Moot Court competition.

Moot Court finalists Joseph J. Brown and Frank E. Piccolo Jr., both of Lincoln, were presented Silver Keys.

Certificates were presented to the members of the Law College board of advisers.

Honor Professor

The junior class award to the instructor who was exceptionally rated by the class was presented to Prof. David Dow.

Former Gov. Robert Crosby, speaking on a lawyer as a lobbyist, told the law students that "I have my doubts that a lawyer who appears before a legislative committee representing a business client has to register as a lobbyist."

He said "it is impossible for anyone not a lawyer to draft a presentable bill."

The toughest part in the lifetime of a bill is to get the legislative committee sold on it, he said.

"A good lobbyist can make a whale of a lot of difference in the kind of laws we have," he said.

Ogallala Needs Industries To Provide Labor For Men

For a town of 4,000 Ogallala displays an impressive amount of industrial activity. But it has a problem in that its industrial employes are principally women. It needs industry that would provide labor for men. The situation is discussed in this, the 9th in a series on industrial projects of Nebraska cities.

By CHARLES HARTLEY
Keith County News, Ogallala

OGALLALA, Neb. (AP) — Ogallala, with an industrial payroll already far in excess of that for any other Nebraska city in the 4,000-population class, is in the role of "matchmaker" as far as further industrial development is concerned.

The Good-All Electric Manufacturing Company and its two subsidiary organizations at Ogallala employ principally women.

Industrial plants employing men almost exclusively, Good-All officials have pointed out, would benefit the labor market for the company and would enable expansion now impossible because labor of the kind needed by Good-All isn't available.

Something for Men Needed

That's the problem the Ogallala Chamber of Commerce is attempting to solve under the leadership of Russell M. Van Every, president, and O. R. Garwood, chairman of the Industrial Development Committee.

The Good-All Company and its two subsidiaries had a combined payroll of 866 persons as of Feb. 25. Of these employes 800 were at the Good-All plant, 41 were at the plant of Chemical Specialities, Inc., and 25 are at the Nebraska Electric Manufacturing Company (NEMCO).

Good-All manufactures a wide variety of electrical supplies such as capacitors, rectifiers, and condensers. In mid-February Good-All established an Electrical-Mechanical division to develop and manufacture industrial and cathodic protection rectifiers, soldering equipment, transformers fishings reels and other miscellaneous equipment.

The Nebraska Electric Manufacturing Company manufactures ceremic disc capacitors to be sold through the Good-All Company. NEMCO in February took over a building formerly used as a ballroom and a skating rink, with 16,000 square feet of floor space to take care of expanded operations.

With plants at Ogallala developed to the full potential under existing labor conditions, Good-All contracts with two plants at Alliance and one at Sutherland to meet growing demands for its products. These three plants employ approximately 600 persons, Good-All officials reports.

Good-All to Help

With industrial plants at Ogallala that would provide labor for men, the number of women available for jobs at Good-All would be increased.

"Good-All will build new industries in Ogallala whenever adequate labor becomes available," Q. T. Wiles, Good-All president, declares.

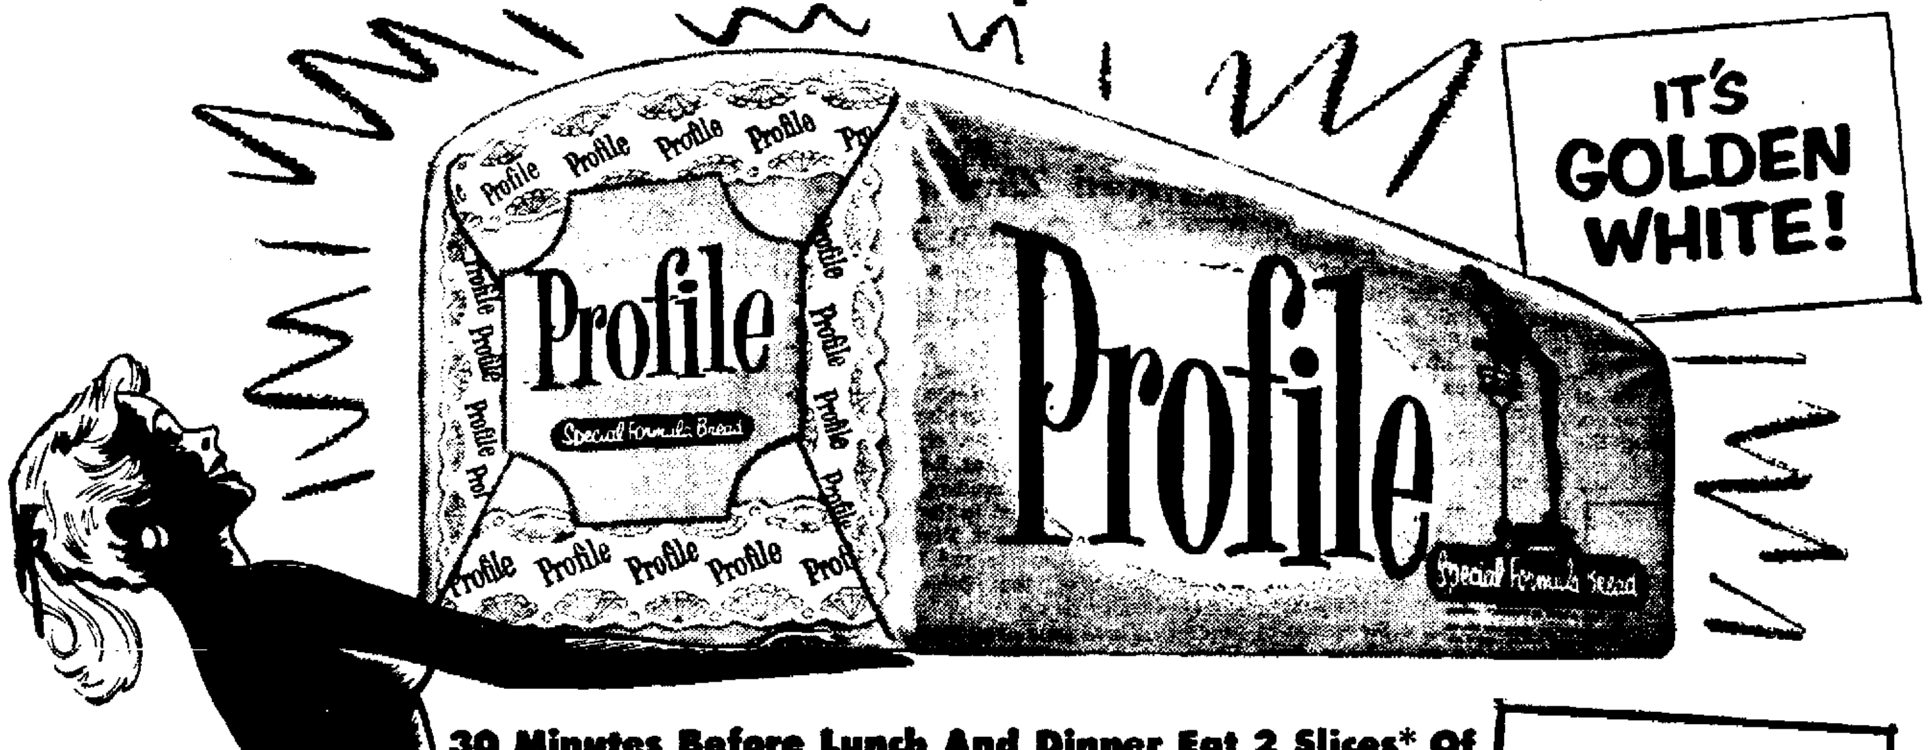
Now! A Bread to HELP YOU Control Weight!

Takes The Place Of Appetite-Appeasement Wafers, Pills, And Tablets That Cost Up To Twice As Much!



30 Minutes Before Lunch And Dinner Eat 2 Slices* Of

Profile
Special Formula Bread

Because Its Protein Helps Normal People To More Effectively Appease The Appetite Control Center Of The Brain —So You Eat Less

Lactalbumin—The Revolutionary New Protein "Booster" From Milk—Gives It A "Higher Protein To Calorie Ratio"

Better For All The Family Because Better In Complete Protein Than Ordinary White And Whole Wheat Breads

In the brain's hypothalamic region, the appetite control center acts, in normal people, to increase your appetite . . . or . . . to reduce your appetite.

Eating some carbohydrate and protein-containing food 30 to 60 minutes before your regular meal is an effective way to reduce your appetite.

Protein helps appease your appetite longer.

The less you crave food . . . the less you eat!

PROFILE SPECIAL FORMULA BREAD DOES JOB FOR LESS

Two slices of Profile Special Formula Bread 30 to 60 minutes before lunch and dinner should appease your appetite control center.

Four slices of Profile Special Formula Bread cost about a nickel. Many wafers, pills, and tablets, used for appetite appeasement, cost up to twice as much to take. Thus, Profile Special Formula Bread curbs appetite for half their cost!

Actually, a one-pound Profile Special Formula Loaf gives you about 24% more complete protein than ordinary whole wheat bread; about 28% more than ordinary white bread. Because it contains the new miracle protein "booster" from milk—lactalbumin.

A loaf supplies about as much complete protein as 3 lamb chops. Note chart at right for vitamin and mineral content. Be sure to eat a well-balanced diet for sufficient vitamins and minerals.

BUY PROFILE SPECIAL FORMULA BREAD FOR ALL THE FAMILY

Buy Profile Special Formula Bread. It costs a few pennies more. And is worth it.

Not only in the exercise of scientific weight control. But because its higher complete protein content is an important aid to health and vitality.

And you'll love the flavor of Profile Special Formula Bread. It is light . . . with a beautiful firm and even texture.

And it toasts perfectly! You'll really rave about Profile Special Formula Bread toast!

KEEP YOUR WAISTLINE IN

Profile Special Formula Bread really works wonders. You won't lose 10 pounds the first week. But you can work for better control of weight through appetite control . . . all of the time.

But see for yourself what Profile Special Formula Bread can do. Get it fresh from your grocer today. You'll be delighted with results.

Ogallala Needs Industries To Provide Labor For Men

For a town of 4,000 Ogallala displays an impressive amount of industrial activity. But it has a problem in that its industrial employes are principally women. It needs industry that would provide labor for men. The situation is discussed in this, the 9th, in a series on industrial projects of Nebraska cities:

By CHARLES HARTLEY
Keith County News, Ogallala

OGALLALA, Neb. (AP) — Ogallala, with an industrial payroll already far in excess of that for any other Nebraska city in the 4,000-population class, is in the role of "matchmaker" as far as further industrial development is concerned.

The Good-All Electric Manufacturing Company and its two subsidiary organizations at Ogallala employ principally women.

Industrial plants employing men almost exclusively, Good-All officials have pointed out, would benefit the labor market for the company and would enable expansion now impossible because labor of the kind needed by Good-All isn't available.

Something for Men Needed

That's the problem the Ogallala Chamber of Commerce is attempting to solve under the leadership of Russell M. Van Every, president, and O. R. Garwood, chairman of the Industrial Development Committee.

The Good-All Company and its two subsidiaries had a combined payroll of 866 persons as of Feb. 29. Of these employes 800 were at the Good-All plant, 41 were at the plant of Chemical Specialities, Inc., and 25 are at the Nebraska Electric Manufacturing Company (NEMCO).

Good-All manufactures a wide variety of electrical supplies such as capacitors, rectifiers, and condensers. In mid-February Good-All established an Electrical-Mechanical division to develop and manufacture industrial and cathodic protection rectifiers, soldering equipment, transformers fishings reels and other miscellaneous equipment.

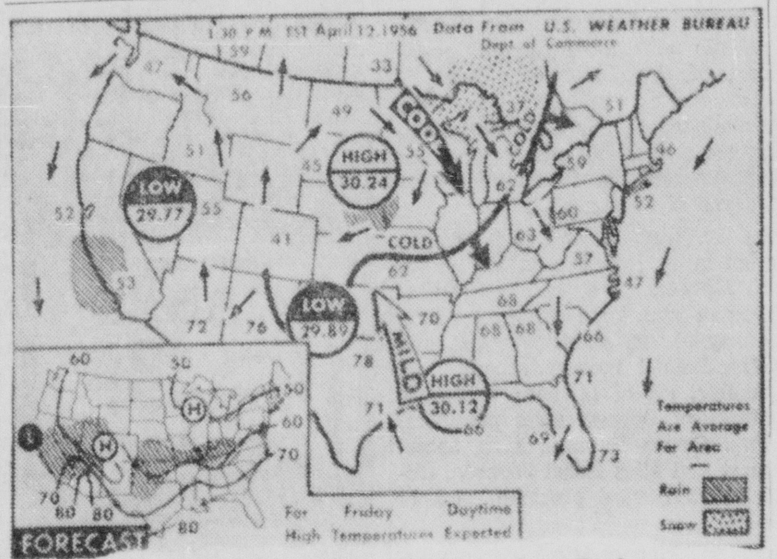
The Nebraska Electric Manufacturing Company manufactures ceremic disc capacitors to be sold through the Good-All Company. NEMCO in February took over a building, formerly used as a ballroom and a skating rink, with 16,000 square feet of floor space to take care of expanded operations.

With plants at Ogallala developed to the full potential under existing labor conditions, Good-All contracts with two plants at Alliance and one at Sutherland to meet growing demands for its products. These three plants employ approximately 600 persons, Good-All officials reports.

Good-All to Help

With industrial plants at Ogallala that would provide labor for men, the number of women available for jobs at Good-All would be increased.

"Good-All will build new industries in Ogallala whenever adequate labor becomes available, Q. T. Wiles, Good-All president, declares.



Some Plains States Expecting Rain

Special Formula Bread

Because Its Protein Helps Normal People To More Effectively Appease The Appetite Control Center Of The Brain —So You Eat Less

Lactalbumin—The Revolutionary New Protein "Booster" From Milk—Gives It A "Higher Protein To Calorie Ratio"

Better For All The Family Because Better In Complete Protein Than Ordinary White And Whole Wheat Breads

In the brain's hypothalamic region, the appetite control center acts, in normal people, to increase your appetite . . . or . . . to reduce your appetite.

Eating some carbohydrate and protein-containing food 30 to 60 minutes before your regular meal is an effective way to reduce your appetite.

Protein helps appease your appetite longer.

The less you crave food . . . the less you eat!

PROFILE SPECIAL FORMULA BREAD DOES JOB FOR LESS

Two slices of Profile Special Formula Bread 30 to 60 minutes before lunch and dinner should appease your appetite control center.

Four slices of Profile Special Formula Bread cost about a nickel. Many wafers, pills, and tablets, used for appetite appeasement, cost up to twice as much to take. Thus, Profile Special Formula Bread curbs appetite for half their cost!

Actually, a one-pound Profile Special Formula Loaf gives you about 24% more complete protein than ordinary whole wheat bread; about 28% more than ordinary white bread. Because it contains the new miracle protein "booster" from milk—lactalbumin.

A loaf supplies about as much complete protein as 3 lamb chops. Note chart at right for vitamin and mineral content. Be sure to eat a well-balanced diet for sufficient vitamins and minerals.

BUY PROFILE SPECIAL FORMULA BREAD FOR ALL THE FAMILY

Buy Profile Special Formula Bread. It costs a few pennies more. And is worth it.

Not only in the exercise of scientific weight control. But because its higher complete protein content is an important aid to health and vitality.

And you'll love the flavor of Profile Special Formula Bread. It is light . . . with a beautiful firm and even texture.

And it toasts perfectly! You'll really rave about Profile Special Formula Bread toast!

KEEP YOUR WAISTLINE IN

Profile Special Formula Bread really works wonders. You won't lose 10 pounds the first week. But you can work for better control of weight through appetite control . . . all of the time.

But see for yourself what Profile Special Formula Bread can do. Get it fresh from your grocer today. You'll be delighted with results.

Stable Prices Sought By Milk Producers

Hearing At Grand Island Continuing

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP)—Milk producers in central Nebraska are not asking for higher prices—only stable prices, Clyde Baldwin of Grand Island declared Thursday at a Department of Agriculture hearing on a request for establishing a federal milk marketing agreement.

Baldwin is manager of the Central Nebraska Non Stock Milk Producers Assn.

He has been on the stand for most of three days describing the milk shed of central Nebraska and its problems. His association is one of two seeking the marketing agreement.

Nebraska News

In response to a question by M. B. Ellerbee of Hastings, representing the Abbott Dairy, Baldwin declared that stability of price rather than higher prices was the goal of producers.

"We are sometimes at the mercy of some grocers largely because you the dairies get nervous," Baldwin said.

Expenses Cited

He cited the expense of keeping up Grade A requirements and said because of this producers need better assurance of good prices.

Baldwin said the price paid milk producers in the Grand Island area is about the same as that in the Omaha area, where a marketing agreement is in effect.

He also was cross-examined by Dale Rasey of Omaha dairy procurement manager for Fairmont Foods. Rasey noted that in order to have enough milk in the fall, producers must have a surplus most of the rest of the year and asked if the farmers are satisfied with that situation.

Baldwin replied that "the producers are never happy over a surplus and never will be. However, with a reasonable price for the surplus I think we can have at year's end an average comparable to what we have now."

Felix Morales and his wife, Jean, look at map of area where they will go as missionaries (Photo Special to The Star)

Midland Senior Will Return To Homeland In Mission Field

FREMONT, Neb — When Felix Morales was 13 he decided he wanted to be a protestant missionary in his native South America.

When he graduates from Midland College this spring he'll be near the final step in the 12 year, 10,000 mile journey he has had to take to achieve his goal. It will have taken him from the inland plain area of his homeland, Columbia, through the United States and into Brazil. And he will have earned three diplomas from United States schools in the process.

Felix, 25, will go to Rio de Janeiro this fall to begin missionary work for the Open Bible Church. He will serve in a mission work there and eventually hopes to start new mission stations and a school in conjunction with them.

The black-haired medium sized, Colombian left his homeland in 1950 to begin study at the Open Bible College in Des Moines, Iowa. He graduated from a high school in Colombia which was operated by the church.

After graduating from the college in Des Moines he enrolled at Midland in 1953. At the same time he was doing his work at the Bible College, he was also studying for a diploma at the Des Moines high school to fulfill United States requirements.

In Fremont and the area he has become well known as a religious speaker and has talked in churches and church institutions on an average of once a week for the past two years.

Felix will take his wife, the former Jean Cross, of Des Moines, Iowa and their son, Paul, to Brazil with him. Jean and Felix met when they were students at college in Des Moines.

Restoration Of Nemaha Bridge Appears Nearer

FALLS CITY, Neb (AP) — Sen Carl Curtis (R-Neb) has informed Archibald J. Weaver of Falls City that the Department of Army has given a favorable recommendation to the restoration of the bridge at the mouth of the Nemaha river, south of Rulo at federal expense.

The bridge was destroyed by high waters in 1950 through a misunderstanding over the authority of the corps of army engineers to enter into certain commitments with regard to altering the span.

However, Sen Curtis informed Weaver that the Department of Army is opposed to a $40,000 grant included in the bill in the Senate and House to remodel and alter another span in the immediate area.

Sen Curtis said that the Bureau of the Budget concurs in the view of the Department of Army. He has suggested that the compromise be accepted.

Walker To Spend Year In Bolivia

HOLDREGE, Neb. (UP)—Irving Walker, former Holdrege businessman, has been assigned a post with the Point-4 program under the U. S. Department of Agriculture for a year's service in Bolivia, South America. Walker and his family recently returned to Holdrege after completing three year's service at New Delhi, India, on a similar assignment.

The Walkers are now in Washington, D. C., and plan to leave for South America in July. Walker a former farm store owner here, is a former president of the Holdrege Chamber of Commerce. He was employed with the U. S. Soil Conservation Service before coming to Holdrege.

Dog Issue Placed On Kearney Ballot

KEARNEY, Neb (AP) — Kearney voters will have a chance to vote in the May 15 primary election on whether they want dogs to run free or be restricted during the warmer months of the year.

The City Council decided this week to put a proposal on the ballot asking. "Shall dogs be prohibited from running at large in the city between April 1 and Sept. 30 each year."

The city manager told the council the returns could serve as a guide to the council in setting up provisions of a proposed dog ordinance.

York School Bond Election May 16

YORK, Neb — Date for the special $575,000 York school bond election has been set for Wednesday, May 16, according to officials of the Board of Education.

The action by the board was the result of the signed petitions presented to the school board and the recommendation of the Citizens' Advisory Council that a special election be held in May.

Curfew Law Enforcement Is Ordered

COLUMBUS, Neb (AP)—The Columbus City Council has instructed the police department to begin stricter enforcement of the curfew law which requires that boys and girls under 17 be home by 10:30 p.m.

Chief of Police Kenneth Simpson said officials are not particularly perturbed about any juvenile problem at this time but the step is being taken so that occasional incidents will not build up into a problem.

Violators of the curfew will be taken to the police station and their parents will be asked to come and get them.

Simpson said youths in cars as well as on the street will be checked and parents will be notified even if the offenders are not picked up.

Wayne Rural Teachers Elect Illa Dorman

Someone pays for trading stamps—Beechner customers DO NOT!

SIMPLE ARITHMETIC—suppose a grocery store doing $10,000 a week introduces stamps and increases its volume by 20% or $2,000 per week—the extra cost of the additional $2,000 at 2½% of sales would be $300 or 15%. The typical profit ratio of grocers is less than 2% making it obvious that the cost of stamps must be offset somewhere—the customer must pay for the stamps.

CAP Roast Beef.........12 oz. can 39c

Someone pays for trading stamps—Beechner customers DO NOT!

SIMPLE ARITHMETIC—suppose a grocery store doing $10,000 a week introduces stamps and increases its volume by 20% or $2,000 per week—the extra cost of the additional $2,000 at 2½% of sales would be $300 or 15%. The typical profit ratio of grocers is less than 2% making it obvious that the cost of stamps must be offset somewhere—the customer must pay for the stamps.

unless otherwise specified or sold out and unable to replace

Tomorrow serve FRENCH WAFFLES this delicious Staley® Way!

1, DIP—Beat 2 eggs. Add 1 cup milk, 1 tsp. sugar, ⅛ tsp. salt. Butter 2 sides 6-8 slices bread. Dip and turn in the mixture.

2, BAKE—Place slices on moderately hot waffle iron and bake long enough so slices are golden brown.

3, SERVE—Now pour on plenty of Staley's famous Sweetose Waffle Syrup. Extra delicious!

Liquid Miracle! No washday powder ever made can give you the concentrated washing power of new blue instant liquid Wisk

The instant Wisk hits water, it bursts into millions of wet, live, liquid suds, liquid suds with concentrated washing power that get out dirt and stains dry, lazy, powder suds can't even budge.

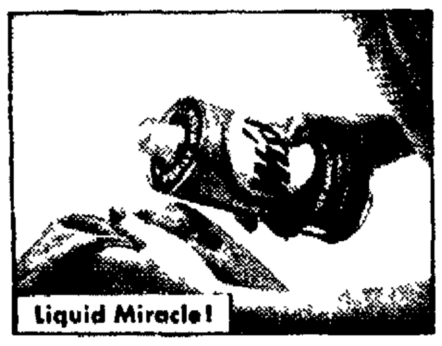
You will pour Wisk into your washer. It will get your family wash so clean and white that you will never use a powder detergent again!

Liquid Miracle!

WISK washes clothes whiter than any powder ever made! Without bluing or bleach, it gets white things up to three shades whiter with the very first wash!

Liquid Miracle!

WISK rinses away cleaner than any powder ever made! WISK rinses away as only a liquid can! Leaves no undissolved powder or soap scum to scorch when ironing.



Liquid Miracle!

WISK removes more stains than any powder! Wet stain with water. Spread WISK directly on stain. Put in machine with rest of wash. WISK gets everything clean.

Liquid Miracle!

WISK is safer, much safer, than any powder ever made! WISK is safe as only a liquid can be, safe for anything that's safe in water. Kind to hands. And no sneezes!

New, blue WISK is different from anything you ever tried. In the first place, it is a liquid you pour into your washer. It goes to work instantly. No waiting for powders to dissolve.

But, more important, new WISK is concentrated. It does three times as much wash as the same amount of powder. And does it better, too. For it gives you a concentrated washing power unequaled by any powder. Besides, new WISK is safe for hands, safe for fabrics—safe as only a liquid can be.

MAKES ANY WASHER TURN OUT A CLEANER AND A WHITER FAMILY WASH

Never again need you find a gravy spot left in a just-washed napkin, or a lipstick stain in a hand towel, or a grease spot in a suit of coveralls. For concentrated liquid WISK penetrates deep into cloth fibers in a way no powder can. Safely, thoroughly, it pulls out stubborn stains and hidden dirt, gets everything clean.

And wait till you see what WISK does for shirt collars and cuffs! Without bluing or bleach, it gets white things up to three shades whiter with the first wash. In fact, WISK gets all your family wash so clean it even smells clean.

FIRST REALLY ALL-PURPOSE DETERGENT!

You will use WISK for just about everything! It makes quick work of dishes: Soaks them clean. Concentrated WISK wipes grease off a stove or kitchen wall. It makes old, discolored linoleum look new. It gets yellowed kitchen cabinets white and shiny again.

WISK does the toughest jobs quicker, easier, more safely than products designed for these tasks. Now you can throw away those harsh and dangerous chemicals!

NO MORE MESSY, SNEEZY POWDERS!

And what a blessing WISK is. It does away with "washday hay fever" . . . with clumsy, soggy boxes . . . with messy powders that spill. And because WISK does so many jobs so well, you don't have to clutter your shelves with all those boxes and bottles you used to need.

WISK IS UNCONDITIONALLY GUARANTEED!

We've promised a good deal for WISK and we mean it. In fact, we guarantee it! If you don't agree that WISK is the best detergent you've ever used – not just as good, but the BEST! – we at Lever Brothers will return the purchase price to you . . . plus postage!

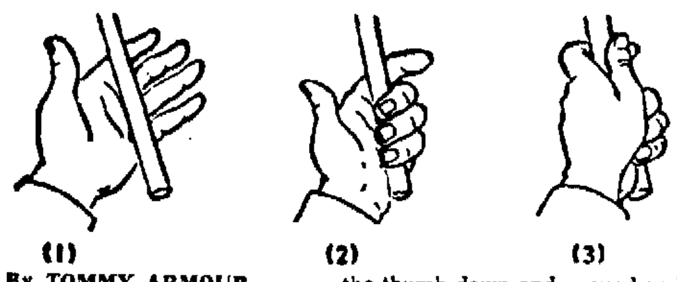
KNOW YOUR GOLF



By TOMMY ARMOUR
(Sixth of a series)

The function of the left hand is control and our sketches show how that control is achieved in the grip. Ground the club and let it lie diagonally across your left hand as in fig. 1. Next wrap the last three fingers snugly around the club (fig. 2). Finally bring the thumb down and around as in fig. 3, so that the V of the thumb and forefinger points to your right shoulder. Control should be felt principally in those last three fingers rather than in thumb and forefinger. A good exercise for developing finger strength and control is to squeeze a rubber ball 10 times in rapid succession as often as you get the chance.

AAU Protocol Satisfied By Exchange Of Cables

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — Australia's great John Landy, the center of a rhubarb over international protocol, definitely will run on the Pacific Coast next month, the president of the Amateur Athletic Union said Thursday.

"There was never any question of our desire to have this fine amateur athlete, this world figure appear in this country," said Carl Hansen of Los Angeles. "I think we can say for sure that Landy will race here. We have ironed out the difficulty by cable."

Hansen, who attended the AAU boxing championships Wednesday night in Boston, is here for meetings with Dan Farris, secretary-treasurer of the AAU, and with the U. S. Olympic Committee, which convenes Saturday and Sunday.

Ferris threw up a danger signal Wednesday after a private promoter in San Francisco had announced that the Australian school teacher, the world's fastest miler, would compete in the Southern California Relays at Los Angeles May 5 and the West Coast Relays at Fresno, Calif., May 12.

Ferris said the arrangements for Landy's appearances had been made without going through proper channels and in violation of international amateur procedures.

"Dan was exactly right," Hansen said. "We can't have individuals running around signing up athletes for international competition. Our operations would be a complete mess. We have to do these things through proper organizations."

Hansen said cables had been exchanged with the amateur body of Australia, assuring Landy's visit. "We still must go through the normal routines—but this can be done after the fact, so to speak."

"I'm sure everything will work out satisfactorily," added Ferris, who conferred with Hansen on other AAU matters. He said he had not yet received the request—reportedly in the mails—from Los Angeles.

Landy, who has run the mile in 3:58 and who has cracked the 4-minute mark in four of his last five races, was invited here by Pete Rozelle, an airlines public relations officia who is helping promote the Melbourne Olympics in this country

Rozelle acknowledged he had acted hastily in making the announcement before completing AAU red tape but said, "We had little time and thought we could do the other afterwards."

The proper procedure calls for the request to be made first to the district association—in this case, the Central California Assn., governing Fresno, and Southern California Assn., governing Los Angeles. The matter is then referred to the National AAU headquarters here, which issues a formal invitation to the AAU in Australia.

Cimoli Is Star In Brooklyn Win

BALTIMORE (AP) — Rockie Gino Cimoli substituted for Duke Snider Thursday night and drove in five runs while two southpaw pitchers also trying to make the Brooklyn Dodgers held the Baltimore Orioles to four hits for a 7 2 exhibition baseball victory.

Chuck Templeton and Ken Lehman each gave up only two hits to the Orioles before 22,548 fans in nippy weather of low 50-degree temperature.

Cimoli, who has failed to stay with the Dodgers after several spring tryouts, delivered a triple in the first inning with the bases loaded. Junior Gilliam scored before that on a single, stolen base and single by Pee Wee Reese as the Dodgers took a 4-0 lead on lefty Bill Wight of the Orioles.

By Don Bryant

Sports Editor, The Star

(Editor's note: Today's column is by Star Sports Staff Member Ron Speer, substituting for Editor Don Bryant, who is en route to the Lincoln Chiefs' spring training headquarters at Huntsville, Tex.)

Joe Ponsiego, Clay Center coach, becomes extremely loquacious when discussing the merits of his three-sport athlete, Duane Buchtel.

"He's the most underrated athlete in the state," Joe declared in a recent meeting. "I think he was the best high school football player in Nebraska last fall—and the interest several colleges have shown in him will back me up."

Buchtel was a standout halfback on the Class D Clay Center team which fared well against several Class B and C clubs. He's quite a basketball player, too.

"He and Jerry Collier of Falls City were the top two players I saw," Ponsiego claims. "We didn't come to the state tournament and Duane didn't get a chance to show how good he is, but now that track season is here I hope he gets the recognition he deserves."

There's no doubt on that score. Buchtel has tossed the shot 51-6½, heaved the discus 144-1½ feet, and won the dash and hurdle events in several early meets.

Last spring the 190-pound Buchtel was expected to press Bartley's Ernie Wach for the shot put title in the state meet. But he was sidelined with the mumps shortly before the meet opened, and Wach established a new mark of 55-5

Buchtel is bucking some rugged competition with the weight this year too. He is one of four to pass the 50-foot barrier, with Beatrice's Larry Fisher leading the pack with a 54-5¼ throw.

"I still think Duane will hit the 55-foot mark with the shot, because he has the speed (:10.7 in the 100-yard dash) and power to do it," Ponsiego said. "But this year it looks like a 55-footer won't win the Gold Medal," he added somewhat disappointedly.

A pair of Lincoln teen-age brothers could probably make most of us weekend golfers look a littl foolish on a golf course.

Bud Williamson Jr., 16, and his brother Tommy, 13, can really pilot that little white ball around the links.

Bud recently toured the Pioneers course in 38-35—73, the top score reported at the course this spring. A junior at Lincoln High, Bud is the No. 1 man on the Link golf team, and fired the blazing 73 in a dual match with Northeast.

Tommy can't match his brother's play yet——but give him a few years to practice. He already manages to score in the low eighties, and his staunchest fan—his father—says he shows signs of becoming a great golfer.

And Dad should know. He's Bud Williamson Sr., golf pro at the Lincoln Country Club.

"Bud didn't care for golf too much when he was younger," Bud Sr. said in discussing the boys' golfing habits. "But lately he's become very interested and is working very hard at the game. His best score is a 70 or 71.

"Matter of fact," Bud Sr. joked, "I'm not sure I can beat Bud right now, since I get to play very little after the course gets busy."

The Williamsons would make a mighty fine threesome to watch, no matter whether Dad, Bud or Tommy won honors.

There's only one thing that bothers me about the coaching change at Lincoln High; I still can't spell the head football coach's name.

The arrangement of the letters in Phieff—nope, Pfieff—oops, P-F-E-I-F-F, darn it, was always a mystery to me. Whether I'll be able to master Schwartzkoff — Swartzkopf—S-C-H-W-A-R-T-Z-K-O-P-F — that's it, remains to be seen.

HASTINGS — Grand Island won its sixth straight Central Nebraska track and field meet here Thursday with 43½ points.

Lincoln High took second in the 43rd running of the meet with 34½ points. The Links were runners-up despite scoring only two first places.

The shot and discus throwers captured the fancy of the spectators. Larry Fisher's winning tosses in both weight events were the best recorded by Nebraska prepsters this year.

The Beatrice redhead, a 16-year-old 245-pound junior, heaved the shot 54-5¼ in a duel with Grand Island's Don Olson. Olson was the previous prep leader with 54-2, but the best he could do Thursday was 53-5¼.

Both Fisher and Olson surpassed the 20-year-old shot put record of 53-3, set by retiring Lincoln High football Coach Bill Pfeiff.

Fisher had a winning discus throw of 151-3½. Lincoln High's Joe Gacusana was leading with 148-7½ until Fisher's final throw.

The weight field, one of the best ever assembled in a Nebraska high school meet, was so strong that all five discus throwers in the money topped 140 feet.

Buchtel had 144-1½, Nick Gangwish of Gibbon was credited with 143-½ and Dick Egen of Hastings reached 142-½.

Fisher was one of three double winners. Bob Eyth, his Beatrice teammate, slammed the sprints. Larry Feaster of Grand Island copped the hurdle events.

Pole vaulters from North Platte and Hastings established 1956 prep bests.

The Bulldogs' Jon Jones and Hastings' Darrell Krueger soared 11-6½ to tie for first place.

The Links' mile relay team, aided by a blazing third leg by Dean Sell, also established a new prep best and set a record.

The Lincoln team set a record of 3:34.5 which erased Hastings' 1955 mark of 3:35.2. The sturdy Sell was 10 yards behind a Hastings runner but ran an unofficial :52.7 quarter and finished the lap with a 15-yard lead.

Bob Brown of Hastings and Larry Feaster of Grand Island tied records during the meet. Brown clipped off a 52 flat quarter to tie the 20-year-old record set by Milo Hejkal of Hastings. Feaster tied his own 1955 record of :21.1 in the low hurdles during the preliminaries.

100-yard dash—Won by Bob Eyth, Beatrice; 2—Jerry Renfroe, North Platte; 3—Ed Kester, Cambridge; 4—Roy Owens, Harvard; 5 — Wayne Campbell, Grand Island. Time—:10.2.

180-yard low hurdles—Won by Larry Feaster, Grand Island; 2—Bob Siggins, Grand Island; 3—Dave Marsh, Hastings; 4—Doug Dickerson, Sumner; 5—Bill Peterson, Beatrice. Time—:21.1. (Feaster's preliminary time of :21.1 tied own record set in 1955).

880-yard relay—Won by North Platte; 2—Lincoln; 3—Grand Island; 4—Hastings; 5—Beatrice. Time—1:35.2.

Mile relay—Won by Lincoln (Jack Muck, Carl True, Dean Sell, Joe Gacusana); 2—Hastings; 3—Cambridge; 4—Grand Island; 5—Sumner. Time—3:34.5. (Betters record of 3:35.2, set by Hastings in 1955).

Two-mile relay (Exhibition)—Won by Lincoln; 2—Hastings; 3—Minden; 4—North Platte. Time—8:52.7.

Field Events

High jump—Tie for 1st and 2nd between Mike Brott, North Platte and Bill Naviaux, North Platte; 3—Delton Blank, Wilcox; 4—Don Brown, Davenport; tie for 5th among Ron Gleason, Hardy; Dean Petersen, Hardy; Richard Schr[illegible], Hastings St. Cecilia; Stan Tenopir, Harvard; Wayne Wit, Beatrice; Jack Osborne, Hastings; and Gary Graham, Superior. Height—5-9½.

Broad jump—Won by Roger Massey, Grand Island; 2—Ron Gilmore, Hastings St. Cecilia; 3—Larry Feaster, Grand Island; 4—Dan Arnold, Minden; 5—Ken Shoemaker, Sumner. Distance—21-0.

Pole vault—Tie for 1st and 2nd between Jon Jones, North Platte and Darrell Krueger, Hastings; tie for 3rd and 4th between Bill Swanson, Lincoln and Doug Dickerson, Sumner; tie for 5th between Mark Zook, Grand Island and Jerry Johnson, North Platte Height—11-6½.

Shot put—Won by Larry Fisher, Beatrice; 2—Don Olson, Grand Island; 3—Duane Buchtel, Clay Center; 4—Andy Mattisons, Lincoln; 5—Gus Talazs, Lincoln. Distance—54-5¼. (Betters record of 53-3 set by Bill Pfeiff of Lincoln in 1936).

Discus—Won by Larry Fisher, Beatrice; 2—Joe Gacusana, Lincoln; 3—Duane Buchtel, Clay Center; 4—Nick Gangwish, Gibbon; 5—Dick Egen, Hastings. Distance—151-3½.

Doctor Examines Doby's Hand

Dr. Eugene P. Liberthal, dermatologist ,examines the right hand of Chicago White Sox outfielder Larry Doby at Mercy Hospital in Chicago Thursday. Doby is afflicted with a chronic skin infection which affects the palm of his hand between the index and middle fingers. Doby said he contracted the irritation in the South Pacific during World War II but frequent attacks have not been serious. He will be lost to the White Sox for an indefinite period. (AP Wirephoto.)

Twin Hurlers Are Optioned To Lincoln

A set of twins, Deward and Donald Williams, have been optioned to the Lincoln Chiefs by New Orleans of the Southern Association, Chiefs' General Manager Dick Wagner announced Thursday.

The twins are pitchers. One will be a familiar sight at Sherman Field, the other a newcomer.

Deward, better known as Dewey, wound up with 1955 season with the Chiefs. After a weak start when he reported late in July, Dewey compiled a 3-5 record, losing three well-pitched games late in the race.

In 70 innings Dewy gave up just 60 hits, striking out 55 and walking just 25.

The brothers Williams came out of college in 1953 and joined Charleston in the Class A Sally League. Neither saw much duty and they entered the Army together in 1953.

When they were discharged in the summer of 1955, Dewy came to Lincoln. But Donald suffered a back injury in service and was advised to play out of baseball for the rest of the 1955 season.

Now they are back together again, bidding for berths with the Chiefs.

Both boys are 6 foot 2 and weigh near 185. They are 23 years old.

They bring to seven the number of pitchers now slated for the trip North.

Other hurlers are Bill Nordberg, Dick Drilling, Andy Olsen, Don Rowe and Bennie Daniels.

Also pretty well set for the opening gun are Catchers Marcos Cobos and Joe Zavattaro, Second Baseman Kenny Toothman, Third Baseman Ray Swarts.

11th Inning Walk Beats Giants 8-7

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Southpaw Jim Constable walked Chico Carrasquel with the bases full and one out in the 11th inning Thursday to force Rocky Colavito across the plate and give the Cleveland Indians an 8-7 victory over the New York Giants.

The game ended the annual spring barnstorming series between the two clubs with the Indians holding an 11-8 edge. Today the Giants play the Senators in Washington while the Indians remain here to open a weekend series with the Milwaukee Braves.

Heavy Slate For Local Prepsters

Local prepsters are slated for track, baseball, golf and tennis action today.

University High is hosting Seward Concordia in a track meet at the Universty of Nebraska track.

Southeast baseballers play Lincoln High on the Links field; Southeast journeys to Fairbury for a dual tennis meet and Southeast, Lincoln High, Northeast and Fremont golfers will vie on the Pioneers course.

Yankee Power Defeats Reds

CINCINNATI (AP) — The New York Yankees used their home run power Thursday to offset the wobbly pitching of Mickey McDermott and Jim Konstanty as they edged out an 8-7 victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Home runs boomed off the bats of Mickey Mantle, Elston Howard, Bill Skowron and Hank Bauer. It was Bauer's eighth-inning blast which broke a 7-7 tie and gave the Yanks their margin of victory.

Mantle's wallop in the fourth was a towering drive which sailed high over the right-center field wall just beyond the 390-foot mark. It was matched in distance, however, by the Reds' Wally Post when he hit a two-run homer in the sixth which went well over the scoreboard in center field. It is about 385 feet to the scoreboard.

Braves Win 7-5 Over Detroit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — —Ray Crone and Lou Sleater combined to put the Detroit Tigers down without a hit in the last six innings Thursday night as the Milwaukee Braves won their exhibition meeting, 7-5.

Eddie Mathews, with a three run homer in the third, and Bobby Thomson, who drove over two tie-breaking runs in the seventh, featured Milwaukee's 10-hit attack.

Leftie Chet Nichols permitted all Tiger runs as they picked up two in the second and added three in the third. Detroit had seven hits

Milwaukee scored one run in the second and drove Tiger starter Frank Lary from the mound in the third with four more.

Field Trials For Retrievers This Weekend

The Nebraska Dog & Hunt Club's two-day licensed retriever field trial starts Saturday at 8 a.m. at the club's trial grounds, 1½ miles north of Highway 6 on 48th St.

In number of entries, this will be the largest retriever field trial ever held by the Nebraska Dog and Hunt Club.

In the derby stake, for dogs under two years old, 15 entries have been received, and 28 dogs are entered in the qualifying stake.

In the open all age stake, which begins Sunday at 8 a.m., there will be 35 dogs competing. Among the entries in this stake is King Buck, a black Labrador from Brighton, Ill., who was the national retriever champion during 1953 and 1954.

Four other dogs in this stake are field trial champions. Many of the retriver dogs running in the open all age stake are valued from $6,000 to $10,000.

The public has been invited to see the trials.

Sherman-Howard Opens Sunday

FARWELL — The Sherman-Howteams, will open play Sunday with games scheduled at Scotia, Ashton, Elba and Palmer.

The Sherman-Howard League is larger than it has been since 1952, when 10 teams competed. Games will be played Sunday nights.

Scotia is planning to install lights for night play.

Each Team will play 16 games. At the end of the season the top four teams will compete in a playoff. Trophies will be awarded to the regular-season and playoff champions.

Major Clubs Near Home After Training Junkets

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — New names like Don Buddin, Charley Neal and Ted Kazanski and old familiar names like Hank Sauer, Larry Doby and Early Wynn are in the news as the ball clubs near home on their long spring training junkets.

Washington played a home game Wednesday night and Cincinnati and Baltimore appeared before the home fans Thursday. Over the weekend all major league parks will see action except in Boston, Detroit, Philadelphia, St. Louis and New York's Polo Grounds.

The managers anxiously await a chance to see how the new phenoms look against a background of double or triple decked stands and now they perform on big league infields.

Buddin, one of the best of the new rookie crop, already has the good word from Mike Higgins Boston manager, that he will open the season as regular shortstop for the Red Sox. That leaves Billy Klaus, the 1955 wonder boy, to fight it out with rookie Frank Malzone for third base.

Actually, Higgins had made up his mind about Buddin 10 days ago in Florida. The scrappy 21-year-old clinched the job by hitting .323 in the exhibition season.

Much has been written about Neal, Brooklyn's new second base man. Now it becomes definite that he has chased Junior Gilliam out of the infield, at least temporarily. Gilliam promptly moved to left field when Sandy Amoros was injured and hit so consistently that he will open in the outfield. where he played part of last season.

If fans remember Kazanski at all, it would be as the bonus shortstop who didn't make it with the Phillies. He's back again, this time as a second baseman and a regular in the Phils' infield. Ted 22, still must prove he can hit big league pitching.

The St. Louis Cardinals have been a pleasant surprise in spring training with the best won-lost record of any team in the majors. If Hank Sauer can provide the type of right-handed power hitting that he showed Wednesday against Chicago's White Sox in Denver, they can be rough. Big Hank followed Stan Musial's homer with one of his own off Jack Harshman.

Sox Brass Worried

Doane To Host Midland Friday

CRETE—Doane College officially opens its home spring sports program Friday when the Tigers entertain Midland in a dual track meet. Events are scheduled to begin at 2:00 p.m.

Coach Al Papik's cinder men have had one outing thus far, when they were edged by Hastings at the Bronco oval. However, the Tigers were impressive with six firsts in the track and field events.

Coach Addison's baseball squad will make its first home appearance April 17, when they entertain Midland. The game is scheduled for 3:00 p.m.

The tennis squad will see its first home action when it entertains Creighton April 24.

Chiefs Cop Shutout In First Game

Lincoln Star Special

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. — The Lincoln Chiefs won their first exhibition game of the season Thursday shutting out the Sam Houston State College Bearcats, 5-0.

Thirdbaseman Sandy McDevitt and Shortstop Don Swarts led the Chiefs' 10-hit attack. McDevitt had two doubles and a single while Swarts had a pair of two-baggers and two runs batted in.

Harry Gilbert pitched five innings of no-hit, no-run baseball for the Chiefs and Lefty Andy Olsen finished up, allowing four hits.

Lincoln scored a run in the first on McDevitt's lead-off double and Swarts' first two-bagger. The Chiefs counted two more in the second on a single by catcher Joe Zavatarro, an error on Gilbert's bouncer, and a single by McDevitt.

The final two runs came in the last inning on a single by Sam Miley, a double by McDevitt driving in Miley, and a single by Kenny Toothman.

Sam Houston never offered a threat with only one man getting as far as third base. The Bearcats used three hurlers in the game.

The two teams meet again Sunday at 1 p.m.

The function of the left hand is control and our sketches show how that control is achieved in the grip. Ground the club and let it lie diagonally across your left hand as in fig. 1. Next wrap the last three fingers snugly around the club (fig. 2). Finally bring the thumb down and around as in fig. 3, so that the V of the thumb and forefinger points to your right shoulder. Control should be felt principally in those last three fingers rather than in thumb and forefinger. A good exercise for developing finger strength and control is to squeeze a rubber ball 10 times in rapid succession as often as you get the chance.

AAU Protocol Satisfied By Exchange Of Cables

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — Australia's great John Landy, the center of a rhubarb over international protocol, definitely will run on the Pacific Coast next month, the president of the Amateur Athletic Union said Thursday.

"There was never any question of our desire to have this fine amateur athlete, this world figure appear in this country," said Carl Hansen of Los Angeles. "I think we can say for sure that Landy will race here. We have ironed out the difficulty by cable."

Hansen, who attended the AAU boxing championships Wednesday night in Boston, is here for meetings with Dan Farris, secretary-treasurer of the AAU, and with the U. S. Olympic Committee, which convenes Saturday and Sunday.

Ferris threw up a danger signal Wednesday after a private promoter in San Francisco had announced that the Australian school teacher, the world's fastest miler, would compete in the Southern California Relays at Los Angeles May 5 and the West Coast Relays at Fresno, Calif., May 12.

Ferris said the arrangements for Landy's appearances had been made without going through proper channels and in violation of international amateur procedures.

"Dan was exactly right," Hansen said. "We can't have individuals running around signing up athletes for international competition. Our operations would be a complete mess. We have to do these things through proper organizations."

Hansen said cables had been exchanged with the amateur body of Australia, assuring Landy's visit. "We still must go through the normal routines—but this can be done after the fact, so to speak."

"I'm sure everything will work out satisfactorily," added Ferris, who conferred with Hansen on other AAU matters. He said he had not yet received the request—reportedly in the mails—from Los Angeles.

Landy, who has run the mile in 3:58 and who has cracked the 4-minute mark in four of his last five races, was invited here by Pete Rozelle, an airlines public relations officia who is helping promote the Melbourne Olympics in this country

Rozelle acknowledged he had acted hastily in making the announcement before completing AAU red tape but said, "We had little time and thought we could do the other afterwards."

The proper procedure calls for the request to be made first to the district association—in this case, the Central California Assn., governing Fresno, and Southern California Assn., governing Los Angeles. The matter is then referred to the National AAU headquarters here, which issues a formal invitation to the AAU in Australia.

Cimoli Is Star In Brooklyn Win

BALTIMORE (AP) — Rookie Gino Cimoli substituted for Duke Snider Thursday night and drove in five runs while two southpaw pitchers also trying to make the Brooklyn Dodgers held the Baltimore Orioles to four hits for a 7 2 exhibition baseball victory.

Chuck Templeton and Ken Lehman each gave up only two hits to the Orioles before 22,548 fans in nippy weather of low 50-degree temperature.

Cimoli, who has failed to stay with the Dodgers after several spring tryouts, delivered a triple in the first inning with the bases loaded. Junior Gilliam scored before that on a single, stolen base and single by Pee Wee Reese as the Dodgers took a 4-0 lead on lefty Bill Wight of the Orioles.

Sports Editor, The Star

(Editor's note: Today's column is by Star Sports Staff Member Ron Speer, substituting for Editor Don Bryant, who is en route to the Lincoln Chiefs' spring training headquarters at Huntsville, Tex.)

Joe Ponsiego, Clay Center coach, becomes extremely loquacious when discussing the merits of his three-sport athlete, Duane Buchtel.

"He's the most underrated athlete in the state," Joe declared in a recent meeting. "I think he was the best high school football player in Nebraska last fall—and the interest several colleges have shown in him will back me up."

Buchtel was a standout halfback on the Class D Clay Center team which fared well against several Class B and C clubs. He's quite a basketball player, too.

"He and Jerry Collier of Falls City were the top two players I saw," Ponsiego claims. "We didn't come to the state tournament and Duane didn't get a chance to show how good he is, but now that track season is here I hope he gets the recognition he deserves."

There's no doubt on that score. Buchtel has tossed the shot 51-6½, heaved the discus 144-1½ feet, and won the dash and hurdle events in several early meets.

Last spring the 190-pound Buchtel was expected to press Bartley's Ernie Wach for the shot put title in the state meet. But he was sidelined with the mumps shortly before the meet opened, and Wach established a new mark of 55-5

Buchtel is bucking some rugged competition with the weight this year, too. He is one of four to pass the 50-foot barrier, with Beatrice's Larry Fisher leading the pack with a 54-5¼ throw.

"I still think Duane will hit the 55-foot mark with the shot, because he has the speed (:10.7 in the 100-yard dash) and power to do it," Ponsiego said. "But this year it looks like a 55-footer won't win the Gold Medal," he added somewhat disappointedly.

A pair of Lincoln teen-age brothers could probably make most of us weekend golfers look a littl foolish on a golf course.

Bud Williamson Jr., 16, and his brother Tommy, 13, can really pilot that little white ball around the links.

Bud recently toured the Pioneers course in 38-35—73, the top score reported at the course this spring. A junior at Lincoln High, Bud is the No. 1 man on the Link golf team, and fired the blazing 73 in a dual match with Northeast.

Tommy can't match his brother's play yet—but give him a few years to practice. He already manages to score in the low eighties, and his staunchest fan—his father—says he shows signs of becoming a great golfer.

And Dad should know. He's Bud Williamson Sr., golf pro at the Lincoln Country Club.

"Bud didn't care for golf too much when he was younger," Bud Sr. said in discussing the boys' golfing habits. "But lately he's become very interested and is working very hard at the game. His best score is a 70 or 71.

"Matter of fact," Bud Sr. joked, "I'm not sure I can beat Bud right now, since I get to play very little after the course gets busy."

The Williamsons would make a mighty fine threesome to watch, no matter whether Dad, Bud or Tommy won honors.

There's only one thing that bothers me about the coaching change at Lincoln High; I still can't spell the head football coach's name.

The arrangement of the letters in Phieff—nope, Pfieff—oops, P-F-E-I-F-F, darn it, was always a mystery to me. Whether I'll be able to master Schwartzkoff — Swartzkopf—S-C-H-W-A-R-T-Z-K-O-P-F — that's it, remains to be seen.

HASTINGS — Grand Island won its sixth straight Central Nebraska track and field meet here Thursday with 43½ points.

Lincoln High took second in the 43rd running of the meet with 34½ points. The Links were runners-up despite scoring only two first places.

The shot and discus throwers captured the fancy of the spectators. Larry Fisher's winning tosses in both weight events were the best recorded by Nebraska prepsters this year.

The Beatrice redhead, a 16-year-old 245-pound junior, heaved the shot 54-5¼ in a duel with Grand Island's Don Olson. Olson was the previous prep leader with 54-2, but the best he could do Thursday was 53-5¼.

Both Fisher and Olson surpassed the 20-year-old shot put record of 53-3, set by retiring Lincoln High football Coach Bill Pfeiff.

Fisher had a winning discus throw of 151-3½. Lincoln High's Joe Gacusana was leading with 148-7½ until Fisher's final throw.

The weight field, one of the best ever assembled in a Nebraska high school meet, was so strong that all five discus throwers in the money topped 140 feet.

Buchtel had 144-1½, Nick Gangwish of Gibbon was credited with 143-½ and Dick Egen of Hastings reached 142-½.

Fisher was one of three double winners. Bob Eyth, his Beatrice teammate, slammed the sprints. Larry Feaster of Grand Island copped the hurdle events.

Pole vaulters from North Platte and Hastings established 1956 prep bests.

The Bulldogs' Jon Jones and Hastings' Darrell Krueger soared 11-6½ to tie for first place.

The Links' mile relay team, aided by a blazing third leg by Dean Sell, also established a new prep best and set a record.

The Lincoln team set a record of 3:34.5 which erased Hastings' 1955 mark of 3:35.2. The sturdy Sell was 10 yards behind a Hastings runner but ran an unofficial :52.7 quarter and finished the lap with a 15-yard lead.

Bob Brown of Hastings and Larry Feaster of Grand Island tied records during the meet. Brown clipped off a 52 flat quarter to tie the 20-year-old record set by Milo Hejkal of Hastings. Feaster tied his own 1955 record of :21.1 in the low hurdles during the preliminaries.

100-yard dash—Won by Bob Eyth, Beatrice; 2—Jerry Renfroe, North Platte; 3—Ed Kester, Cambridge; 4—Roy Owens, Harvard; 5 — Wayne Campbell, Grand Island. Time—:10.2.

Doctor Examines Doby's Hand

Dr. Eugene P. Liberthal, dermatologist ,examines the right hand of Chicago White Sox outfielder Larry Doby at Mercy Hospital in Chicago Thursday. Doby is afflicted with a chronic skin infection which affects the palm of his hand between the index and middle fingers. Doby said he contracted the irritation in the South Pacific during World War II but frequent attacks have not been serious. He will be lost to the White Sox for an indefinite period. (AP Wirephoto.)

Twin Hurlers Are Optioned To Lincoln

A set of twins, Deward and Donald Williams, have been optioned to the Lincoln Chiefs by New Orleans of the Southern Association, Chiefs' General Manager Dick Wagner announced Thursday.

The twins are pitchers. One will be a familiar sight at Sherman Field, the other a newcomer.

Deward, better known as Dewey, wound up with 1955 season with the Chiefs. After a weak start when he reported late in July, Dewey compiled a 3-5 record, losing three well-pitched games late in the race.

In 70 innings Dewy gave up just 60 hits, striking out 55 and walking just 25.

The brothers Williams came out of college in 1953 and joined Charleston in the Class A Sally League. Neither saw much duty and they entered the Army together in 1953.

When they were discharged in the summer of 1955, Dewy came to Lincoln. But Donald suffered a back injury in service and was advised to play out of baseball for the rest of the 1955 season.

Now they are back together again, bidding for berths with the Chiefs.

Both boys are 6 foot 2 and weigh near 185. They are 23 years old.

They bring to seven the number of pitchers now slated for the trip North.

Other hurlers are Bill Nordberg, Dick Drilling, Andy Olsen, Don Rowe and Bennie Daniels.

Also pretty well set for the opening gun are Catchers Marcos Cobos and Joe Zavattaro, Second Baseman Kenny Toothman, Third Baseman Ray Swarts.

11th Inning Walk Beats Giants 8-7

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Southpaw Jim Constable walked Chico Carrasquel with the bases full and one out in the 11th inning Thursday to force Rocky Colavito across the plate and give the Cleveland Indians an 8-7 victory over the New York Giants.

The game ended the annual spring barnstorming series between the two clubs with the Indians holding an 11-8 edge. Today the Giants play the Senators in Washington while the Indians remain here to open a weekend series with the Milwaukee Braves.

Heavy Slate For Local Prepsters

Local prepsters are slated for track, baseball, golf and tennis action today.

University High is hosting Seward Concordia in a track meet at the Universty of Nebraska track.

Southeast baseballers play Lincoln High on the Links field; Southeast journeys to Fairbury for a dual tennis meet and Southeast, Lincoln High, Northeast and Fremont golfers will vie on the Pioneers course.

Yankee Power Defeats Reds

CINCINNATI (AP) — The New York Yankees used their home run power Thursday to offset the wobbly pitching of Mickey McDermott and Jim Konstanty as they edged out an 8-7 victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Home runs boomed off the bats of Mickey Mantle, Elston Howard, Bill Skowron and Hank Bauer. It was Bauer's eighth-inning blast which broke a 7-7 tie and gave the Yanks their margin of victory.

Mantle's wallop in the fourth was a towering drive which sailed high over the right-center field wall just beyond the 390-foot mark. It was matched in distance, however, by the Reds' Wally Post when he hit a two-run homer in the sixth which went well over the scoreboard in center field. It is about 385 feet to the scoreboard.

Braves Win 7-5 Over Detroit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — —Ray Crone and Lou Sleater combined to put the Detroit Tigers down without a hit in the last six innings Thursday night as the Milwaukee Braves won their exhibition meeting, 7-5.

Eddie Mathews, with a three run homer in the third, and Bobby Thomson, who drove over two tie-breaking runs in the seventh, featured Milwaukee's 10-hit attack.

Leftie Chet Nichols permitted all Tiger runs as they picked up two in the second and added three in the third. Detroit had seven hits

Milwaukee scored one run in the second and drove Tiger starter Frank Lary from the mound in the third with four more.

Field Trials For Retrievers This Weekend

The Nebraska Dog & Hunt Club's two-day licensed retriever field trial starts Saturday at 8 a.m. at the club's trial grounds, 1½ miles north of Highway 6 on 48th St.

In number of entries, this will be the largest retriever field trial ever held by the Nebraska Dog and Hunt Club.

In the derby stake, for dogs under two years old, 15 entries have been received, and 28 dogs are entered in the qualifying stake.

In the open all age stake, which begins Sunday at 8 a.m., there will be 35 dogs competing. Among the entries in this stake is King Buck, a black Labrador from Brighton, Ill., who was the national retriever champion during 1953 and 1954.

Four other dogs in this stake are field trial champions. Many of the retriver dogs running in the open all age stake are valued from $6,000 to $10,000.

The public has been invited to see the trials.

Sherman-Howard Opens Sunday

FARWELL — The Sherman-Howteams, will open play Sunday with games scheduled at Scotia, Ashton, Elba and Palmer.

The Sherman-Howard League is larger than it has been since 1952, when 10 teams competed. Games will be played Sunday nights.

Scotia is planning to install lights for night play.

Each Team will play 16 games. At the end of the season the top four teams will compete in a playoff. Trophies will be awarded to the regular-season and playoff champions.

Major Clubs Near Home After Training Junkets

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — New names like Don Buddin, Charley Neal and Ted Kazanski and old familiar names like Hank Sauer, Larry Doby and Early Wynn are in the news as the ball clubs near home on their long spring training junkets.

Washington played a home game Wednesday night and Cincinnati and Baltimore appeared before the home fans Thursday. Over the weekend all major league parks will see action except in Boston, Detroit, Philadelphia, St. Louis and New York's Polo Grounds.

The managers anxiously await a chance to see how the new phenoms look against a background of double or triple decked stands and now they perform on big league infields.

Buddin, one of the best of the new rookie crop, already has the good word from Mike Higgins Boston manager, that he will open the season as regular shortstop for the Red Sox. That leaves Billy Klaus, the 1955 wonder boy, to fight it out with rookie Frank Malzone for third base.

Actually, Higgins had made up his mind about Buddin 10 days ago in Florida. The scrappy 21-year-old clinched the job by hitting .323 in the exhibition season.

Much has been written about Neal, Brooklyn's new second base man. Now it becomes definite that he has chased Junior Gilliam out of the infield, at least temporarily. Gilliam promptly moved to left field when Sandy Amoros was injured and hit so consistently that he will open in the outfield. where he played part of last season.

If fans remember Kazanski at all, it would be as the bonus shortstop who didn't make it with the Phillies. He's back again, this time as a second baseman and a regular in the Phils' infield. Ted 22, still must prove he can hit big league pitching.

The St. Louis Cardinals have been a pleasant surprise in spring training with the best won-lost record of any team in the majors. If Hank Sauer can provide the type of right-handed power hitting that he showed Wednesday against Chicago's White Sox in Denver, they can be rough. Big Hank followed Stan Musial's homer with one of his own off Jack Harshman.

Sox Brass Worried

Doane To Host Midland Friday

CRETE—Doane College officially opens its home spring sports program Friday when the Tigers entertain Midland in a dual track meet. Events are scheduled to begin at 2:00 p.m.

Coach Al Papik's cinder men have had one outing thus far, when they were edged by Hastings at the Bronco oval. However, the Tigers were impressive with six firsts in the track and field events.

Coach Addison's baseball squad will make its first home appearance April 17, when they entertain Midland. The game is scheduled for 3:00 p.m.

The tennis squad will see its first home action when it entertains Creighton April 24.

Chiefs Cop Shutout In First Game

Lincoln Star Special

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. — The Lincoln Chiefs won their first exhibition game of the season Thursday shutting out the Sam Houston State College Bearcats, 5-0.

Thirdbaseman Sandy McDevitt and Shortstop Don Swarts led the Chiefs' 10-hit attack. McDevitt had two doubles and a single while Swarts had a pair of two-baggers and two runs batted in.

Harry Gilbert pitched five innings of no-hit, no-run baseball for the Chiefs and Lefty Andy Olsen finished up, allowing four hits.

Lincoln scored a run in the first on McDevitt's lead-off double and Swarts' first two-bagger. The Chiefs counted two more in the second on a single by catcher Joe Zavatarro, an error on Gilbert's bouncer, and a single by McDevitt.

The final two runs came in the last inning on a single by Sam Miley, a double by McDevitt driving in Miley, and a single by Kenny Toothman.

Sam Houston never offered a threat with only one man getting as far as third base. The Bearcats used three hurlers in the game.

The two teams meet again Sunday at 1 p.m.

N.U. Faced With Green Backfield

"How green is my backfield" could be the title theme for Coach Pete Elliott and his University of Nebraska coaching staff as they prepare the Huskers for a game against the Nebraska Alumni in the feature of All-Sports Day here April 28th.

A glance at the current lineups will show that none of the aspirants now listed in five-deep positions at halfback has played five minutes of college football. At fullback, Jerry Brown is a letterman, but he won it as a guard last fall.

Gordon Englert, Sioux Falls, S.D., at quarterback will be a senior next fall but he has never had many minutes of actual competition under his belt.

Don Erway, quarterback for the past two years, is playing baseball this spring. His return will add some experience in the fall.

Wind sprints have brought out the fastest lads on the squad. Among the backs these are Benny Dillard, Mt. Pleasant, Tex., a :09.6 sprinter; Roger Krhounek, Lincoln, and Pinkston.

The fastest of the linemen are Melvin Dohrman, Kearney; Richard King, West Baden, Pa.; Jim Murphy, Columbus and LaVerne Torczon, Platte Center. They have covered 50 yards carrying full gear in :06.2 seconds.

Bosox Win 6-4 Over Phillies

WILSON, N.C. (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies wasted two home runs as they dropped a 6-4 decision to the Boston Red Sox before a record breaking paid crowd of 6,500 here Thursday.

Rookie Bob Bowman and Roy Smalley hit the homers for the Phillies, but their efforts failed as Curt Simmons, who signed his contract Wednesday for approximately $15,000, gave up four runs on five hits and six walks in the first five innings. Jim Owens, who relieved him, was nicked for two more.

Frank Sullivan held the Phillies scoreless for the first four innings, but Bowman and Smalley broke the spell in the next two frames.

Ike Delock relieved Sullivan in the seventh and the Phillies rallied in the ninth for one run when Glen Gorbous singled home Richie Ashburn.

Simmons got past the first inning in good shape but the Red Sox pecked his delivery for a pair of runs in the second.

Chiefs Finished Last In '55, But Led In 'Overtime' Wins

The Lincoln Chiefs finished last in the 1955 Western League pennant race—14 games behind the championship winning Colorado Springs Sky Sox, but they were the premier overtime performers on the circuit.

Drawn into seven extra-inning games, the Pittsburgh farmhands outlasted their foes in four of them for a .571 percentage against Colorado Springs' pennant-winning record of .540.

The Wichita Indians, who went into the American Assn., the past off-season, had the second best extra-inning game record in 1955, winning five out of a possible nine. The Sky Sox were third with 6x5 and a .545 percentage.

The Pueblo Dodgers broke even in the overtime warfare, winning seven and losing seven. Sioux City was fifth in this competition with three for seven and Des Moines was last with five wins and seven defeats.

All in all, there were 32 extra-inning features during the 1955 campaign, with Wichita and Des Moines playing to a draw in a nine-inning game that was to have ended after seven rounds and Sioux City and Lincoln battling to a 10-inning tie.

Des Moines outlasted Wichita, 5-3, in the season's longest feature, a 16-inning struggle on July 29. The Bruins decisioned Colorado Springs, 10-9, in the second longest battle of 1955, a 15-rounder June 14.

Dana's Hudson Sets State Javelin Mark

Lincoln Star Special

KEARNEY — Marion Hudson, versatile Dana College athlete, set a Nebraska state college record in the javelin Thursday as Kearney beat Dana 170-25 in a dual meet here.

Hudson, agile Omaha Negro, threw the spear 206 feet 6 inches. It wiped out his old record.

It was the best toss of Hudson's career. His previous high of 202 won the Drake Relays in 1954.

Pirates Defeat A's In 10th, 2-1

FORT SMITH, Ark., (AP) — Third baseman Gene Freese hit his second home run of the afternoon in the 10th inning Thursday to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 2-1 victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

Freese belted Glenn Cox's second pitch over the left-field wall. His first homer came in the fourth inning off Alex Kellner, who started for the A's.

Nellie King gave up only three hits to the A's in the first five innings, while Art Swanson and Roy Face held the American Leaguers hitless the rest of the way.

The Pirates, who collected nine hits, wound up their spring competition with the A's with a record of 11 wins and five defeats. They return to Forbes Field in Pittsburgh tomorrow for a game with the New York Yankees.

Cards Win 5-2 In 10th Inning

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals scored three runs in the 10th inning Thursday to defeat the Chicago White Sox 5-2 before 9,139 fans in Bears Stadium.

The Redbirds, winning their fourth successive game from the skidding Comiskeys, were two runs behind until the sixth inning when Stan Musial and Hank Sauer hit homers on successive pitches.

Billy Pierce was removed in the seventh inning after giving up seven hits. Joe Dahlke held the Cards scoreless for three innings but the National Leaguers scored three in the 10th off Morrie Martin on a walk, a balk, a single and a double by Jackie Brandt.

The White Sox made seven hits off Vinegar Bend Mizell, Gordon Jones and Larry Jackson, but could not score after the second inning.

Micro-Midget Club Announces Plans

The Lincoln Micro-Midget Racing Club met Thursday night to set dates for the 1956 season and announced plans for a Governor's Trophy driver competition to be held in June.

The Lincoln Club, which is affiliating with the National Micro-Midget Association, will open its 1956 season 7:30 p.m. Friday, May 18, at the 14th and Cornhusker Highway track.

Starting the first Friday in June, drivers will compete for a Governor's Trophy on a point basis. The competition will last through June. The club will also offer a sportsmanship trophy, to be awarded at the end of the season.

All work on the track is complete except for installation of a watering system, which will be finished in time for the first racing date. A spokesman said the Lincoln club hoped to promote nationally sanctioned races "in the near future."

Hoosier Scores

OMAHA (AP)—George Holtrey of Huntington, Ind., won the 1,500 meter swim as the National YMCA meet opened Thursday night at Boys Town. His time was 20:12.4.

Huntington, one of the favored clubs for the team title, also placed third and fourth in the event, only one scheduled for the opening night, George Thornton.

N.U. Faced With Green Backfield

"How green is my backfield" could be the title theme for Coach Pete Elliott and his University of Nebraska coaching staff as they prepare the Huskers for a game against the Nebraska Alumni in the feature of All-Sports Day here April 28th.

A glance at the current lineups will show that none of the aspirants now listed in five-deep positions at halfback has played five minutes of college football. At fullback, Jerry Brown is a letterman, but he won it as a guard last fall.

Gordon Englert, Sioux Falls, S.D., at quarterback will be a senior next fall but he has never had many minutes of actual competition under his belt.

Don Erway, quarterback for the past two years, is playing baseball this spring. His return will add some experience in the fall.

Wind sprints have brought out the fastest lads on the squad. Among the backs these are Benny Dillard, Mt. Pleasant, Tex., a :09.6 sprinter; Roger Krhounek, Lincoln, and Pinkston.

The fastest of the linemen are Melvin Dohrman, Kearney; Richard King, West Baden, Pa.; Jim Murphy, Columbus and LaVerne Torczon, Platte Center. They have covered 50 yards carrying full gear in :06.2 seconds.

Bosox Win 6-4 Over Phillies

WILSON, N. C. (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies wasted two home runs as they dropped a 6-4 decision to the Boston Red Sox before a record breaking paid crowd of 6,500 here Thursday.

Rookie Bob Bowman and Roy Smalley hit the homers for the Phillies, but their efforts failed as Curt Simmons, who signed his contract Wednesday for approximately $15,000, gave up four runs on five hits and six walks in the first five innings. Jim Owens, who relieved him, was nicked for two more.

Frank Sullivan held the Phillies scoreless for the first four innings, but Bowman and Smalley broke the spell in the next two frames.

Ike Delock relieved Sullivan in the seventh and the Phillies rallied in the ninth for one run when Glen Gorbous singled home Richie Ashburn.

Simmons got past the first inning in good shape but the Red Sox pecked his delivery for a pair of runs in the second.

Making The Grade

These rookies are showing up well in spring training and are contenders for positions in the regular lineups of their major league clubs. From left are Tony Kubek, 20, Yankee infielder-outfielder who hit .344 at Quincy last year; Charley Neal, 25, Dodger infielder who batted .274 at Montreal; Bob Thorpe, 21, Cub pitcher who had a 10-10 record with Des Moines in the Western League, and Whitey Herzog, 23, Senator outfielder who hit .289 at Denver. (AP Wirephoto.)

Chiefs Finished Last In '55, But Led In 'Overtime' Wins

The Lincoln Chiefs finished last in the 1955 Western League pennant race—14 games behind the championship winning Colorado Springs Sky Sox, but they were the premier overtime performers on the circuit.

Drawn into seven extra-inning games, the Pittsburgh farmhands outlasted their foes in four of them for a .571 percentage against Colorado Springs' pennant-winning record of .540.

The Wichita Indians, who went into the American Assn., the past off-season, had the second best extra-inning game record in 1955, winning five out of a possible nine. The Sky Sox were third with 6x5 and a .545 percentage.

The Pueblo Dodgers broke even in the overtime warfare, winning seven and losing seven. Sioux City was fifth in this competition with three for seven and Des Moines was last with five wins and seven defeats.

All in all, there were 32 extra-inning features during the 1955 campaign, with Wichita and Des Moines playing to a draw in a nine-inning game that was to have ended after seven rounds and Sioux City and Lincoln battling to a 10-inning tie.

Des Moines outlasted Wichita, 5-3, in the season's longest feature, a 16-inning struggle on July 29. The Bruins decisioned Colorado Springs, 10-9, in the second longest battle of 1955, a 15-rounder June 14.

Pirates Defeat A's In 10th, 2-1

FORT SMITH, Ark., (AP) — Third baseman Gene Freese hit his second home run of the afternoon in the 10th inning Thursday to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 2-1 victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

Freese belted Glenn Cox's second pitch over the left-field wall. His first homer came in the fourth inning off Alex Kellner, who started for the A's.

Nellie King gave up only three hits to the A's in the first five innings, while Art Swanson and Roy Face held the American Leaguers hitless the rest of the way.

The Pirates, who collected nine hits, wound up their spring competition with the A's with a record of 11 wins and five defeats. They return to Forbes Field in Pittsburgh tomorrow for a game with the New York Yankees.

Cards Win 5-2 In 10th Inning

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals scored three runs in the 10th inning Thursday to defeat the Chicago White Sox 5-2 before 9,139 fans in Bears Stadium.

The Redbirds, winning their fourth successive game from the skidding Comiskeys were two runs behind until the sixth inning when Stan Musial and Hank Sauer hit homers on successive pitches.

Billy Pierce was removed in the seventh inning after giving up seven hits. Joe Dahlke held the Cards scoreless for three innings, but the National Leaguers scored three in the 10th off Morrie Martin on a walk, a balk a single and a double by Jackie Brandt.

The White Sox made seven hits off Vinegar Bend Mizell. Gordon Jones and Larry Jackson, but could not score after the second inning.

Micro-Midget Club Announces Plans

The Lincoln Micro-Midget Racing Club met Thursday night to set dates for the 1956 season and announced plans for a Governor's Trophy driver competition to be held in June.

The Lincoln Club, which is affiliating with the National Micro-Midget Association, will open its 1956 season 7:30 p.m. Frday, May 18, at the 14th and Cornhusker Highway track.

Starting the first Friday in June, drivers will compete for a Governor's Trophy on a point basis. The competition will last through June. The club will also offer a sportsmanship trophy, to be awarded at the end of the season.

All work on the track is complete except for installation of a watering system, which will be finished in time for the first racing date. A spokesman said the Lincoln club hoped to promote nationally sanctioned races "in the near future."

Hoosier Scores

OMAHA (AP)—George Holtrey of Huntington, Ind., won the 1,500 meter swim as the National YMCA meet opened Thursday night at Boys Town. His time was 20:12.4.

Huntington, one of the favored clubs for the team title, also placed third and fourth in the event, only one scheduled for the opening night. George Thornton,

Miss Stukel Quits State Post; Statement Hits Control Board

...Appointment As County Welfare Director Expected

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

Miss Mayme Stukel, state assistance director since 1953 resigned Thursday to be effective May 1. The resignation was immediately accepted by the Board of Control and it was understood Miss Stukel will become Lancaster County Welfare director.

Both the board and Miss Stukel immediately issued statements giving reasons for their actions from which no possible comparison could be made.

The board in its statement said that Miss Stukel requested a salary increase of at least $1,000 a year making the total $7,300. The board said that after "careful consideration" and considering the financial ability of the state to pay found it "unreasonable and in no way could we justify giving this increase."

Three Reasons

Miss Stukel gave three reasons for her decision and did not mention salary. Her reasons were:

1. "Because of your apparent lack of confidence in the recommendations made by me, as demonstrated by your constant procrastination.

2 "Because of your refusal to permit me to initiate policies and organization which in my opinion would achieve a more efficient and economical operation of the Nebraska public welfare program.

3 "Because it has become increasingly difficult for me to perform my duties as prescribed by the statutes, due to the inconsistencies of the board in the area of public welfare."

Others Pay More

Federal reports show only South Dakota, where salary is fixed by statute at $6,000 a year, is lower than Nebraska. That state has but 14,000 recipients as contrasted with 31,000 in Nebraska.

Kansas with 42,000 recipients pays $12,000, Wyoming with 5,000 pays $6,780 and Colorado with 11,400 pays $8,400. Other states pay up to $18,000 with the majority in the $9,000 and $10,000 class.

Since she started work as director March 1, 1953, Miss Stukel's salary has been increased only $300 a year although operating a larger spending program than all other activities of the Board of Control.

County Commissioner Del Lienemann, said the Lancaster county board is expected to confirm her as county director at a meeting next week at a salary of $6,500. She will succeed William McDermet, who has taken a position with the regional office in Kansas City, Mo.

The letter to Miss Stukel was from Thomas Dredla, chairman of the board, and wished her success in her new undertaking.

E. C. Eichberg, administrative assistant to the governor, expressed sorrow that the state was losing a valued public employee but explained that the Legislature had made it a board problem over which the governor has no jurisdiction.

"We have always had the utmost cooperation from Miss Stukel and since I have been here we have not received one letter of complaint against her either from county boards or recipients. She has always been sympathetic and helpful to the needy from my experience."

A Board of Control spokesman said that nothing has been done about obtaining a new director.

Omahans Buy Bluffs Store

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia. (AP)—Sale of the Continental Keller Company, pioneer Council Bluffs furniture store, to a group of Omaha men was announced Thursday by Julius Rosenfeld, president of Continental Keller.

The Omaha men, Louie Blumkin, Jerome Cohn and Norman Batt, are associated in the operation of the Nebraska Furniture Mart in Omaha and the American Furniture Center in Lincoln.

Also associated with them in those two ventures is Mrs. Rose Blumkin of Omaha.

The sale becomes effective May 1. Cohn will manage the Council Bluffs store.

Continental Keller is 50 years old this year.

The amount of the transaction was not announced.

Long Fought Drug Liquor License Is Again Contested

Renewal of a liquor license for an Omaha drug store — long opposed by a nearby church — was taken under advisement by the state Liquor Commission Thursday.

Members of the Calvary Baptist Church, who have fought in court against the drug store's license with a case that is still before the state Supreme Court, appeared at the renewal hearing to oppose the application of Francis J. Willy and John R. McCormack.

Through their attorney, the church members contended the sale of liquor by the store was detrimental to the neighborhood. They complained that beer cans and other containers littered the area.

Last year's granting of a license by the Liquor Commission was upheld by a District Court, but the church took the case to the Supreme Court. The contested license expires at the end of this month.

The church contended in the court case that the drug store was within 150 feet of the boundary line of the church's property. The District Court held, however, that the 150-foot limit should apply to the building rather than to the property line.

PE Fraternity At NU Initiates 10 Members

Ten University of Nebraska men were initiated Thursday night by Phi Epsilon Kappa, professional physical education fraternity.

The new members are Dean Brittenham, Brady; Vance Christensen, Boelus; Larry Dillon, North Platte; Don Dutcher, Arapahoe; Donald Dworak, David City; Fred Ingold, Columbus; Larry Jambor, Weston; Wayne Reeves, Lincoln; Larry Smith, South Sioux City, and A. J. Sprague, Lincoln.

Dr. C. Vin White, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, was banquet speaker. He discussed "The Role of the Physical Educator in the Community."

1. "Because of your apparent lack of confidence in the recommendations made by me, as demonstrated by your constant procrastination.

2. "Because of your refusal to permit me to initiate policies and organization which in my opinion would achieve a more efficient and economicial operation of the Nebraska public welfare program.

3. "Because it has become increasingly difficult for me to perform my duties as prescribed by the statutes, due to the inconsistencies of the board in the area of public welfare."

Others Pay More

Federal reports show only South Dakota, where salary is fixed by statute at $6,000 a year, is lower than Nebraska. That state has but 14,000 recipients as contrasted with 31,000 in Nebraska.

Kansas with 42,000 recipients pays $12,000, Wyoming with 5,000 pays $6,780 and Colorado with 11,400 pays $8,400. Other states pay up to $18,000 with the majority in the $9,000 and $10,000 class.

Since she started work as director March 1, 1953, Miss Stukel's salary has been increased only $300 a year although operating a larger spending program than all other activities of the Board of Control.

County Commissioner Del Lienemann, said the Lancaster county board is expected to confirm her as county director at a meeting next week at a salary of $6,500. She will succeed William McDermet, who has taken a position with the regional office in Kansas City, Mo.

The letter to Miss Stukel was from Thomas Dredla, chairman of the board, and wished her success in her new undertaking.

E. C. Eichberg, administrative assistant to the governor, expressed sorrow that the state was losing a valued public employee but explained that the Legislature had made it a board problem over which the governor has no jurisdiction.

"We have always had the utmost cooperation from Miss Stukel and since I have been here we have not received one letter of complaint against her either from county boards or recipients. She has always been sympathetic and helpful to the needy from my experience."

A Board of Control spokesman said that nothing has been done about obtaining a new director.

Omahans Buy Bluffs Store

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia. (AP)—Sale of the Continental Keller Company, pioneer Council Bluffs furniture store, to a group of Omaha men was announced Thursday by Julius Rosenfeld, president of Continental Keller.

The Omaha men, Louie Blumkin, Jerome Cohn and Norman Batt, are associated in the operation of the Nebraska Furniture Mart in Omaha and the American Furniture Center in Lincoln.

Also associated with them in those two ventures is Mrs. Rose Blumkin of Omaha.

The sale becomes effective May 1. Cohn will manage the Council Bluffs store.

Continental Keller is 50 years old this year.

The amount of the transaction was not announced.

Long Fought Drug Liquor License Is Again Contested

Renewal of a liquor license for an Omaha drug store — long opposed by a nearby church — was taken under advisement by the state Liquor Commission Thursday.

Members of the Calvary Baptist Church, who have fought in court against the drug store's license with a case that is still before the state Supreme Court, appeared at the renewal hearing to oppose the application of Francis J. Willy and John R. McCormack.

Through their attorney, the church members contended the sale of liquor by the store was detrimental to the neighborhood. They complained that beer cans and other containers littered the area.

Last year's granting of a license by the Liquor Commission was upheld by a District Court, but the church took the case to the Supreme Court. The contested license expires at the end of this month.

The church contended in the court case that the drug store was within 150 feet of the boundary line of the church's property. The District Court held, however, that the 150-foot limit should apply to the building rather than to the property line.

PE Fraternity At NU Initiates 10 Members

Ten University of Nebraska men were initiated Thursday night by Phi Epsilon Kappa, professional physical education fraternity.

The new members are Dean Brittenham, Brady; Vance Christensen, Boelus; Larry Dillon, North Platte; Don Dutcher, Arapahoe; Donald Dworak, David City; Fred Ingold, Columbus; Larry Jambor, Weston; Wayne Reeves, Lincoln; Larry Smith, South Sioux City, and A. J. Sprague, Lincoln.

Dr. C. Vin White, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, was banquet speaker. He discussed "The Role of the Physical Educator in the Community."

MASSIVE HINDU MIGRATION GROWING FROM PAKISTAN TO INDIA

NEW DELHI, India [illegible] — One of history's biggest human migrations is continuing unabated on the subcontinent with thousands of Hindus moving from their homes in East Pakistan to India. The movement is causing increasing concern for the Indian government which must find homes and jobs for the Hindu refugees.

Most of the refugees are moving into the area around Calcutta. But this already is one of India's most crowded regions with a [illegible] of unemployment [illegible] would be a problem area without the migration.

Prime Minister Nehru has said the exodus is bound to have far-reaching consequences not only in India, but also in Pakistan. I cannot imagine these large numbers coming over without the most serious internal upsets in both countries.

East Pakistan at the time of partition in 1947 had about 12½ million Hindus and 27½ million Moslems. Since partition, Nehru said, about four million Hindus have moved to India and are continuing to come at the rate of 40,000 to 50,000 a month. This rate is double the number that migrated in 1955, which in turn was double the 1954 figure, the Indian government said.

Pakistan officials claim these figures do not tell the whole story. They insist many Hindus, after tasting life in India, return to East Pakistan. It is "a two-way traffic," asserted one Pakistan government spokesman.

For India and Pakistan, who have not been good neighbors since they won their freedom from the British, the migration has been just one more irritation. Indians believe the Pakistan government, if not encouraging the migration, is doing nothing to halt it.

New Delhi reportedly has charged Hindus are fleeing East Pakistan because they feel there is no future for them as a minority in a Moslem dominated state.

THEY JUST GO QUIETLY TO SLEEP—

Can't Use Hog's Squeal, So Packer's New System Eliminates It

FREMONT, Neb. (AP) — A new production line technique that puts hogs to sleep before slaughter and eliminates the need for shackling the animals was demonstrated here Thursday.

Watching the demonstration at the Hormel Packing Co. plant here were some 30 packing plant executives from the United States and Canada.

The system has been in operation for some time but this was the first time it had been demonstrated for other packers.

In most packing plants the live, conscious hog is shackled by a hind foot, then hoisted to a conveyor which carries it to the "sticker"—That is, the man with the knife who kills the hog by cutting an artery in its throat.

In the operation here the hogs are driven onto a conveyor which carriers them through a gas chamber They emerge unconscious and a worker places them in position for the sticker.

L. W. Murphy, Hormel Co. researcher, said the advantages of the system included these:

Internal bruises in the hams are eliminated.

The sticker does not have to guard against the kicks and squirming of a live hog suspended by a hind leg.

The shackling room job, termed by Murphy the roughest and most difficult in the packinghouse is done away with

Recovery of blood from the slaughtered hogs is more efficient

With hogs' squeals eliminated the packing operation is quieter and smoother.

Speed of handling is increased by working with motionless animals.

Murphy explained that internal bruises in hams are caused by throwing the full weight of the hog onto the muscle of the leg. This, he said, snaps an artery in the leg joint and causes blood to clot in the ham.

Peace Urged

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Field Marshal Sir John Harding went among the Cypriot people and urged peace on this troubled island.

The dapper British governor appeared in the village of Vasilia, scene of rioting between Greek Cypriots and the Turkish minority March 19, and told villagers to "forgive and forget."

STANTON DELAPLANE

POSTCARD

As any cautious person knows, this is a terribly unlucky day. Friday has been considered unlucky by itself. Ever since ancient days when it was named for a Norwegian goddess with the unlucky name of Frigg.

The Romans called the day after Venus, the goddess of love. People in love generally consider themselves unlucky.

A good many States carry out their executions on Friday. And it is very bad luck to be executed.

Combine all this with the 13th. And you have a day that everybody should avoid crossing black cats, walking under ladders or sitting in electric chairs.

It is a gloomy day.

You know what day this is? It is National Fun Day. Some people are touchy.

It is National Fun Day and sponsored by the Museum of American Comedy, 175 Columbus avenue, Tuckahoe, N. Y.

Purpose: "To remind America not to take herself too seriously."

Not to take ourselves too seriously! With witchcraft bubbling on every side. Black cats giving me some very knowing looks. Werewolves changing into Boris Karloffs. And me busy every midnight staking vampires at the old crossroads.

This is a day for fun?

I take Friday the 13th very soberly.

Lacing up your left shoe first is a good idea. And a little salt sprinkled on the front door step may not do any good. But it doesn't hurt, either.

In ancient Rome a lady name of Canidia buried a youth up to his neck and put a dish of goodies just out of his reach. She wished to use his marrow to make a love potion. And you cannot get a stronger love potion than from a boy buried just out of reach of goodies.

She did this all for Venus, the girl Firday.

I cannot think of anything unluckier than to lose your marrow on National Fun Day. Nothing funnier, either.

I have been trying to recall some of the ways we avoided out back when I was a boy. And witches and werewolves were more numerous than nowdays, what with everybody moving into the neighborhood.

I believe we put our coats on backward. Though I may have this confused with a clever device to get into the movies free.

You put your coat on backward and mingled with the outgoing crowds. The ticket seller was supposed to look at your backward coat and think you were on your way out—with your neck twisted around for a last look. Instead you were actually moving in, see?

I don't suppose that would work anymore, though.

Anyway, I think it also warded off bad luck on Friday the 13th.

You also took good care not to step on a crack. Because it would break your mother's back. This is true all year. But especially so today. If you break your mother's back, she is likely to break your little neck, child. That is very, very bad luck.

(McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Kaye Set For Tour

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (INS) — The United Nations announced that comedian Danny Kaye will leave this Friday on a four-week tour of Europe and the Middle East—including Egypt and Israel—to seek aid for needy children. The film star will travel on behalf of the U.N. Children's Fund (UNICEF). He will make personal appearances and attend special "premiere" showings of his movie of UNICEF activities in Asia, "Assignment Children."

Peace Urged

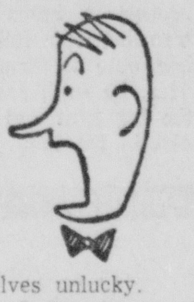
NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Field Marshal Sir John Harding went among the Cypriot people and urged peace on this troubled island.

The dapper British governor appeared in the village of Vasilia, scene of rioting between Greek Cypriots and the Turkish minority March 19, and told villagers to "forgive and forget."

STANTON DELAPLANE

POSTCARD

As any cautious person knows, this is a terribly unlucky day. Friday has been considered unlucky by itself. Ever since ancient days when it was named for a Norwegian goddess with the unlucdy name of Frigg.



The Romans called the day after Venus, the goddess of love. People in love generally consider themselves unlucky.

A good many States carry out their executions on Friday. And it is very bad luck to be executed.

Combine all this with the 13th. And you have a day that everybody should avoid crossing black cats, walking under ladders or sitting in electric chairs.

It is a gloomy day.

☆ ☆ ☆

You know what day this is? It is National Fun Day. Some people are foolhardy.

It is National Fun Day and sponsored by the Museum of American Comedy, 175 Columbus avenue, Tuckahoe, N. Y.

Purpose: "To remind America not to take herself too seriously."

Not to take ourselves too seriously! With witchcraft bubbling on every side. Black cats giving me some very knowing looks. Werewolves changing into Boris Karloffs. And me busy every midnight staking vampires at the old crossroads.

This is a day for fun?

I take Friday the 13th very soberly.

Lacing up your left shoe first is a good idea. And a little salt sprinkled on the front door step may not do any good. But it doesn't hurt, either.

In ancient Rome, a lady name of Canidia buried a youth up to his neck and put a dish of goodies just out of his reach She wished to use his marrow to make a love potion. And you cannot get a stronger love potion than from a boy buried just out of reach of goodies.

She did this all for Venus, the girl Firday.

I cannot think of anything unluckier than to lose your marrow on National Fun Day. Nothing funnier, either.

☆ ☆ ☆

I have been trying to recall some of the ways we avoided bad luck when I was a boy. And witches and werewolves were more numerous than nowdays, what with everybody moving into the neighborhood.

I believe we put our coats on backward. Though I may have this confused with a clever device to get into the movies free.

You put your coat on backward and mingled with the outgoing crowds. The ticket seller was supposed to look at your backward coat and think you were on your way out—with your neck twisted around for a last look. Instead you were actually moving in, see?

I don't suppose that would work anymore, though.

Anyway, I think it also warded off bad luck on Friday the 13th.

You also took good care not to step on a crack. Because it would break your mother's back. This is true all year. But especially so today. If you break your mother's back, she is likely to break your little neck, child. That is very, very bad luck.

Kaye Set For Tour

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (INS) — The United Nations announced that comedian Danny Kaye will leave this Friday on a four-week tour of Europe and the Middle East—including Egypt and Israel—to seek aid for needy children. The film star will travel on behalf of the U.N. Children's Fund (UNICEF.) He will make personal appearances and attend special "premiere" showings of his movie of UNICEF activities in Asia, "Assignment Children."

Orphan-Placing System Gets Praise

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

Very Rev. Msgr. R J. Collins St Thomas Orphanage, Lincoln, and Rt Rev. Msgr Floyd Fischer, St James Orphanage, Omaha, told the special study committee of the Legislature Thursday that two organizations, one to care for orphans and the other to place them have been found necessary through years of experience.

Agreeing with this was Mrs Gertrude Allen, acting chief of the state child welfare bureau, who said great success had been obtained in trying to follow this system during the past year The orphans are kept at the Nebraska Childrens Home and placed by the bureau

All present agreed that the chief difficulty in state operation is lack of coordination and that welfare case workers should become acquainted with the child soon after entrance to the home

Sen Hal Bridenbaugh Dakota City, after listening to the testimony of officials of state and private institutions and others interested and recalling the many letters he has received said

"What we have heard clearly brought out that much of the problem is administrative I believe the setup is all right

Msgr Fischer said the system had worked well and that a case worker did not do a proper job the administrators were quick to detect it and make changes

Much of the meeting was taken up with explanations of the physical and emotional problems that had to be solved before placement for adoptions

The Rev E C Hansen, Lincoln, who because of experience was sharply critical of the situation which existed up to a year ago said "I believe things will work out under present plans

Mrs Lawrence Enerson Lincoln who expressed chief interest in the mentally retarded but trainable said she believed progress is now being made

Mrs. Mary Cohen Services Friday

Funeral services for Mrs Mary Cohen of 2325 So 25th who died Thursday at the age of 78 will be held at 9 30 a m Friday at Wadlows

Orphan-Placing System Gets Praise

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

Very Rev. Msgr. R. J. Collins, St. Thomas Orphanage, Lincoln, and Rt. Rev. Msgr. Floyd Fischer, St. James Orphanage, Omaha, told the special study committee of the Legislature Thursday that two organizations, one to care for orphans and the other to place them have been found necessary through years of experience.

Agreeing with this was Mrs. Gertrude Allen, acting chief of the state child welfare bureau, who said great success had been obtained in trying to follow this system during the past year. The orphans are kept at the Nebraska Childrens Home and placed by the bureau.

All present agreed that the chief difficulty in state operation is lack of coordination and that welfare case workers should become acquainted with the child soon after entrance to the home.

Sen. Hal Bridenbaugh, Dakota City, after listening to the testimony of officials of state and private institutions and others interested and recalling the many letters he has received, said:

"What we have heard clearly brought out that much of the problem is administrative. I believe the set-up is all right."

Msgr. Fischer said the system had worked well and that if a case worker did not do a proper job the administrators were quick to detect it and make changes.

Much of the meeting was taken up with explanations of the physical and emotional problems that had to be solved before placement for adoptions.

The Rev. E. C. Hansen, Lincoln, who because of experience was sharply critical of the situation which existed up to a year ago, said "I believe things will work out under present plans."

Mrs. Lawrence Enerson, Lincoln, who expressed chief interest in the mentally retarded but trainable, said she believed progress is now being made.

Mrs. Mary Cohen Services Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Cohen of 2325 So. 25th, who died Thursday at the age of 78, will be held at 9:30 a.m. Friday at Wadlows.

Rabbi Harold Stern will officiate. Further services will be held at the graveside at Glendale Jewish Cemetery at Des Moines, Ia.

Mrs. Cohen had lived in Lincoln for eight years. She had lived in Des Moines before coming to Lincoln. She was born in Rumania in 1878.

She was a member of Tifereth Israel Synagogue, the Women's League, Hadassah and the Council of Jewish Women.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Abe Novicoff of Lincoln and Mrs. Julius Bisno of Beverly Hills, Calif.; a son, Sam of Cedar Rapids, Ia.; five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Permit Issued For New Union Bank

A building permit has been issued for construction by the Union Bank of a new bank at 3643 So. 48th. With an estimated cost of $65,000, the bank permit was taken out in the name of the trustee of the William E. Barkley estate. Barkley was the founder of the College View bank .

A fully fireproof structure, the building will have an overall floor space of 75 by 55 feet. There will be one story and a finished basement.

The new location will be about four blocks north of the present banksite at the southwest corner of 48th and Prescott.

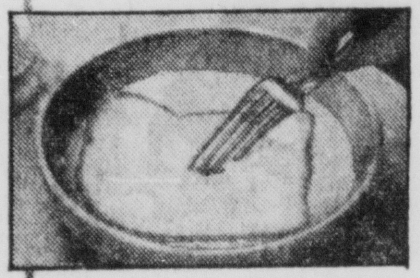
FRENCH WAFFLES
this delicious
Staley Way!



1, DIP—Beat 2 eggs. Add 1 cup milk, 1 tsp. sugar, ⅛ tsp. salt. Butter 2 sides 6-8 slices bread. Dip and turn in the mixture.

2, BAKE—Place slices on moderately hot waffle iron and bake long enough so slices are golden brown.

3, SERVE—Now pour on plenty of Staley's famous Sweetose Waffle Syrup. Extra delicious!

Remember, Staley's is the only syrup with "Balanced Sweetness." Won't soak up. Never too sweet even when you serve second or third helpings!

Nation's 4 Outstanding Young Farmers Picked

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Four young men with one thing in common—love of farming—Thursday night were honored as America's Four Outstanding Young Farmers of 1955.

Selected from among the top young agriculturists in the country, the four winners are:

Robert Y. Sakata, 29, Brighton, Colo., who specializes in truck garden and grain farming.

A. D. Sprague Jr., 35, Sturgis, Ky., general farming.

William A. Powell, 35, Princeton, Mo., dairy farming.

John R. Beckstrand, 35, Warwick, N. D., grain and cattle farming.

The names were announced at the second annual awards program, climaxing a round of nominations and eliminations throughout the country and in Hawaii.

Jaycees Oilmen

FOYF is sponsored nationally by the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce and the American Petroleum Institute's committee on agriculture as a means of calling public attention to agriculture, and to demonstrate that farming can be a profitable and satisfying occupation.

The search for the most outstanding young farmers of 1955 was begun in December by local Jaycees.

These Jaycees committees sought out men who had made outstanding progress in their chosen agricultural careers, who had practiced conservation of natural resources and who had contributed to the well-being of their communities.

In all cases, the men selected had to be 21 through 35 and dependent on the soil for two-thirds of their annual income.

Building Fund Set By Bryan Methodist

The congregation of Bryan Memorial Methodist Church at 55th and South at the annual meeting made plans to promote a building fund for a new church building, the Rev Merle W Burres, pastor, said.

Reports on the church's work during the past year were also heard. The Rev Mr Burres said that a young adult group, a youth fellowship organization and an evening women's circle group were begun during the year.

He said emphasis was placed on youth work and activities included organization of basketball teams.

A budget of $6,400 for the next year was approved. It was reported that $917 was given in benevolences last year.

Elected at the meeting were:

Church lay leader, Lloyd C Hitchcock; [illegible]; Mrs A F Fine; [illegible] Mrs J [illegible]; Superintendent of church school, Mrs [illegible] C Hitchcock; Communion stewards, Mr and Mrs Louis Carver; Methodist Young Adult Fellowship presidents, Mr and Mrs Gerald Hedges; Methodist Youth Fellowship president, Jane Spicknall; New trustees, George Lemke, Clyde [illegible]; [illegible] Albert C [illegible]; [illegible] Mr and Mrs [illegible]; [illegible] Mr and Mrs [illegible]; Mrs [illegible] Mr and Mrs [illegible]; [illegible] Mr [illegible] Warner, Norman Turner, Clyde Norris, Joseph Kubert, Mr and Mrs C R Reschus.

Highway, Wildlife Lawmen Groups File Incorporation

Incorporation papers were filed with the secretary of state Thursday for a highway association, a wildlife association and the National Peace Officers Association.

The Sioux-Box Butte Highway 87 Assn of Scottsbluff proposes to work for hard surfacing of a north-south route from the Colorado-Nebraska line south of Kimball to the Nebraska-South Dakota line near Ardmore, S D.

From the Colorado line to Scottsbluff the route presently is designated as No 29. It is No 87 from Scottsbluff to the Lawn Church junction of No 87 and No 2. Thence through Crawford to the South Dakota line it is No 2.

Fred R Brott of Scottsbluff is resident agent for the group.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP)—The bond market closed narrowly mixed Thursday, with prices leaning slightly lower.

Some decline in government issues apparently anticipated a later announcement of increased discount rates by the Federal Reserve Board.

U. S. government remained unchanged through most of the day but in late trading slipped slightly and closed mostly lower.

Trading in treasuries was quiet while bond circles waited for an expected announcement of an increase in discount rates.

Trading volume was $4,700,000 par value, compared to $4,080,000 the day before.

The Associated Press bond averages showed rails and utilities at their lowest point for the year.

Johnny Klippstein of the Cincinnati Redlegs beat Brooklyn four times in five decisions in 1955.

Late Selling Nips Mart's Recovery

NEW YORK (AP) — Late selling in the stock market Thursday nipped a recovery movement that was well into its second session.

The Tuesday market fell sharply, but on Wednesday there was a smart rebound that continued Thursday right from the opening and rolled along into the fourth hour before it tumbled.

Aircrafts and railroads were strong points in the market. Rails held well to the close but aircrafts ended mixed.

Selling, when it came, seemed to center in [illegible] and chemicals to a large extent [illegible] most major divisions were lower.

There was no [illegible] about the final [illegible]. Prices were down $1 to around $3 [illegible] were found.

After the market closed, the Federal Reserve Board in Washington raised the discount rate in Minneapolis and San Francisco to 3 per cent and in others to 2¾ per cent from the present level of 2½ per cent. Chicago was an exception. In the absence of a meeting of the governors there, the rate remained unchanged at 2½.

The discount rate is the amount charged commercial banks for money borrowed from the central banks. The increased charges usually are passed along to all borrowers.

[illegible] anti-inflation move designed to make speculative borrowing [illegible] business expansion.

[illegible] Wall Street, and the [illegible] Tuesday were laid in part [illegible] the belief that harder money was coming.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was [illegible] cents at $[illegible]. It was up $1 Wednesday and eased off $2.60 Tuesday.

1975	Bond Nos.	1151 to	1225,	75,000.00
1976	Bond Nos.	1226 to	1300,	75,000.00

Bonds numbered 281 to 1,300 inclusive maturing on May 1, of each of the years 1962 to 1976 inclusive shall be redeemable, prior to maturity at par and accrued interest, as a whole or in part, at the option of the city at any time on or after five years from date. If less than all of the bonds numbered 281 to 1,300 inclusive are to be redeemed at any time, the bonds to be redeemed shall be selectd by lot in any usual manner.

Principal and interest will be payable at the office of the County Treasurer of Lancaster County, at Lincoln, Nebraska.

Said bonds were authorized to be issued by said city pursuant to a charter amendment approved by the voters of said city at an election held in and for said city on June 15, 1954, for the purpose of constructing additions to, extensions of, and improvements or betterments to the storm sewer system of said city.

Said bonds will be general obligations of the city payable from advalorem taxes levied upon all the taxable property in said city without limitation as to rate or amount. The assessed valuation of taxable property in the city for the current year as equalized and determined is $144,785,530. The total aggregate indebtedness of the city of every kind and character will after the issuance of these bonds be $6,566,000, of which $2,056,000.00 is special assessment bonds. The population of the city is approximately 120,000.

Bids must be for all and not a part of said bonds; said bonds will be awarded to a responsible bidder on the basis of the lowest interest cost to the city. Interest rates shall be in multiples of one-fourth of one per cent or one tenth of one per cent. All bonds of the same maturity shall bear interest at the same rate and no bid will be considered for less than par and no maturity shall bear interest at a greater rate than three per cent (3%) per annum. In determining the best bid the interest cost to the city will be computed by determining the interest from May 1, 1956, to absolute maturity of the bonds at the rate or rates specified by the bidder, after deducting any premium offered.

No specified form of bid is required, but each bid shall definitely state the dollars of premium, if any, and the calculation of the net interest cost expressed as a percentage.

Bids will be publicly opened in the Council Chamber in the City Hall of said city of Lincoln, Nebraska, at 11:00 o'clock A.M., Central Standard Time, on Monday, May 7, 1956 and the award will be made to the successful bidder as soon thereafter as possible.

Said bonds will be delivered with the unqualified approving opinion of Chapman and Cutler, Attorneys, Chicago, Illinois, and said opinion is to be paid for by the said city; the printed bonds to be supplied by the successful bidder, and all bids must be so conditioned. Each bid must be accompanied by a cashier's or certified check drawn on a state or national bank and made payable to Frank J. Miller, City Treasurer in the sum of $26,000.00 as a guarantee of good faith and for security for the performance of such bid and as liquidated damages, in case the successful bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds.

All proposals shall be enclosed in a sealed envelope, marked on the outside, "PROPOSAL FOR BONDS," and addressed to Theo. H. Berg, City Clerk, at the City Hall in the City of Lincoln, Nebraska.

The city of Lincoln reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to waive any defect in bids.

By Order of the City Council of the City of Lincoln, Lancaster County, Nebraska, this 26th day of March, 1956.

THEO. H. BERG, City Clerk."

Ordinance No. 6332

AN ORDINANCE amending Sections 2203, 2204, 2205 and 2206 of Ordinance No. 5636, passed November 2, 1953, relating to the Board of Adjustments, and repealing said Sections 2203, 2204, 2205 and 2206 of Ordinance No. 5636, passed November 2, 1953, as hitherto existing.

BE IT ORDAINED by the City Council of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska:

Section 1. That Section 2203 of Ordinance No. 5636, passed November 2, 1953, be and is hereby is amended to read as follows:

"Section 2203. (a) Appeals to the Board of Adjustment may be taken by any person aggrieved or by any officer, department or bureau of the City of Lincoln affected by any decision of the Building Inspector. Such appeal shall be taken within a reasonable time as filed with the Building Inspector a notice of appeal specifying the grounds thereof. The Building Inspector shall forthwith transmit to the City Council all the papers constituting the record upon which the action appealed from is taken. The City Council shall refer said appeal to the Board of Adjustment for its report and recommendations.

"(b) Upon receipt of the appeal by the Board, the Board shall fix a reasonable time for the hearing thereof and decide the same within thirty (30) days. Notice shall be given as provided in Article XXVI hereafter.

"(c) The concurring vote of three (3) members of the Board shall be necessary to reverse any order, requirement, decision, or determination of the Building Inspector, or to decide in favor of the applicant upon any matter upon which it is required to pass under any such ordinance, or to affect any variation in such ordinance. Upon the hearing any party may appear in person or by agent or by attorney.

"(d) A fee of Ten Dollars ($10.00) shall be paid to the City Clerk at the time the notice of appeal is filed to be credited to the general fund of the City of Lincoln."

Section 2. That Section 2204 of Ordinance No. 5636, passed November 2, 1953, be and hereby is amended to read as follows:

"Section 2204. The jurisdiction of the Board of Adjustment shall be limited to the following:

"1. Powers Relative to Errors: To hear appeals where it is alleged there is an error in any order, requirement, decision, or determination made by an administrative official in the enforcement of this ordinance.

"2. Powers Relative to Variations: Where by reason of exceptional narrowness, shallowness, or shape of a specific piece of property at the time of the original adoption of these regulations, or by reason of exceptional topographical conditions or other extra-ordinary or exceptional situation or condition of a specific piece of property, which condition is not generally prevalent in the neighborhood, the strict application of the area regulations of this ordinance would result in peculiar and exceptional practical difficulties to or exceptional and undue hardship upon any owner of such property, the Board is hereby empowered to recommend, upon an appeal relating to such property, a variation from such strict application so as to relieve such difficulties or hardships.

"3. Powers Relative to Exceptions: Upon appeal, the Board is hereby empowered to recommend the following exceptions:

(a) To permit the extension of a district where the boundary line of a district divides a lot in single ownership as shown of record.

(b) To permit the reconstruction of a nonconforming building which has been destroyed, or partially destroyed, by fire or Act of God where the Board shall find some compelling public necessity requiring a continuance of the nonconforming use.

(c) To permit the erection and use of a building or the use of premises in any location for a public service corporation for public utility purposes which the Board deems reasonably necessary for the public convenience or welfare. Such uses lawfully existing on the effective date of this ordinance, shall be deemed to have received such a permit, shall be provided with such a permit by the Building Inspector upon request, and shall not be nonconforming uses; provided, however, that a permit shall be required for the enlargement, extension or relocation of any of these existing uses.

(d) To interpret the provisions of the ordinance where the street layout actually on the ground varies from the street layout as shown on the map fixing the several districts, which map is attached to and made a part of this ordinance.

(e) To vary the parking regulations of this ordinance whenever the character or use of a building is such as to make unnecessary the full provision of parking facilities or where such regulations would impose an unreasonable hardship upon the use of the lot, as contrasted with merely granting an advantage or a convenience."

Section 3. That Section 2205 of Ordinance No. 5636, passed November 2, 1953, be and is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Section 2205. In exercising the above mentioned jurisdiction such Board may, in conformity with the provisions of this ordinance, reverse or affirm, wholly or partly, or may modify the order, requirement, decision, or determination appealed from and may make such recommendation as ought to be made. In considering all appeals under this ordinance, the Board shall, before making any finding in a specific case, first determine that the proposed change will not constitute a change in the District Map and will not impair an adequate supply of light and air to adjacent property, or increase the congestion in public streets, or increase the public danger of fire and safety, or materially diminish or impair established property values within the surrounding area, or in any other respect impair the public health, safety, comfort, morals and welfare of the City of Lincoln. Every change recommended by the Board shall be accompanied by a written finding of fact, based on sworn testimony and evidence, specifying the reason for granting or denying the variation."

Section 4. That Section 2206 of Ordinance No. 5636, passed November 2, 1953, be and is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Section 2206. Recommendations of the Board of Adjustments, accompanied by the written findings of fact, shall be transmitted to the City Council by the Board within one week after such actions have been taken. The City Council shall not take final action on the recommendation of the Board without holding one or more public hearings, due notice of which shall be given as provided in Article XXVI hereafter."

Section 5. That Sections 2203, 2204, 2205 and 2206 of Ordinance No. 5636, passed November 2, 1953, as hitherto existing be and are hereby repealed.

Section 6. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication according to law.

Grain Mart Weak; Lard Futures High

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains weakened on the Board of Trade Thursday, starting downward early and continuing in that direction until very near the close.

In the ltst minute or so prices were lifted a bit by a little short covering, but that still left them down substantially on the day.

There were two exceptions to the main trend. Old crop soybeans scored modest gains, and all lard futures set new seasonal highs, closing with substantial advances.

Predicitions President Eisenhower would veto the farm bill passed by Congress appeared to be the main force behind the selling. If a veto is forthcoming, there probably will be no new farm legislation.

Wheat closed ⅞-2⅜ lower, corn 1⅛-2⅝ lower, oats ⅛-½ lower and rye 2 to 4 cents lower.

Soybeans closed 3½ lower to 1 cent higher and lard 17 to 30 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Legislative possibilities dominated trade sentiment. Agriculture Secretary Benson reiterated his opposition to the Congressional farm bill, but two farm organizations recommended to President Eisenhower that he sign it.

News dispatches from Washington emphasized the likelihood of a presidential veto. In that case, the government support prices already announced would prevail.

In everything except soybeans there is a big difference between announced supports and those in the farm bill.

Firmness in old crop soybeans reflected the small supply of 1955 crop soybeans still left on farms.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP)—The bond market closed narrowly mixed Thursday, with prices leaning slightly lower.

Some decline in government issues apparently anticipated a later announcement of increased discount rates by the Federal Reserve Board.

U. S. governments remained unchanged through most of the day but in late trading slipped slightly and closed mostly lower.

Trading in treasuries was quiet while bond circles waited for an expected announcement of an increase in discount rates.

Trading volume was $4,700,000 par value, compared to $4,080,000 the day before.

The Associated Press bond averages showed rails and utilities at their lowest point for the year.

Johnny Klippstein of the Cincinnati Redlegs beat Brooklyn four times in five decisions in 1955.

Late Selling Nips Mart's Recovery

NEW YORK (AP) — Late selling in the stock market Thursday nipped a recovery movement that was well into its second session.

The Tuesday market fell sharply, but on Wednesday there was a smart rebound that continued Thursday right from the opening and rolled along into the fourth hour before it tumbled.

Aircrafts and railroads were strong points in the market. Rails held well to the close, but aircrafts ended mixed.

Selling, when it came, seemed to center in oils and chemicals to a large extent, although most major divisions were lower.

There was no urgency about the final fall. Prices were down $1 to around $3 while gains of $1 to $2 were found.

After the market closed, the Federal Reserve Board in Washington raised the discount rate in Minneapolis and San Francisco to 3 per cent and in others to 2¾ per cent from the present level of 2½ per cent. Chicago was an exception. In an absence of a meeting of the governors there, the rate remained unchanged at 2½.

The discount rate is the amount charged commercial banks for money borrowed from the central banks. The increased charges usually are passed along to all borrowers.

Higher priced money is an anti-inflation move designed to make speculative borrowing more difficult and to put the brakes on uneconomic business expansion.

Higher money has been anticipated for some days in Wall Street, and the falls Tuesday and Thursday were laid in part to the belief that harder money was coming.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 20 cents at $188.80. It was up $1 Wednesday and closed off $2.60 Tuesday.

The industrial component of the average dropped back $1.10 but the railroads managed to advance 70 cents while utilities were unchanged.

Volume mounted to 2,700,000 shares from Wednesday's 2,440,000 shares.

On the American Stock Exchange, prices were generally higher with trading at 1,330,000 shares, compared with 1,060,000 Wednesday.

1976	Bond Nos.	1226	to	1300,	75,000.00

Bonds numbered 281 to 1,300 inclusive maturing on May 1, of each of the years 1962 to 1976 inclusive shall be redeemable, prior to maturity at par and accrued interest, as a whole or in part, at the option of the city at any time on or after five years from date. If less than all of the bonds numbered 281 to 1,300 inclusive are to be redeemed at any time, the bonds to be redeemed shall be selectd by lot in any usual manner

Principal and interest will be payable at the office of the County Treasurer of Lancaster County, at Lincoln, Nebraska.

Said bonds were authorized to be issued by said city pursuant to a charter amendment approved by the voters of said city at an election held in and for said city on June 15, 1954, for the purpose of constructing additions to, extensions of, and improvements or betterments to the storm sewer system of said city.

Said bonds will be general obligations of the city payable from advalorem taxes levied upon all the taxable property in said city without limitation as to rate or amount. The assessed valuation of taxable property in the city for the current year as equalized and determined is $144,735,530. The total aggregate indebtedness of the city of every kind and character will after the issuance of these bonds be $6,566,000, of which $2,056,000.00, is special assessment bonds. The population of the city is approximately 120,000.

Bids must be for all and not a part of said bonds; said bonds will be awarded to a responsible bidder on the basis of the lowest interest cost to the city. Interest rates shall be in multiples of one-fourth of one per cent or one tenth of one per cent. All bonds of the same maturity shall bear interest at the same rate and no bid will be considered for less than par and no maturity shall bear interest at a greater rate than three per cent (3%) per annum. In determining the best bid the interest cost to the city will be computed by determining the interest from May 1, 1956, to absolute maturity of the bonds at the rate or rates specified by the bidder, after deducting any premium offered.

No specified form of bid is required, but each bid shall definitely state the dollars of premium, if any, and the calculation of the net interest cost expressed as a percentage.

Bids will be publicly opened in the Council Chamber in the City Hall of said city of Lincoln, Nebraska, at 11:00 o'clock A.M. Central Standard Time, on Monday, May 7, 1956 and the award will be made to the successful bidder as soon thereafter as possible.

Said bonds will be delivered with the unqualified approving opinion of Chapman and Cutler, Attorneys, Chicago, Illinois, and said opinion is to be paid for by the said city; the printed bonds to be supplied by the successful bidder, and all bids must be so conditioned. Each bid must be accompanied by a cashier's or certified check drawn on a state or national bank and made payable to Frank J. Miller, City Treasurer in the sum of $26,000.00 as a guarantee of good faith and for security for the performance of such bid and as liquidated damages, in case the successful bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds.

All proposals shall be enclosed in a sealed envelope, marked on the outside, "PROPOSAL FOR BONDS," and addressed to Theo. H. Berg, City Clerk, at the City Hall in the City of Lincoln, Nebraska.

The city of Lincoln reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to waive any defect in bids.

By Order of the City Council of the City of Lincoln, Lancaster County, Nebraska, this 26th day of March, 1956.

THEO. H. BERG, City Clerk."

Ordinance No. 6332

AN ORDINANCE amending Sections 2203, 2204, 2205 and 2206 of Ordinance No. 5636, passed November 2, 1953, relating to the Board of Adjustments, and repealing said Sections 2203, 2204, 2205 and 2206 of Ordinance No. 5636, passed November 2, 1953, as hitherto existing.

BE IT ORDAINED by the City Council of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska:

Section 1. That Section 2203 of Ordinance No. 5636, passed November 2, 1953, be and it hereby is amended to read as follows:

"Section 2203 (a) Appeals to the Board of Adjustment may be taken by any person aggrieved or by any officer, department or bureau of the City of Lincoln affected by any decision of the Building Inspector. Such appeal shall be taken within a reasonable time by filing with the Building Inspector a notice of appeal specifying the grounds thereof. The Building Inspector shall forthwith transmit to the City Council all the papers constituting the record upon which the action appealed from is taken. The City Council shall refer said appeal to the Board of Adjustment for its report and recommendations.

"(b) Upon receipt of the appeal by the Board, the Board shall fix a reasonable time for the hearing thereon and decide the same within thirty (30) days. Notice shall be given as provided in Article XXVI hereafter.

"(c) The concurring vote of three (3) members of the Board shall be necessary to reverse any order, requirement, decision, or determination of the Building Inspector, or to decide in favor of the applicant upon any matter upon which it is required to pass under any such ordinance, or to affect any variation in such ordinance. Upon the hearing any party may appear in person or by agent or by attorney.

"(d) A fee of Ten Dollars ($10.00) shall be paid to the City Clerk at the time the notice of appeal is filed to be credited to the general fund of the City of Lincoln."

Section 2. That Section 2204 of Ordinance No. 5636, passed November 2, 1953, be and hereby is amended to read as follows:

"Section 2204. The jurisdiction of the Board of Adjustment shall be limited to the following:

"1. Powers Relative to Errors: To hear appeals where it is alleged there is an error in any order, requirement, decision, or determination made by an administrative official in the enforcement of this ordinance.

"2. Powers Relative to Variations: Where by reason of exceptional narrowness, shallowness, or shape of a specific piece of property at the time of the original adoption of these regulations, or by reason of exceptional topographical conditions or other extra-ordinary or exceptional situation or condition of a specific piece of property, which condition is not generally prevalent in the neighborhood, the strict application of the area regulations of this ordinance would result in peculiar and exceptional practical difficulties to or exceptional and undue hardship upon any owner of such property, the Board is hereby empowered to recommend, upon an appeal relating to such property, a variation from such strict application so as to relieve such difficulties or hardships.

"3. Powers Relative to Exceptions: Upon appeal, the Board is hereby empowered to recommend the following exceptions:

(a) To permit the extension of a district where the boundary line of a district divides a lot in single ownership as shown of record.

(b) To permit the reconstruction of a nonconforming building which has been destroyed, or partially destroyed, by fire or Act of God where the Board shall find some compelling public necessity requiring a continuance of the nonconforming use.

(c) To permit the erection and use of a building or the use of premises in any location for a public service corporation for public utility purposes which the Board deems reasonably necessary for the public convenience or welfare. Such uses lawfully existing on the effective date of this ordinance, shall be deemed to have received such a permit, shall be provided with such a permit by the Building Inspector upon request, and shall not be nonconforming uses; provided, however, that a permit shall be required for the enlargement, extension or relocation of any of these existing uses.

(d) To interpret the provisions of the ordinance where the street layout actually on the ground varies from the street layout as shown on the map fixing the several districts, which map is attached to and made a part of this ordinance.

(e) To vary the parking regulations of this ordinance whenever the character or use of a building is such as to make unnecessary the full provision of parking facilities or where such regulations would impose an unreasonable hardship upon the use of the lot, as contrasted with merely granting an advantage or a convenience."

Section 3. That Section 2205 of Ordinance No. 5636, passed November 2, 1953, be and is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Section 2205. In exercising the above mentioned jurisdiction such Board may, in conformity with the provisions of this ordinance, reverse or affirm, wholly or partly, or may modify the order, requirement, decision, or determination appealed from and may make such recommendation as ought to be made. In considering all appeals under this ordinance, the Board shall, before making any finding in a specific case, first determine that the proposed change will not constitute a change in the District Map and will not impair an adequate supply of light and air to adjacent property, or increase the congestion in public streets, or increase the public danger of fire and safety, or materially diminish or impair established property values within the surrounding area, or in any other respect impair the public health, safety, comfort, morals and welfare of the City of Lincoln. Every change recommended by the Board shall be accompanied by a written finding of fact, based on sworn testimony and evidence, specifying the reason for granting or denying the variation."

Section 4. That Section 2206 of Ordinance No. 5636, passed November 2, 1953, be and is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Section 2206. Recommendations of the Board of Adjustments, accompanied by the written findings of fact, shall be transmitted to the City Council by the Board within one week after such actions have been taken. The City Council shall not take final action on the recommendation of the Board without holding one or more public hearings, due notice of which shall be given as provided in Article XXVI hereafter."

Section 5. That Sections 2203, 2204, 2205 and 2206 of Ordinance No. 5636, passed November 2, 1953, as hitherto existing be and are hereby repealed.

Section 6. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication according to law.

June Havoc says . . .

"With AYDS, you can lose weight without starvation dieting!"

Clinic proves Ayds best and safest in tests on 240 overweight men and women!

June proved AYDS for herself. But a well-known New England clinic tested four different reducing methods and also proved what June knew that AYDS users lose almost twice as many pounds! Besides, only those men and women who used AYDS had no unpleasant "side effects"!

So take AYDS before meals, as directed, and eat what you want—all you want. No starvation dieting—no gnawing hunger pangs. AYDS is a specially made, delicious candy containing vitamins and minerals. It curbs your appetite—you automatically eat less—lose weight normally, safely, quickly. The AYDS Plan guarantees that you must lose pounds with your first box ($2.98), or your money back.

Too Heavy? Reduce this quick, easy way

June Havoc says . . .

"With AYDS, you can lose weight without starvation dieting!"

Clinic proves Ayds best and safest in tests on 240 overweight men and women!

June proved AYDS for herself. But a well-known New England clinic tested four different reducing methods and also proved what June knew: that AYDS users lose almost twice as many pounds! Besides, only those men and women who used AYDS had no unpleasant "side effects"!

So take AYDS before meals, as directed, and eat what you want—all you want. No starvation dieting—no gnawing hunger pangs. AYDS is a specially made, delicious candy containing vitamins and minerals. It curbs your appetite—you automatically eat less—lose weight normally, safely, quickly. The AYDS Plan guarantees that you must lose pounds with your first box ($2.98), or your money back.
